ि THE EUROPEAN WAR. Several steamers have arrived since our let comments, and there would be pica. material for reflection and remarks if the Atiantic cable had not spoiled the matter for us. The steamers bring us accounts of battles on land and sea, opinions of the press, official and unefficial, -then, all at once, the electric spark flies through the depths of the Atlantic ocean and shakes us by the sublime word of "Peacel," as if the first fuid had itself passed through our nerves./ But what good would it do row to speculate on the result of battles togint. of conferences held, of meetings convended; The one word Peace, sent through the neutralizes them at once. There is no longer any pretence for asserting that the past Congress desired to exclude the Southern States or people from representation in the national coun-clis. Not only have the terms of participa-tion been promulgated, but an example has been set of actual admission in conformity to those conditions. Full assurance is giv enthat each of the Southern States has its destiny, in this particular, in its own keep-ing.
