This distinguished gentleman, who rep noreland, Indiana and Armstrong countie who gained an enviable national reputation during those eight years, by his stern fidelity nciple and his efficient and untiring efforts to investigate and expose to the eyes of an indignant country the corruptions which were rapidly undermining the Govrament, is now the Republican candidate for Congress in the 19th district. Mr. Coone's strength, in his old district, lay, in an eminent degree, in popular favor. Twice and the politicians of that district made arrangements to take up some other man at such was the pressure of public opinion a favor of Mr. Covode that they were broken up; and it was not until the district was changed that he ceased to represent i

His majorities were always large-the county was dropped off that district, and Fayette added to it. Armstrong generally gives a small Republican majority. Occasionally the opposite party carries it. Fayette usually gives a Democratic majority of from 700 to 1,000. How it may vote this year, since Jonah has swallowed the whale, and the "Democratic ticket" has ceased to be an existing reality, the result alone to be an existing reality, the result alone carried the Nineteenth district by a little over one hundred majority.

It is an exceedingly cheering sign of the times to see the people of such a district choose such a candidate at-such a time. It is an chullong to combat for all or nothing with peace, and liberty with union. is a challenge to combat for all or nothing Our friends there take their stand on the highest and foremost ground upon which they stood during the war. _There is no | well exhibited in the following extract time-serving, no giving back, no compromising: and if they elect Covode—as we Carolina, to the Johnson-Clymer Club of ently believe they will-it will be the most scathing rebuke that Pennsylvania could administer to Cowan and the two Johnsons for their perfidy to principle and to the men who lifted that trio from obscurity. Moreover it is an evidence of the good sense of the people of that district to good sense of the people of that district to

If a poor man has geni- Is there any evidence that they don't beis, talent, learning, they count as nothing lieve so still? There is solid verity in the Lits a Co. in winning public employments, so long as old distich : he devotes them to working ameliorations in the condition of the masses of the population. comports with the genius of our Constitution—which organizes a government of all the people for the benefit of all. To this the people for the benefit of all. To this end it is indispensable that poor men of inferior capacities find their way into public on conditions of personal and pecuniary independence. In the nature of the case there are no valid reasons why the nation should not pay for any kind of work, mental or physical, as good wages as like cases the state of the case the state of the case there are no valid reasons why the nation should not pay for any kind of work, mental or physical, as good wages as like cases where the state of the case that the state of the case there are no valid reasons why the nation should not pay for any kind of work, mental or physical, as good wages as like cases where the state of the case that the state of the case that the state of the case there are no valid reasons why the nation should not pay for any kind of work, mental or physical, as good wages as like case the state of the case there are no valid reasons why the nation should not pay for any kind of work, mental not pay for any kind of work pay for pacities and aptitudes command in private callings. The maxim that "the laborer is worthy of his hire" applies here with the same cogency it does elsowhere. Nor is this rule, as applied to public servants, of special advantage to men of wealth. Indeed, is of no advantage to them whatever. They can afford to serve in Congress for the resultant honor. Poor men cannot. We have known many men of supernor by hon. Schuler Colfax, and General Logical Congress of the resultant poor in the control of the commanders.

Are poor men anxions to be excluded from Congress, in their own persons, and in the persons of men of their own order, because they cannot afford to work for the pay accorded that kind of service? If they are they will accept the tenchings of demagogues on this subject. The majority of the members of the present Congress are not rich men; and in this respect there is a correspondence with all former Congresses.

stand aside and let men of large fortunes opolize the seats in the two Houses. And this leads us to speak of the additional compensation the members of Congress are charged with recently voting into their own pockets, admitting for the sake of argument that an increase was actually voted—the primary question is, was the increase excessive? When the session opened the price of board at Washington was put up to such rates that the salaries of the members were insufficient to provide them respectable lodgings. Many of them actually contemplated taking rooms at Baltimore. Of course, this enhancement of expenses, did not incommode the rich members; but it was oppressive on the poor And this leads us to speak of the addi-

Considering how attendance in Considering how attendance in Considering the regular business affairs of members, and considering the enhanced rates they have to pay for subsistence, we do not see occasion to pronounce the new document's $10,000,000. The route is from New York to Bermuda, via Cape Clarker. We thence to the Agree and or Congressional services does not materilly, if at all, increase the public charges. It is rather an adjustment of compensation long the members. Under the former rule, members living at considerable or reote distances from the capital were al. I lowed sums for travel vastly in excess of the actual expenses. The farther off a to nember lived the higher was his actual pay. All equities were violated by this adustment. Nothing can be fairer than to provide that taking a true account of travpay. All equities were violated by this adprovide that taking a true account of traveling charges, the pay of members shall be equal. This is precisely what the recent ill accomplished. For instance, Senator

NESMITH, of Oregon, received for the 38th Congress $3,000 salary and $11,936 mileage; total, $14,936. Under the new law be will receive for the 89th Congress $5,000 nd half the former mileage; total, $10,968. UNION LEAGUE OF PHILADELPHIA The members of the Union League of Philadelphia, at their meeting on Wednes lay evening, took a bold and firm stand on the great questions now agitating the ountry. They emphatically endorse the Congressional plan of Reconstruction by Constitutional Amendment, the ratification of which by any of the late rebel States, will at once restore it to its place in the Union, and at the same time maintain the great principles which were fought for and rindicated in the war of the great rebellion
