Mr. S. P. Ely living in Marquette, Mich, dissents from the assertion of Mr. Noble that "intro-glycerine" will not explode, under a temperature of less than three hundred and twenty degrees. After remarking that he had prepared some of this chemical for blasting, he adds: "The first I knew I had a tremendous explosion in my office. There was not enough of it to take the roof off, but the contents of the bottle were sent tered over every square foot of wall and tending. I made a second trial with simulatinessess, except that the explosion took place out ofdoors. The practical difficulty in the use of the compound seems to be that it can only be prepared at a very low temperature, and instantly and violently decomposes with any increase of temperature.
