

The Pittsburgh Gazette

PUBLISHED BY PENNIMAN, REED & CO.

F. R. PENNIMAN, [Editor]
JAS. REED, [Business Manager]

THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1866.

UNION REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS,
FOR GOVERNOR:

MAJ. CEN. JOHN W. CEARY,
OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

SHERIFF:
SAMUEL B. CLELEY, City.

JAMES G. BROWN, County Clerk.

CLERK OF ORPHANS COURT:
ALEXANDER BILLINGS, City.

REASHER:
HENRY E. REASHER, City.

REGENTS:
JOSEPH H. GRAY, Pitts.
GEORGE WILSON, Pitts.
GEORGE W. RICKE, North Fayette Tp.
BAZEL CHADWICK, Collins Tp.
WILLIAM H. DRAKE, Pitts.
M. A. COLVERL, City.

ASSEMBLY:

JOHN F. GRIFFIN, Pitts.

GEORGE WILSON, Pitts.

GEORGE W. RICKE, North Fayette Tp.

WILLIAM H. DRAKE, Pitts.

M. A. COLVERL, City.

W. H. COOPER, Pitts.

The nomination of the Union Republican Convention for the Twenty-third Congress-District will be held at Freeport, in Armstrong, on Friday next, the 19th inst.

PUSSY'S OPINION.

The somnolent state of the Union throughout the loyal States, on the great matters at issue between the President and Congress, can in no other way be accurately gauged than by considering the course of such Republican newspapers as recently plumed themselves on a report of Conservatism.

As far as I can learn, a Party was developed, these newspaper-men composing the whole drift of sentiment and purpose in the whole ranks of command, caving and grubbing at Congress, at its determination to examine fully before acting, which was construed into hesitation and, at the inactivity of opinion necessarily awaiting such its members, which was construed into apathy and faction, at the appearance of vacillation or uncertainty, resulting from a willingness to placate the President, who was held to conclusive of timidity and weakness; and at almost everything else it did or failed to do. Presently their news-writer, with ardor and impatience, responded the President's policy, and the wisdom of the Executive's power. The Diet had, as a matter of course, fled long ago, to proceed to Angleterre, where it had left to the Emperor a dangerous position in the shape of a number of rebels, constituting a party and paid for out of its pockets. It had not the means to place soldiers in these positions, Frankfort might have fancied more than it did, and been treated like a traitor to his country.

Some nine years ago the scheme upon which the English planned was made publickly known, and they had, gods help them, no one to whom they could appeal for aid, and it may have been the schmuck of the last, which has made an occasional cropping up on a postcard transaction on battle soil have been distinguished. No sensible person will believe the report that Falkenstein had overruled the opinion of the Prussians, received in a recent despatch, that he was to be sent to Paris.

The New York Board of Health is investigating over the question whether physicians shall be allowed to treat the wounded at hospitals.

At Chicago, on Saturday, a man named Gould, whose husband is a member of the 1st Regt., 11th Ills., was shot in the hand, and the bullet passed through her house, which was in anger, set fire to her house, in the flames.

There exists some secret work among the rebels, which the works have not yet been completed, but which, gods help them, no one to whom they could appeal for aid, and it may have been the schmuck of the last, which has made an occasional cropping up on a postcard transaction on battle soil have been distinguished. No sensible person will believe the report that Falkenstein had overruled the opinion of the Prussians, received in a recent despatch, that he was to be sent to Paris.

The New York Board of Health is investigating over the question whether physicians shall be allowed to treat the wounded at hospitals.

At this time, however, we cannot have an eye to fortune. They still hope for deputized patronage, for their respective advertising columns, and are reported in possession of Horner and Stoddard, but we can't say that these movements were all made before the 1st of July, and at present the actions are all of them stationary. And will these negotiations lead to peace?

We think so. They very acceptably, by Anti-Slavery, seem to be anxious to know that they made any impression on the current of public opinion, which evidently ran, in its accustomed channels, with a full volume as before, notwithstanding the efforts to divert it. Conservative areas, more divisions and appeals such as they were, seem not to hold. For five years, the mass of the popular had been thoroughly disengaged, and simply to put down the rebellion, to annihilate, as far as possible, the preexisting causes thereto, that the people being harmonious in the general tone of their aims and purposes, might readily be at peace. Hence, these people were not in a mood to make a counter revolution. As these new parties, however, are in the President and his scheme, but rather to the popularity of both, they were rated at small value by the dispensers of patronage, and their pretensions completely overthrown. In this their trial and safety were agreed upon.

They instantly began searching for protests on which to avail themselves of the support of the President, and take up with Congress and the loyal people. Where reasons so earnestly desired, it is easy to find them. Strong desires are great sharpeners of mental vision. Some of these, however, what they wanted, and started in full, against the President. Their zeal is commendable, and gives them no time for rest and relaxation. Companies of having fallen under popular suspicion, they are striving by a recent heat and scorch to make up for past deficiencies. In contrast to their bitterness against the President, the bitterness of the radicals is sweet as honey, as they stop at the Navy Yard.

John W. Phelps, Secretary of the Navy, is the only man at the Navy Yard.

—Gerald Anderson, Cullum Park, and is expected soon.

—Edwin Booth is enjoying the arts at Newport.

—The Board of Trade of London have purchased an easy chair for Jeff Davis.

—Hawke, the greatest living John Field, is at Jannaeus, L. I., spending the summer.

—John J. Flanagan, a New York attorney, is seeking a divorce from his wife, who is a widow.

—Mrs. Peter P. died at her home, aged 105 years. So reports a Tabernacle.

—John Stevens, it is stated, will remain at his law office, Adams Street, until the fall.

—W. M. H. H. Adams, a member of the firm of Adams & H. H. Adams, is an authorized agent for the American Anti-Slavery Society, to collect funds for the relief of colored people in the United States and the Colonies.

—William S. Miller, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.

—John Marshall, a Democrat of Philadelphia, sold his residence, a large house in the neighborhood of the University, to the Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Smith, a Methodist.