RESOLUTIONS OF THANKS.

Adjourned sine die.

Philadelphia, August 16, 1886.

The National Convention assembled in the afternoon of August 16th, 1886, at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

The Convention was opened by the reading of the Declaration of Principles.

The Declaration of Principles was adopted by a vote of 250 yeas to 10 nays.

The Resolutions and Address were adopted by a vote of 250 yeas to 10 nays.

The Address was read by the President, and was highly applauded.

The Convention adjourned sine die until the next day.

After the vote had been taken on the adoption of the foregoing Declaration of Principles, it was found that the reading of the same had been omitted by accident, and it was then read and adopted with great applause and unanimity.

The Declaration of Principles was then adopted as a whole with enthusiastic cheers. After the adoption three resolutions were called for and given in the most enthusiastic manner for Senator Cowan of Pennsylvania.

Senator Cowan acknowledged the compliment, but said that he was considered himself as a member of the Convention, and that he would address it as such.

The Convention then proceeded to read the Address of the President, which was highly applauded.
