

We feel that an apology is due some of our readers for the delay in the hour which they receive their paper. The delay does not arise from any inattention or negligence on the part of our faithful and efficient carriers, but the fact that our circulation has increased so rapidly of late that we find our facilities for working of our daily editions totally inadequate to demand. To obviate this difficulty we have ordered one of Hoe's superior presses, which is now being built for us and will be delivered a few weeks hence. With our new press we trust to be able to get our papers out as soon, if not sooner, than our morning contemporaries.

We have taken occasion to thank subscribers for the indulgence bestowed upon us, since we have had but few papers on the score of late papers. To the public also, in due hearty thanks for the kind encouragement extended the Gazette since the beginning of the present year. Thus far our success has exceeded our greatest anticipations, and has been unequalled in the history of Pittsburgh journalism. A reference to our crowded advertising columns, and a glance at our largely increased subscription lists will satisfy all that our humble efforts to put forth a first class journal are generously rewarded by an appreciating community. The Gazette today is more widely disseminated, upon a better basis, and in a far more prosperous condition than it has been since the remote date it was established.

Passenger Johnson progresses in his historical foundation. His name is to be found in another column, is the most interesting one yet published. His biographical sketches, bitter denunciations of Congress, attempts at assassination, the New Orleans massacre, and dissertation upon the Freedom's Bureau, are points in his life. Louis speaks with a careful personal from every thorough man, and it is possible that such language as reported flowed from the tongue of the President of these United States? Such a speech would be incalculable good to the Union Republican party, and most Andrew Johnson may be persuaded to some of his extraordinary talking during his brief stay in Allegheny county.

The National Convention of soldiers and sailors will in all probability attract a large number of citizens, and arrangements for receiving into their households as many of the delegates as they can accommodate. It is to be hoped that it will be found impossible to accommodate for at least one-third of the number. In view of this, we would suggest that the citizens who can conveniently do so, make arrangements for receiving into their households as many of the delegates as they can accommodate. There should be no objection to the citizens of Allegheny, where loyal citizens wish to extend the hospitalities of their homes to the brave defenders of our country, and if the latter are not able to do so, they may be accommodated by the Convention. Who will take the least notice of the Convention?

By order of the Republican State committee meetings will be held as follows: Sept. 10th, Franklin, Venango county; 11th, Erie, Beaver county; 12th, Erie, Beaver county; 13th, West Newton, Venango county; 14th, Uniontown, Fayette co.; 15th, Warren, Warren county; 16th, Brownsville, Adams county; 17th, Meadville, Crawford co.; 18th, Oil City, Venango county; 19th, Wexford, Allegheny county; 20th, Indiana, Indiana county; 21st, Erie, Erie county; 22d, Erie, Erie county.

The investigation of the authorities of Pittsburgh, in connection with the Union League House, was held by an incendiary. The fire originated in a small box where no fire was used, and none could be seen, except by design. The assumption is that it was fired by some supporter of the President's Policy in revenge for the active participation of the Club in the honor extended to the Southern loyalists.

The New York Times confesses some things by the President's policy, and land wells are "greatly to be regretted." Well, the conservatives are likely to find better getting much farther, they have been a number of days, and the revolutionary temper, whose hot impulses and coarse energy will be impossible for them to restrain or even modify.

The President did not make a political speech at Chicago. The reason was that General Logan was stopping at the hotel, and arrangements were made to call him out in answer to the President. This coming to the knowledge of Mr. Johnson and Mr. Seward, they concluded to hold a meeting at the hotel.

So long as Andrew Johnson professes to be against the rebels, the copperheads poured upon him the strongest epithets in their vulgar vocabulary, but now that he has become the friend and champion of the same rebels, their admiration of him knows no bounds. He has swung round; they stand fast.

At Detroit, Mr. Seward put the question to vote in a multitude of men gathered in the street. Do you want Andrew Johnson for President or King? Do the Conservatives desire bringing that question in a different form?
