EUROPEAN WAR.

Our wish, as expressed in our last comments, has been speedily fulfilled. We have received news from Italy, though news unwelcome to every lover of liberty. A first battle has been fought, and—if we may trust the telegrams forwarded—has resulted in a repulse, if not defeat, of the Italian army. There seems to have been two distinct engagements, occasioned by the crossing of the rivers Mincio and Po by the Italian army. These rivers form the boundaries of Venicia, the Po flowing south, and the Mincio west of it. In both attempts the Italians seem to have been unsuccessful. That portion of their army which had crossed the Mincio under command of the King himself was met and repulsed by the Austrians under Archduke Albrecht at Custozza, a small place near the fortress of Mincio. The battle seems to have been a bloody one, with the taking and retaking of Custozza as its principal features.

The other engagement was fought between the Italian army that had crossed the Po and an Austrian division sent from Mantua to meet them. This battle also resulted in a repulse of the Italians, who have since fallen back across the rivers mentioned, followed by the Austrians.

This news reaches us through Austrian channels, and ought therefore to be received with caution. The Austrian dispatch does not even use the name of "victory," and mentions heavy losses, even amongst officers of high rank. It also announces that the spirit of the troops is the very best, a circumstance pretty much a matter of course after a victory, and generally dwelt upon after a defeat. The next steamer will bring us further particulars. This much, however, we know, that this early reverse has not discouraged the Italian people; on the contrary, it has had on them the same effect made upon the Northern people here by the first battle of Bull Run. It is only stirring them up to further efforts. Yet, we cannot hide from ourselves, nor our readers, the fact that further reverses will follow the first one, and that the interference of France will at last become necessary. We should regret this very much; we should hail the success of the Italian arms with delight, but we cannot help having some doubts. These doubts are based upon reasons, which we shall presently develop. The Italian nation is just awaking from a lethargy of centuries, from a degradation almost unexampled. Lethargy may be stripped off in a moment, but degradation cannot. Though fired by a holy zeal, though led by heroes such as Garibaldi, the Italian cannot at once strip off the many imperfections, not to say vices, into which events and circumstances had plunged and kept him so long. Besides, the fire and enthusiasm of southern nations, though ardent and overwhelming at the outset, are apt to abate soon, like the fire built of straw. Thirdly, however, and this is our main reason, the military organization of Italy is as far below that of Austria as Austria's is below that of Prussia. And yet this is one of the principal reasons of success. History shows us in a thousand examples that disorderly zeal and enthusiasm avail but little against the order, the discipline, the experience of veteran bodies, and that tyranny has for this very reason but too often prevailed over the efforts of lovers of liberty. May a different fate be that of Italy. May they owe their complete liberty to themselves, rather than to French assistance, from which a state of tutilage might spring, little better than dependence. Moreover, the interference of France could not but draw other nations into the fray and spread the flames of war, burning so fiercely already.

In regard to Germany, the first battle has sustained our prediction. It is plainly intimated that Bohemia, and not Saxony, is expected to be the great battle-field on which the destiny of Germany is to be decided. Some hints are also thrown out in regard to certain intended movements of Benedick, by which he would compel an evacuation of Saxony by the Prussians. If such movements are in his power, they will certainly be made soon, but to judge from antecedents, we confess, to see but little probability.

In Western Germany things remain evidently unchanged; but in the center, they assume an interesting aspect. The Hanoverians were, or are still, in an unpleasant situation. Surrounded by Prussian troops on all sides, there seemed to be no chance but surrender. A dispatch from Gotha, dated June 25th, speaks of their escape; but another, from Berlin, dated June 26th, leaves them in their previous predicament, and speaks of twenty-four hours of grace granted to the King of Hanover, to consider a surrender. Should they be captured, a considerable force would thereby be made harmless and such a success would still more tend to disheaten the minor allies of Austria.

SOME years ago Mr. ISAAC V. FOWLER was Postmaster of the city of New York. He appropriated a very large sum of money belonging to the government to his own use; lived expensively; gave liberally; was highly popular; and when the explosion came managed to escape from the country. The government has just ordered a nolle prosequi to be entered in his case. He will doubtless soon return home. The New York News says he will be affectionately welcomed by hosts of friends. The course of the Administration in this case gives encouragement to dishonesty.

THE supporters of President JOHNSON, down in Kentucky, have a strong way of putting cases. Take an instance from the Frankfort Yeoman:

"Let the people of Kentucky remember that they have been robbed of more than one hundred millions of slave property by the Constitutional Amendment party of the country, of which General E. H. Hobson was a prominent and distinguished leader, charged in Fort Harrison

THE FOURTH AT NASHVILLE.

The loyal people of Nashville, Tennessee, honored Independence Day by a Reunion in a grove near the field of General THOMAS's great battle. Generals THOMAS, JOHNSON, FISK and DONALDSON graced the occasion by their presence. Judge WM. MILES presided. General FISK read the Declaration of Independence. Chaplain EARNSHAW lead in prayer. Mr. HORACE MAYNARD made the address. He devoted some attention to the Constitutional Amendment. Said he:

"The first two sections were in the Constitution already, in substance. The third section fixing the basis of representation in Congress and the Electoral College was of prime importance. How does representation stand at present? Four blacks and one white in South Carolina have as many votes in Congress as four whites and one black in East Tennessee. Will any fair-minded person contend that this is equitable or just? What was the principle of the "White Basis" of which you used to hear so much? It was that voters only shall be represented, and not those who do not vote. The principle of the third section of the amendment is the same. The fourth section excludes rebels from office. It only strikes at the deliberate rebel. It does not touch the boys who were deceived by artful demagogues, or by the wiles of enthusiastic and over-zealous women. Some say this section does not exclude enough. Mr. Lincoln once observed that it was better for him to be a little behind rather than a little before the people. It is better to give one stroke too little, than by giving one stroke too much elevate a criminal into a martyr.

"These are the terms a victorious nation offers to those who for four years tried to destroy it. It is a magnanimity unparalled in the history of the world. The gallant soldiers who have fought the battles of the Union have done their duty, and their imperishable fame is beyond the reach of accident or chance. Our children and our children's children will do them honor. For us who perform a more quiet part on the same side, there remains another duty; let us do it so that posterity will give us a share in the glory of saving the nation."

POLITICAL.

—The Democracy of New Jersey, it is said, evince a disposition to throw the Hon. Andrew J. Rogers overboard.

—Norman B. Judd, late Minister in Berlin, is another candidate in the First Illinois District against the Hon. John Wentworth.

—In Kansas there are said to be at this time 21 candidates for the position of member of Congress, 32 for Governor, and 11 for United States Senator.

—The Republican Union party of Kentucky have opened the political campaign with spirit. They have nominated the gallant General Hobson for Clerk of the State Court of Appeals, in opposition to both the rebel and the "conservative" Democracy, and opened the canvass on Tuesday evening by a large mass meeting at Louisville.

—The Chicago Journal says: "Hon. J. B. Grinnell is proposed for the next Governor of Iowa. He would have been renominated for Congress had his constituents heard of Rosseau's assault upon him before the Convention met that nominated a candidate in his place. But now they propose to do even better by him, by making him the next Governor."

—The New York Herald charges that the majority of the appointments now being made by the President are of a character to affect the honorable reputation of the nation at large, and lessen the dignity of the Government in the eyes of all respectable men. The Herald charges that loafers monopolize the favors of the President. This is a bad opinion from so enthusiastic a supporter of Andy.

—The official vote in Nebraska is given in the Omaha Republican of the 27th ult. Returns from thirty-three counties gave a vote of 3,938 for the new Constitution, a majority of 100. The votes for candidates were as follows: Congress, Marquette, 1,110, a majority of 136 over Brooke. Governor, Butler, 4,093, a majority of 145 over Morton. Chief Justice, Little, (Dem.) 4,040, a majority of 140 over Mason.

—The Bowling Green (Ky.) Gazette, (Dem.,) says concerning Gen. Rosseau: "The probabilities so far are that Rosseau will succeed Garrett Davis. Kentucky might do better. There are not many giants among her politicians nowadays, but there are better heads among them than Rosseau's, and, if we mistake not, better hearts, too. But demagogueyy is in the ascendant at present, and statesmanship and good morals are below par. If we do not have Senator Rosseau, we will probably have some one else who is more politician than statesman. The time has not yet come for solid, substantial men to be in demand."

GENERAL NEWS.

—A building in Galveston, occupied as a grocery store, was blown down by the explosion of a keg of gunpowder, on the 2d. A negro was carelessly smoking his pipe near the open keg, when a spark dropped, and the negro was blown to atoms.

—A colored clergyman of Nashville recently married a white man and colored woman. He was arrested and charged with violating the plain provisions of the State statutes, and was directed to give bond in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court.

—Several regiments of United States colored troops have contributed nearly seven thousand dollars towards raising a fund of twenty thousand dollars, for the purpose of establishing a school for the education of colored people. It is to be called the Lincoln Institute, and is to be located at Jefferson City.

—The merchants of St. Louis have sent to Mr. W. H. Dickson, of South Florence, a large amount of supplies to be distributed gratuitously among the destitute of Morgan, Lawrence, Winston, Walker, Marion and Franklin counties, Alabama. Three hundred sacks of corn, ninety barrels of flour, twenty thousand pounds of bacon, and various other articles have arrived, and more is soon expected.

—The prospects for a famine in the Western States are poor. The Cincinnati Gazette says that in Indiana the wheat is not good, but the corn is wonderfully fine. Thousands of bushels of potatoes have been planted and are doing well. Oats—a fair crop. In Illinois wheat (Spring) is excellent; corn splendid; fruit, an average crop, and farmers are in fine spirits. There is no danger of a scarcity if the weather continues favorable. The hay prospect is fair.

—One of the most fearful tornadoes that ever visited St. Paul, Minnesota, swept over the city last week, lasting about three quarters of an hour. A number of buildings were injured, and a Dr. Schell fatally hurt. At Howe's consolidated circus, which was in full blast when the storm came up, were gathered between two and three thousand persons, and the immense canvass was hurled upon the heads of the famated, burying them all in one confused mass. No one was seriously injured, though a great consternation ensued.

—A terrible accident occurred at Lafayette, Ohio, on the 2d inst. Mrs. Christopher Martin, in order to start a fire in her cooking-stove, applied a coal oil lamp which was burning, but from which the chimney had been removed. The result was an explosion of the lamp, setting her clothes on fire, and burning her body so badly that she died in a short time. Her husband was also severely burned in attempting to save her. Mr. Martin seems to have been born to ill-luck. Two years ago, while riding out with the daughter of Rev. S. S. Serwiss, his horses ran away, and throwing Miss S. upon the hard pike, killed her instantly.

—Two more national cemeteries have been located by the corps of workmen engaged under the direction of Lieut. Col. Moore, A. Q. M. One has been called the "City Point Cemetery," and is situated one mile from City Point, Va., near the banks of the Appamatox river, on the farm of E. Comer, and contains four acres. The other is known as "Fort Harrison Cemetery," and is established on a knoll half a mile east of Fort Harris, nine miles east from Richmond, Va. This cemetery contains one and three-quarter acres. The City Point Cemetery will contain all the dead that were buried on the left of the Jerusalem plank road and around City Point; Fort Harrison Cemetery will contain all the remains buried at Deep Bottom, Dutch Gap and all those men who fell in the

"A Treasonable Conclave."

The Knoxville Whig, of the 4th instant, has the following editorial in reference to the so-called National Convention which meets in Philadelphia in August. The Whig says:

"A convention of the States is called for the second Tuesday in August next, to be held in Philadelphia. With a view to take the people in, and practice a fraud upon loyal men, it is called a Union Convention; and to further cheat the people, it professes to meet to serve the representation of the Southern States in Congress, and to defend and protect the Constitution. Let the truly loyal men keep out of that meeting. It is a Rebel - Southern - Democratic - Conservative - Constitutional - President-making - Conclave, that loyal men, north and south, will keep out of, and stubbornly avoid. Union men don't want the Rebel Southern States restored to their former status in the Union, without indemnity for the past and security for the future. Nor do they want Southern Senators and Representatives admitted to seats until they elect men who can take the TEST OATH.

"Let those who want to aid the cause of the Rebels and traitors of the South, and those who wish to aid in the organization of the corrupt Democratic party, attend at Philadelphia. That is the meeting for all such men to attend, but let true-hearted Union men stay away, as they will be very certain to do."

SOME of the St. Louis papers publish a lengthy account of what is called a banquet in a brothel, which created a sensation in that community. The substance of it is that while the Cincinnati police was on a visit there, the Police Commissioners surprised them with a midnight banquet at one of the most notorious and fashionable bawdy houses on Greene street, escorting the Cincinnati guests into the place without informing them where they were going.

When the character of the establishment became known the Cincinnati Chief retired with the remark that he was "not accustomed to that sort of thing in his official business." It is said the proprietress of the house exhibited her sense of the high honor done her by setting out a supper of regal style, with wines in abundance. Among the guests were two of the Police Commissioners, a Judge of one of the Courts, and other officials. Speeches were made and toasts drank, as if it had been a dinner in honor of some military celebrity. The community is greatly scandalized by the affair.

ONE of the celebrities of Quincy, Fla., is Mr. Tom Nathan, who commenced life as a clown in a traveling circus, and who is now a fervent member of the church, and retails dry goods and merchandise on a limited scale. His hair is of snowy whiteness, but he says it became so not in consequence of his years, but in consequence of an alarming accident which befell him during his career in the saw-dust. There was a tiger in the show with which he was connected, and the man who bearded the tiger in his den having on one occasion struck for higher wages, Nathan volunteered to take his place. Boldly he entered the cage, but as soon as he did so, the animal resented the intrusion and seized him by the fleshy part of the body immediately below the small of the back. The fear of being chawed, the pain of the laceration of his flesh, and disappointed ambition combined, blanched his hair in a moment. He went into the cage a fair-haired youth, and was taken out a white headed old man.

BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS, OR WORM LOZENGES.—Much sickness undoubtedly, with children and adults, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. The VERMIFUGE COMFITS, "although effectual in destroying worms, can do no positive injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be safe and sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children.

Children having worms require immediate attention, as neglect of the trouble often cause prolonged sickness.

Symptoms of worms in children are often overlooked. Worms in the stomach and bowels cause irritation which can be removed only by the use of a sure remedy. The combination of ingredients used in making BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS" is such as to give the best possible effect with safety.

MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Of New York.

ASSETS, OVER

Sixteen Million Dollars.

To meet the choice of such present or future members as may prefer to have the amount insured paid in instalments to their widows or heirs, rather than in one sum, this Company is prepared to insert in its policies a clause agreeing that in lieu of the payment of the policy and profits in one sum, an equitable amount, to be determined by the Company, may be paid annually or semi-annually for any specified number of years (say from five to twenty-five years.)

EXAMPLE.—Suppose a policy of $10,000, with additions amounting to $5,000 more, should become payable by reason of the death of the person insured, the Company, in lieu of the payment of $15,000 in one sum would be able to give (assuming interest as realized in the past) an annuity for ten years or over $2,000 per annum, or for twenty years an annuity of over $1,300 per annum.

This form of annuity will remove the anxiety which may exist in the minds of some policy-holders lest the future provision they have made for their families, should be ineffectual or transitory in its duration, either through unsafe investment, unwise expenditure, or other uncertainties incidental to contingent trusts.

It is not only free from the ordinary dangers of investment, but its punctual and full payment is secured by the large and solid cash resources and good faith of the Institution, which are, to a certain extent, become the Guardian or Trustee of the survivors. Hence the provision may be considered, humanly speaking, beyond any adverse contingency.

All such deferred payments or annuities will share equitably in the profits or dividends of the Company.

This Company will also issue SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES, which provide for survivors during the whole period of life, and DEFERRED ANNUITIES, by which individuals may provide for themselves in advanced age.

71 & 73 Fifth Street, 2d floor,

Are now in receipt of an unusually large and choice stock of Carpets, Floor Oil Cloths, Window Shades, Damasks, Repps, Terries, Lace and Nottingham Curtains.

With a host of new and elegant patterns of Cornice to match. Velvet, Brussels, White and Mosaic RUGS, all of the latest designs, direct from the most celebrated looms of Europe and America, and to an examination of which the public are cordially invited.

As this immense stock was purchased before the late rise in gold, it will readily be seen that our patrons share equally with us the advantages of purchasing at the lowest market rates. jy4
