UNION LEAGUE.—The State Council of this Order meets this morning at ten o'clock, at the rooms of the Common Council of the city. A number of the prominent men of the State are here as delegates

THE SOLDIERS' CONVENTION, that held its sessions in this city, yesterday, was, in several respects, a notable body. All of them had seen actual service in the field. Not a few of them bore honorable scars. Some of them had been maimed by the scythe of battle. Many of them had written their names imperishably in the annals of the great war. Nor were these their only claims to distinction. In personal appearance and bearing, in aptitude for business, and in general intelligence, the Convention was much above the average of State Convocations. It was every way a marked assembly.

TIME'S AVENGES.

In 1859 the Rev. E. D. McMASTERS, D. D., L. L. D., was defeated in the election for Professor of Theology in the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Chicago. His avowed anti-slavery sentiments stood in the way of his success. His friends in the Church, and outside thereof, have felt that a great wrong was committed, in the interest of a bad system, which then held as absolute sway in theological circles as in political. This wrong has at last been righted. The General Assembly, in session at St. Louis, has elected the Doctor to the Chair of Theology in the U. S. Seminary at Chicago. No one will question his eminent qualifications for the place to which he has been almost unanimously appointed.

THE Pottsville Miners' Journal states that the President has removed from the Postmastership at Ashland, Schuylkill county, Captain Levi C. Leib, late of the 129th Pennsylvania regiment, a gallant soldier of the Republic who was desperately wounded at the battle of Fredericksburg while fighting to save the life of the nation, and who, in consequence, has lost the entire use of his left arm. Capt. Leib, in consideration of his crippled condition was appointed to the position about a year since, and has since discharged the duties of the office to the satisfaction of the people of Ashland. The person selected to succeed Capt Leib is a daughter of Sherrd Horan, known to be incompetent, and who will have, in case she is confirmed, one of the most lucrative, unscrupulous and malignant Copperheads living in Ashland to run the office for her. Mr. COWAN is said to be at the bottom of this change. Is this the dodge by which the removal of disabled Soldiers, who do not support "My Policy," is to be excused?

"A VERY interesting, and to some extent amusing, ceremony has been going on at the freedmen's village, Arlington Heights, during the past few days. BY order of the Freedmen's Bureau, two hundred and forty-seven couples have been regularly united in wedlock by clergymen detailed for that purpose. Many of these are old persons, who are parents or grown up children, but who were never legally married. Such were quite loth to comply with the order, regarding their relations as having been practically realized and sanctified by time and faithful observance, but they were all re-married, and of course much excitement and many grotesque scenes were the result."—New York Times.

This is only an incidental ray of light, revealing the horrors of almost a bottomless pit. Yet our cotemporary and all of its school maintain that reorganization can best be accomplished without fixed provisions for the care and elevation of four millions of the Southern population.

ON MONDAY Governor Curtin signed the bill distranchising deserters from the draft, and this fact was duly communicated by electricity to all parts of the Common wealth. In the afternoon of that day the Harrisburg Telegraph ominously assailed the Governor for not doing what he had already done in the premises. A grain of discretion is sometimes of great value in managing a public journal.

THE Rev. Mr. Ferguson, of Zanesville, Ohio, was expelled from the Old School General Assembly at St. Louis, because of a defamatory letter written by him to the Ohio Statesman, respecting the Hon Sam'l Galloway. The revered gentleman made a very humble apology which, in a secular assembly, would have been held entirely satisfactory, but it did not save him

IT is reported from Washington that Secretary McCULLOCH has made up his mind to obey the law while forbids the appointment of rebels to office. He probably thinks it an act of condescension in him to obey the laws. Perhaps Mr. Stevens' threat of impeachment did good after all.

THE Post must excuse us. When it shall evince even a tolerably decent regard for Truth and Honor, we shall be ready to discuss public questions with it, but so long as it persists in totally ignoring both, we must be counted out.

THE citizens of Pittsburgh owe General Moorhead special thanks for the admirable manner in which he defended their interests in the debate on the Connellsville Rail road bill

—It is expected the the Alexandria, Loudon and Hampshire Railroad will be in running order to Fairwell the latter part of the present month, the bridge across Broad Run being nearly completed. The work will be pushed onward to Leesburg with vigor. An engineer is now surveying the route for a railroad to run from Winchester, to salem, Va. This will give Baltimore command of the Shenandoah Valley trade, and take away from Alexandria until the Manassas Gap Railroad is rebuilt

The Cleveland Leader takes strong ground against the Congressional action of Mr. Spaulding, member of Congress from that district. It avers that he has never uttered a single word a Congress in condemnation of the President's treachery to the Union party; whilch has, in express terms, rebuked the Union men in Congress for their outspoken opposition to Mr Johnson. The Leader, of course, is opposed to Mr. Spaulding's renomination.

—The locomotive superintendent of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway has appointed some natives who have been twelve, seventeen, and eighteen years in the company's employment, to the post of engine-drivers. Considering the difficulty and expense experienced in fetting drivers from England, and keeping them in India, it is gratifying to have the prospect of turning native talent to account in that department. A very sensible move on the part of the superintendent.

—It is announced from Washington that the Democ atic members of Congress have resolved to withdraw their moral support from Mr. Johnson unless he makes a positive recognition of it by a construction of the offices. Democratic moral support requires material compensatio.
