R. A. COLVILLE City. SPECIAL SESSION OF THE LEGIS

It is understood that Governor CURTIN. as soon as he shall receive official notification of the passage of the Reconstruction amendment, will call a special session of the Legislature to pass upon it. This session may e expected to commence about the mid-

THE FIELD OF CONTEST. Directly the project of an European onference was abandoned Prussian troops occupied Holstein. This is the most northern State of Germany, on the west washed by the North sea, and on the east by the Baltic. On the north it is bounded by the river Eider, which separates it from Schleswig. On the south and southwesit is separated from the Kingdom of Hanover by the Elbe, and its southeastern frontier is coterminous with the duchy of Lauenburg. It has an area of 3,333 square miles, and a population of 530,000. In religion the inhabitants are mainly Luther ans; though among them are 200 Menon-, 550 Calvinists, 850 Catholics, and 3,500 Jews. The surface is nearly level. while the midland portion consists of an undrained plateau of sand. The slopes towards the Baltic are well wooded and plentifully drained by rivers. Along the Elbe and the west coast, the lowlands are fruitful, carefully tended, and produce abundantly, of wheat, buckwheat, potatoes, turnips, hops, hemp, flax, and timber. This section is also famous for fine animals, orses as well as cattle—the former especlally prized for heavy cavalry service. Begirt with waters, a large proportion of he men are expert scamen. Education is liberally encouraged, and hence the people we intelligent as well as enterprising. Thirty old years ago a constitution unitlng Holstein and Schleswig under a repre sentative system common to the other pro-vinces of Denmark was granted by Frederrick VI, of that kingdom. But on the death f Frederick VII, in 1863, the male line failed in that branch, and the Duke of Au gustenberg set up pretensions to the heirh were doubtless valid. Prussia undertook the enforcement of his claim by military intervention. Austria and other Germanic powers followed this lead, and ief campaign. Holstein, Schlowig and Lauenburg were taken. The con-quest was confirmed by treaty, to Prussia and Austria jointly. By agreement between the two latter powers, Prussia ruled Schleswig and Austria Holstein. Now Prussia has moved for the purpose of driving Austria out, and consolidating all three ed. The next day, Rev. Dr. Darling, of of the duchies with her own territory. It is not believed either by statesmen of captains that Austria will scriously resist the movement. The expectation is that ahe will invade the Prussian province of Silesia. Indeed, military dispositions, al ready taken, indicate that such is her in Silesia is elliptically shaped, its longes diameter from northwest to southwest being 250 miles, and its shortest; 100 miles. It is the highest province in Germany, lyrope, half girt with mountains, and slopis flat Brandenburg and Posen; to the gast Prussian Poland and Austrian Galacia; to our energetic testimony against dancing south Austrian Bilesia; to the south west Bohemia; and to the west Saxony. A round in a curve from the northwest guard it from Austria. From this high land rivers flow to all the seas; the Moraw into the Black; the Elbe into the Atlantic the Oder dividing the country into halves and the Vistula emptying into the Baltic The province contains 20,000 square miles and 3.500.000 inhabitants-ab out equall divided in religion between the Protestan and Catholic communions; intermingled with whom are a few Jews. In the tenth century Silesia passed under the sway of the Dukes of Poland In the thirteenth century it submitted spontane ously to the feudal sovereignty of the King of Bohemia. After the death of WENAS LAUS the Bohemians elected for their kings princes from the house of Luxemburg, down to 1440, when they began to take princes of the house of Hapsburg or Austria. In 1541 FERDINAND of Austria was made hereditary king of Bohemia, including Silesia. Upon the death of CHARLES VI. in 1740, FREDERIC II. set up a claim, by no means well founded, to Sile in, and wrenched it from the possession of MARIA THERESA. It was a province, stoen from a woman by an audacious sol-

This province is rich in minerals, and in nanufactures of linen, cotton, woolens, iron, paper, leather, glass, porcelain, &c. Its people are busy with many trades, at which the workers are expert. Upon them Austria designs to force the horrors of war, to redress a wrong endured for one hundred and twenty six years. Nor is the point of attack dictated purely by traditional considerations. It is situated near to Austria, and hence she can operate there with much greater prospect of success than by accepting the direct issue in Holstein. A Georgia journal holds this language:

"We hold that there is absolutely no ob-ligation on any State in the Federal Union to be what is termed 'loyal' to the Govern-ment of that Union, by that State in the North or in the South, or known by the name of either Massachusetts or Florida, South Carolina or Wiccornic The meet in Geneva, the first Wednesday of June, 1867.

EQUALITY IN TAXATION. Some days ago we submitted observations on the necessity and justice of mak- says: ing property in national securities liable to

enough to make its own terms, that is, would be able to raise all the money necessary for its purposes, without creating a privileged class who should enjoy the protection of the government, in all its ramifitions, of national, state, county, city, township, and what not, without bearing urdens in common with their fellow-citi-

The time is approaching, if it has not ready come, when the government must adopt a policy in respect to new loans for the cancelment of old ones. Capitalists are urging the continuance for thirty years comparative exemption on government bonds and the interest accruing thereon. No such exemption is necessary to secure what money the government is in need of. Such exemption is wrong in principle, and ought to create dissatisfaction among the people. It cannot fail being popularly re garded as unjust and oppressive. The people are willing to bear any burdens that may be necessary to sustain the govern. ment. But the continuance of this exemption is not in that category. It is favoritism to the rich, because they are rich... These views are fully confirmed by a letter from Chief Justice CHASE, which we published yesterday. If there are any advocates of special exemptions to capitalists among our readers they will do well to reperuse what Mr. CHASE offers on the point. CONVENTION OF YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS. The twelfth annual meeting of this body composed of delegates from every Evangelical Christian Church in the United States and British Provinces, met in Al bany, N. Y., some days since, Hon. R. H. Pruyn, late United States Minister to Ja pan, presided on the first day. The Convention was permanently organized by the election of Mr. T. Miller, of Cincinnati. Report of Executive Committee showed that while much good was being done in some cities, there was great room for increased effort in many of the towns and BREWERY FOR SALE. A new cities. After a reading of an able essay on What part have we in the Temperance work?" the following questions were disussed: 1. What is the true aim of Young Men's Christian Associations, and the primary field of labor? 2. How shall the disinctive aim of these associations be best kept before its members? 3. How can unconverted young men be best brought into, and interested in these associations? On the fifth day the Rev. Mr. Vincent, pastor of a Presbyterian church in Troy. N. Y., read an essay on Religion and Amusement. The Boston Recorder says he advocated the introduction of cards, billiards, dancing and bowling alleys, in the rooms of Young Men's Christian Asso. ted, to some extent, has been done in Troy. It will surprise many of our readers to learn that the succession with the successi known and venerable Rev. Dr. Beman, has given utterance to such views so entirely variance with the practice of the denomination with which that church is connect-

He expressed his approval of the spirit of the essay, and his conviction that "Religion never was designed Still he affirmed that the teachings of the essay were unsound, scripturally errone ous and practically dangerous. The South has a future before her, and if now cast in the pit by strong and wicked brethren will yet, some day, like Joseph, come to bear stray in a mightly land. First and foremost to do so, her record must be pure. Strict, stern, unwavering republican construction must be her rule. says:

"The third section is not a whit too section of property. We showed that the net income derived from interest on government bonds constituted a large proportion of all the net gains in the country, and that both the capital and its increase was mainly exempted from taxation.

When these loans were created the government felt constrained to offer special inducements to have them taken; or, rather, felt obligied to concede such conditions as capitalists exacted. A saving clause, however, was introduced, to the effect that the government might call in and cancel these obligations in three or five years. The idea was that shortly after the conclusion of peace the government would be strong enough to make its own terms, that is, would be able to evitice. It is merely incapacitates such as have violated their oaths to support the Constitution of the United States, from holding on the United States, from holding of the country, and that both the capital and its increase was mainly exempted from taxation.
