RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The meeting of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South now in session at New Orleans, is of so much importance in itself to it of the North, as to note the manner in which its members discuss some of the live question of the day. Immediately after the usual opening religious exercises, Bishop Andrew delivered an address, in which he advised the members to be cautious in their deliberations. They were aware of their relation to "a certain other Church,"—they knew what he meant—they were not political preachers. It will be remembered by many of our readers, that Bishop Andrew was mainly the cause of the division of the M E Church in 1844, on the slavery question When the standing committees were ordered, the name of the committee to consider the relation of the Church to its colored membership excited a good deal of discussion. They expressed great friendship for the negro, and wonderful anxiety for his spiritual welfare Dr Sehon, the missionary secretary, in his report, spoke of the former success of their missionary work among the colored people, but said nothing about the $60,000 of missionary money which he invested in Confederate bonds Petitions had been received asking for important changes in the economy of the Church The "progressive" party desired the appointment of a Committee on Organic Laws, while the "Conservatives" were in favor of referring memorials to the appropriate standing committees On the third day the delegation of the Baltimore conference—which had recently seceded from the M E Church—were presented to the Conference Two or three of the delegation made speeches in which they expressed their great joy at getting home. The Conference received salutations from the New York East Conference: Northern asking them to unite in praying for unity of heart of our common country and the union of the different branches of Methodism. The reply, however, limited the prayer to the latter, and tacitly declining any prayer for our national unity of heart This action shows they need to be reconstructed. Dr. Deems, who has recently started a Southern paper in New York, called the Watchman, offered a resolution to appoint a committee to prepare a paper to set forth the position of the M E toward the Northern Methodist other branches of christ's Catholic Church It produced intense excitement and the latter was quelled The feeling seems to be not to have anything to do with Northern Churches By a telegram in the Chron. [illegible] which is several days in advance of our most reliable, is worth that a report has been adopted favoring the extension of the jurisdiction of the Church in every direction, including the North as opportunities may offer also that the Committee on Episcopalians report favorably on the election of six additional Bishops.

—It was advertised in a New York daily paper last week, that a grand concert by the artists of the Italian Opera troupe would take place at St Stephens Church, (Catholic) we presume on that city, on Sunday Last the proceeds to be devoted to the enlargement of the church An exhibition of Odell's new organ was announced to take place at Irving Hall on the evening of the same day Mr George W Morgan, the celebrated organist of Grace Episcopal church, and other professional characters, to take part in the performances The German Republican Committee is called to meet in honor of the memory of Abraham Lincoln, on the Sabbath All these things tend to destroy the respect of the public mind in the sanctity of the Christian Sabbath The friends of morality and law and order should be on their guard

—It is a pity that the family quarrel in the Lutheran Church, represented by the Observer party on the one hand, and the other by the Lutheran and Missionary could not be stopped or at least be kept hid from the public. An article appeared in the latter paper on "Luther's Rings," whereupon the Observer comments would it "not be better to seek for some of Luther's piety, than to be sorely perplexed about his rings." The Lutheran closes a rejoinder in these words "We are sure that the ring which went around Luther's little finger, went around more piety than would be inside of a girdle which took in the Observer's whole body."

—The Independent says that Mr. Cyrus H. McCormick, of Reaping Machine notoriety, we presume, argues that the O. S. Presbyterian Church must rescind its patriotic action during the last five years, and return under the dictation of the Virginia divines, as the only means of the "reunion of our glorious old Presbyterian Church"—at least for the next quarter of a century. It is not likely that the noble stand taken by this body will be rescinded.

—The Grand Jury of Pike county, Mo., has indicted Rev. James Smith, a Baptist minister, for preaching without license. The Grand Jury of Palmyra has found true bills against the following ministers for the same offence The Rev. Mr. Dunn, of the Episcopal Church; Rev. Mr. Wilkes, of the Christian Church; Rev. Mr. Fuller, of the Presbyterian Church; and Father Crenin, of the Roman Catholic Church

—Bishop Clarkson, Episcopal Bishop of the North-west, is about to organize an extensive scheme of ministerial and Episcopal visitation, whereby religious seed may be sown in the hearts of every emigrant train passing still further towards the setting sun. Such missionary efforts will doubtless be productive of much substantial good.

—The revival in progress for the past five months in the Emory M. E. church, Philadelphia, has averaged about one hundred conversions per month. At this time between five and six hundred have been converted, and still the work goes on.

—The friends of the Sabbath in this State, indeed everywhere, have cause to rejoice that the persistent and earnest attempts which have been made to secure the abolition of all the Sunday laws in the State have signally failed.

—Most of the Seniors of Andover Seminary have already commenced preaching. Four have decided to enter the foreign mission field, and four will become home missionaries, while one is undecided which to enter the foreign field.

—Among the recent [illegible] Philadelphia M E Conference was the Rev J J Pearce a colored minister Bishop Ames introduced him at one period in Mr Pearce's life he had served as United States Congressman, but he felt authorized to state that it admitted, he would now [illegible] in undiscretion's garb.

The Pope seems to be again in a bad way, as he has commenced a new paper war in the defence of the temporal power Which he was ordered to be read in all Roman Catholic churches.

There are twenty-seven chaplains in the United States navy, of whom eleven are Episcopalians six Methodist two Presbyterians, four Baptist, and one congregationalist

The revival in the African M E church at Cleveland, Ohio, has resulted in the conversion of about two hundred converts

In 1741 there were 120 [illegible] churches in Wales; in 1866 [illegible]
