

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 1866.

ROBINSON, McCLEAN & CO.,
Bankers and Brokers,

No. 75 Fourth Street, Pittsburgh,

No. 100 Broad Street, New York, and Boston, New Haven, etc., etc.

Deposits received in Pittsburgh, collected in all parts of the United States, and invested in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Liverpool, Liverpool, London, Paris,
and other foreign cities.

DR. H. L. COOPER,
Philadelphia; Messrs. C. D. & T. H.
Kingsbury.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Wednesday, April 11, 1866.

Gold was a shade higher in New York to-day.

It was quoted a fraction above $125.

The market was quiet, though the thought by the day before, that it must, necessarily, go lower.

The payment of twenty-five millions of the $100 million debt which will remain in the country, will produce a redundant supply that the premium may be expected to fall at least 10 cents.

Gold will be quoted at $125.

Interest rates are still high.

Interest rates are still high.