A NOBLE ACT.

Brown's University in 1864 was worth $750,000, and had a library of thirty six thousand volumes. At the last meeting of the Alumni, President SEARS announced that $500,000 were added to the endowment the past year. Five gentlemen of Providence each gave $20,000. Providence has but about one half the population of our cities, and not one half the wealth, and five of her citizens in one year have done many fold more for their University than all our people have done for theirs in half a century. What an unfavorable contrast. How does it show the comparative estimate placed on education by the people of the different cities. Here may be found the reason why we send our children to the East to be educated by the liberality of others. And here the reason why we are compelled to send to the same Providence for the cities' steam engines. An endowment is as essential to a good institution of learning as capital for a heavy manufacturer. We are not only behind the East but even the West in this respect

The work, however, has been begun here, and an increasing interest and liberality will, we fully believe be manifested. Before many years an University and Female College will be amply endowed. We have given our hundreds of thousands to endow institutions abroad, while our sons and daughters at home have been suffering. Where are the men who will give $100,000, or $20,000, or $10,000 or $5,000?

BACKSLIDING.

In August last, Mr POLLARD, the editor of the Richmond Examiner, was in Philadelphia attending the Conservative National Convention. After the adjournment of that body, a convivial re-union of journalistic gentlemen occurred, and Mr. POLLARD made a speech, in which he protested the Southern people had "no desire to revive the issues decided by the arbitrament of the sword," and much more to the same effect. He produced a marked sensation upon his auditors and the public. On the 12th instant, in his journal, he said:

"We long ago gave over to the sons of the 'Pilgrim fathers' our interest in the flag, the Fourth of July and Yankee Doodle, and have never since felt any desire to reassert our claims. Were the test oath abolished, and the doors of Congress opened to-morrow to Southern representation, no man of delicacy but would shrink from asking the best and purest in our land to mingle with that ancient crew of rapscallion bowling fanatics. To participate in councils of the nation, once an know become a degradation."

THE Galveston (Texas,) Bulletin makes this sensible representation

"The Republicans are willing the South should be represented by Union men. This is not satisfactory. It is demanded that those who still preach treason must be inducted into the places of honor and trust. This suicidal policy will not be adopted by the American people, who are determined that the leaders in the rebellion shall take back seats, until they have given evidence of sincere repentance and change of heart."

THERE are indications that the conservatives have abandoned all hope of electing CLYMER, and are concentrating their energies on the close Congressional districts with a view to defeating, if possible, some of the Republican nominees. This change will not avail them. The same ground-swell that wrought astonishing results on Maine, extends throughout Pennsylvania.

In the Twenty-first Congressional District Mr JOHN COVODE, the Republican candidate, seems to be ahead. The appearances indicate his election by a majority of three hundred. He is working up the district with great energy.

GEN KIDDO's report to Gen. Howard of the condition of affairs in Texas is raising quite a commotion in that State What particularly incensed the people was his allegation of numerous outrages upon the blacks.

In the Twenty fourth Congressional District the prospects of Mr GEORGE V LAWRENCE, the Republican candidate are decidedly bright. He will be re elected by at least fifteen hundred majority.

THE Butler meeting will be on the 24th inst., which is next Monday—and not the 26th, as we stated yesterday

GENERAL NEWS.

—Ten thousand Fenians drill nightly in Buffalo.

—The Raleigh Progress has been publishing the initials of the young men who misbehave in the Raleigh churches

—Fifty thousand copies of E. A. Pollard's "Lost Cause" are said to have been sold within one month after publication.

—The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Reformed Dutch Church at Fishkill was celebrated on Wednesday.

—The city election at Rising Sun, Indiana, on Tuesday, went Republican by a majority of seventy The place hitherto has been largely democratic —Mobile has a population of 19,962, of which about 12,400 are colored. Of Confederate soldiers in the late war the city had 315 killed, 171 died and 332 disabled

—Illegitimacy is increasing in Scotland to a frightful extent. For instance, in one parish of Aberdeenshire, out of fourteen births registered, eleven are given as illegitimate.

—A Marseilles paper states that an inhabitant of that city has discovered a new motive power much more advantageous than steam and quite free from any danger of explosion.

—A negro named James Smith died of cholera in Memphis, last Sunday night, and forty-eight hours after, his deserted body was found by the city authorities, partially devoured by rats.

—A wedding was to take place at Nashville one evening last week, and bride, parson, and guests were ready, when it was announced that the groom was on a jury which was unable to agree, and had been locked up for the night.

—The Paris correspondent of the London Observer writes: "I hear that a great change is to be made this year in gentlemen's dress, and that the chimney-pot hat that has long held its place amid the fluctuations of fashion is at last to succumb to the demand of the age."

—The emigration of squirrels westward, which was noticed all over the State of Michigan a short time ago, is now being followed by a migration of bears. The same reason accounts for both—a scarcity of mast, as both of these animals depend alike on nuts, etc., for food. Bears are very numerous in the woods west of Bay City.

—A Nebraska City paper states that on August 24th that place was visited by an enormous swarm of minute insects that filled the air and appeared much like a snow storm. They were in two stratas—the upper one blown to the westward by a strong easterly wind, and the insects in the lower one moving about in every direction. Very few of them settled on the ground, and the entire swarm was finally blown away by the wind.

THE CLEVELAND CONVENTION.

General Wool Temporary Chairman.

COMMITTEE ON PERMANENT ORGANIZATION

McClellan, Johnson and Seward Cheered.

CLEVELAND, Sept 17.—The Southern and Soldiers convention, in response to a call from those favorable to the policy of President Johnson and the action of the Philadelphia Convention of August 14th, met in this city to-day A pavilion one hundred and fifty feet in length by sixty in breadth, had been erected in the Park for the use of the Convention, and at three o'clock the delegations entered, preceded by a band of music, and were seated, after which the crowd from the outside was admitted, and filled the tent to its utmost capacity.

Previous to the organization quite a spirited scene was witnessed, the delegations rising and cheering with all their might for successively the old flag, Generals Custar, Sherman, Wool, and McClellan, the Constitution, the thirty-six States, and Andy Johnson, and after a brief breathing spell for each will Grant, Secretary Seward, Gen. Steedman and the American army, and Gov. Brannlette, of Tennessee. As the cheering was ended the band gave in each case, there was a scene of wild enthusiasm, the delegates rising and swinging their hats and shouting most vigorously.

By previous arrangement Gov. Brannlette nominated Maj Gen John E. Wool as the oldest Major General in the United States, and probably in the world, as temporary President. Gen. Wool was received with loud cheers and addressed the Convention.

Prayer was offered by Rev. W. G. Turner, formerly of the 49th Ohio Infantry.

On motion of General Lewis, of Kentucky, Captain J. M'Turiolle, of Baltimore, and Major Duval English, of Kentucky, were elected Secretaries.

On motion of General Denver a Committee on Permanent Organization, consisting of one from each State, was appointed, as follows: Maine, General A. S. Daggett; Massachusetts, Colonel Eli G. Kingsley; New York, General M. T. Mahon; New Jersey, General Taylor; Pennsylvania, Captain W. Mcclelland; Maryland, W. Purcell; District of Columbia, Captain P. Young; Ohio, General Samuel Wilson; Indiana, Colonel Frank Emerson; Wisconsin, A. G. Doolittle; Missouri, Major E. S. Farnsworth; Kansas, General O. A. Bassett; Nebraska, General H. H. Heath; Illinois, Surgeon W. A. Osgood; Kentucky, Lieutenant James A. Davison, Minnesota, General W. A. Gorman; California, General J. W. Denver; Tennessee, Major J. F. Carter; Louisiana, Colonel M. Jose; New Mexico, Captain John Sherman; Michigan, General C. C. Loomis; Georgia, Major Henry S. Fitch.

On motion of Hon. L. D. Campbell, of Kentucky, the rules of the Congressional House of Representatives were adopted until otherwise ordered, with a reservation that all resolutions pertaining to principle, be referred to the Committee on Resolution and address without reading or debate.

On motion of James T. Brady, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Presidents of the different State delegations report to the President of the permanent organization, the names of all the members of their respective delegations, who are known to be dishonorably discharged the service of the United States, and that such persons so reported be not allowed to participate in the proceedings of the Convention.

General Custar announced that many of the delegations were not yet full; that members were now on their way who ought to have an opportunity to participate in the business of the permanent organization, and he therefore offered a resolution to adjourn until ten o'clock to-morrow morning. Subsequently this resolution was withdrawn, and Mr. Campbell moved that General Thomas Ewing, Jr., of Kansas, now address the Convention, in response to calls from all sides General Ewing appeared upon the stand and was introduced by the President saying, "If you have any cheers to give you can give them." Loud cheers greeted this suggestion and General Ewing who proceeded to address the Convention at great length on all the points of the day.

Gen. Ewing elaborately argued various constitutional questions at length, being greeted with great applause, and at the close loud cheers and the thanks of the Convention, which resolved to publish the speech in their proceedings.

Speaking for this evening by various speakers was announced, and the Convention adjourned, pursuant to the resolution offered by General Custar.

The Great Convention—Meeting of Committees Yesterday

A most meeting of the Resident Committee of the Soldiers' and Sailors' National Convention, and the County Executive Committee of the Boys in Blue, was held yesterday afternoon, pursuant to adjournment, in the committee Room at City Hall, with Major General James S. Negley occupying the chair

The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was dispensed with, and the reports of the several committees called for by the Chairman.

General A. L. Pearson, from the committee on Railroads, reported progress. The report was accepted and the committee continued.

Sergeant J. H. Kerr, from the Committee on Badges, reported progress. A large number were already finished, and the whole number —5,000—would probably be ready for distribution to-day.

On motion of Captain Harper, it was resolved that the Committee on Badges be instructed to distribute the badges as soon as possible to the Boys in Blue on proper application being made.

Captain McConnell stated that he had information that the base ball clubs would, to a great extent, join the procession, dressed in their own uniform and wearing their own badges.

Sergt. Kerr remarked that the badges of the Boys in Blue, were designed to designate honorably discharged soldiers and sailors, and none others, and that civilians should not be permitted to join the organizations. A prolonged discussion followed, the members being very evenly divided as to the advisability of accepting or rejecting civilians as members of the District organizations. At length it was decided to leave the matter of membership to the option of each organization.

On motion of Col. Bayne, General Geo. S. Gallupe was made a member of both the Resident Committee, and County Executive Committee.

It was announced that Capt. Torrence, of the Committee on Decorations, had gone East to make arrangements for flags, and the Chairman was authorized to send him a letter empowering him to act for the Committee.

Sergt. McConnell, from the Committee on Artillery, reported progress, and requested to be relieved from further meeting as he would be absent from Pittsburgh for a week or ten days. It was decided that a National salute should be fired at Meridian, and that on the arrival of each Governor of a State, a salute of thirty-seven guns should be fired.

Dr. Curtis further, from the Committee to confer with the Subsistence Committee, reported that no satisfactory arrangement could be made for furnishing the aid of that Committee for the occasion.

On motion of General Pearson, it was resolved that each of the Pittsburgh papers be requested to publish in the press reports, the names of the Executive Committee, and extend an invitation to such as were absent to be present at the meeting to-morrow evening for the purpose of the discussion.

Messrs. John H. Hare, John H. Stewart, Joseph Eaton, Thomas Scott and Robert Mackay, were appointed a committee of Conference to make arrangements for the Bemis's parade.

Captain Hastings, late a Captain in Kentucky volunteers, charged with cultivating a plantation while acting as an agent of the Freedmen, and with complicity in the shooting of a negro. The other cases will be taken up in a few days.

Allegheny County Agricultural Fair.

The Eleventh Anniversary of the Allegheny County Agricultural Fair is to commence to-day, and from present indications—should the weather permit—a grand success will be made of it. We do not wish it to be inferred that visitors will be admitted to-day, for such is not the case As is the custom always, the first day is entirely devoted to exhibitors, and the arrangement of the different stalls, and there will be no depart ire from the rule at present.

We left for the grounds at rather an early hour yesterday morning, wishing to have a general survey before the hustle commenced, but we found that our fears were anticipated. Already a large number of workmen were busy in fitting up stalls, and in arranging goods We felt that if before and doubts had been felt as to the enthusiasm that would be exhibited, those doubts should now vanish. The articles that were arriving were, to the credit of a general thing, such as were least perishable, but the most encouraging sign was to see our merchants and manufacturers selecting their positions, and immediately going to work with a zeal that spoke volumes in favor of the success of the undertaking. Stoves, grates, ranges plumbers' goods, baths, sewing machine booths, lamps, chandeliers, glassware, wagons, carts, wheelbarrows, mowing machines, plows, cider mills, photographs and paintings, flowers of different kinds, machinery, and so long a catalogue that it would require a column to enumerate them all. Today the finer class of goods, together with perishable articles, will be entered, and we shall see stocks of carpets, rugs, curtains, and the various paraphernalia of a well-ordered house, fruits and vegetables, pelties and preserves, and—but what is the use of attempting to go over the list. There will be horses, sheep, cows, mules, dogs, and every domestic animal that we have. Let but old Sol show his benignant face, and such a display as Allegheny county has never yet seen will be opened to the astonished gaze. There—we know we would incur the most unanswerable reproach if we omitted to mention the fact that the ladies' organization of the Boys in Blue would make their head-quarters on the ground during the Fair. We do not wish to assert the custom of running fat jokes upon us, but we must confess that as we left his presence we were considerably mystified to know how the ladies could be "Boys in Blue," and as we must confess in a report of their meeting we failed to get the point. It was decided that a National salute should be fired at Meridian, and that on the arrival of each Governor of a State, a salute of thirty-seven guns should be fired.

Dr. Curtis further, from the Committee to confer with the Subsistence Committee, reported that no satisfactory arrangement could be made for furnishing the aid of that Committee for the occasion.

Union Meeting in the Eighth Ward.

A meeting of the Boys in Blue, and citizens in general, was held in the Eighth ward school house last evening. The meeting was the largest which has been held in this ward during the campaign.

The following gentlemen were elected delegates to the soldiers' Convention on the 25th inst.: Lieut. J. R. J. Neole, Col. D. M. Armor, Lieut. Pat Rogers.

Major E. Siegle on being present was called upon and responded in a speech which abounded in loyal sentiments and denunciations of our loyal Congressmen.

The Sixth ward was represented by the leading men of the ward, and they evinced the meeting with considerable enthusiasm.

Captain Harper was next introduced, and was received with loud cheers. He made a stirring and patriotic speech. He concluded with a pathetic appeal for support.

The meeting adjourned, after an hour, with three cheers for General Grant. There will be a meeting at the same place to-night to nominate delegates to the Convention. Every Union voter is urged to be present. There will also be a meeting at the School house on Pipetown on Thursday evening, and every honorably discharged soldier, as well as citizens, are earnestly solicited to attend. Persons in this part of the ward will please cut this in mind.

A Demand for Blood.

CHARLES BERNSLICH is now possessor of a wife a brother-in-law and a house in the borough of Birmingham. A few nights since Charles was awakened from his slumbers by the aforementioned brother-in-law—Thomas Bowers—who was endeavoring through a rear door to effect an entrance which latter fact he very promptly communicated to Charles, who, within the short space of a few weeks, has declared himself opposed to "any policy" and willing to take the field in opposition to those who had planned such an outrageous as the New Orleans massacre

Charles speaks and he was then nominative "My Policy" nominee in opposition to Mr. Williams, and he was being rattled on the other side of the City Hall, after addressing his auditors not to forget the county ticket, which was of great importance to them of the fact that in the next Assembly would devolve the duty of choosing a United States Senator in the place of Mr. Cowan. Mr Bowers retired.

Smith & Tourge's corner Western Exchange is in excellent style that beautiful national air of "Hail to the Chief"

When the music had ceased, the President came forward and, in a few neat remarks, introduced the Hon. F. B. Penniman, who was received with three deafening cheers, the enthusiasm lasting for several minutes. When it had somewhat subsided, Mr Penniman proceeded to speak of the interest that should be felt by every man in the result of the present political contest. He reviewed in his forcible argumentive, and eloquent manner the position assumed by the Democratic party, and that of the one attempted to be thrust upon the country by Mr Johnson. He also explained in the course of his remarks, in a clear way, the Constitutional amendments proposed by Congress, and asserted that a rational, well-disciplined human mind could object to them. Mr. Penniman spoke for almost an hour, being frequently interrupted by the plaudits of the people, who gave him interspontaneous cheers on his retiring.

Three cheers were then given at the request of the President for the news from Maine, after which Hon. Thomas J. Bigham was introduced. This gentleman spoke in his usual felicitous style, and was well received and frequently applauded.

Rev. Dr. Gaw, from Temperanceville, made the concluding address, which was reported with close attention and telling hits. Owing to the lateness of the hour the gentleman's remarks were necessarily brief.

The meetings adjourned with cheers for Congress, Geary and the Union, while the band discoursed excellent music as the crowd dispersed.

Criminal Court.

Court met at the usual hour, Judges Mellon and Brown on the Bench.

Janette Anderson was arraigned on an indictment for assault and battery. The case had not been agreed upon a verdict when we left the court room.

Michael grogan plead guilty to a charge of illegal liquor selling, and was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs.

Shooting Affair in the Fifth Ward.

The hearing which was to have taken place at the Mayor's office last evening in the case of Finch, charged with shooting Wm. Smith on Friday evening last, was postponed until this morning on account of the absence of important witnesses. The circumstances of the case were these. At about eleven o'clock on Friday evening, Finch, a dry goods merchant in the Fifth ward, and Wm. Smith, a work hand in the same ward, met at Sweetser's Hall. They had no words in the hall, and after remaining for a short time, Finch started for his store next door.

Smith, it is alleged, started out after Finch, and walked up Penn street, towards the store of the latter. When opposite the store some one hallooed for Finch to shoot Smith. Smith said, you will shoot, will you, and turned. As Finch knew, whenever Smith drew a revolver and shot Smith, the ball taking effect in Smith's person just below the elbow, inflicting a painful flesh wounds. Smith called out that he was shot, and went away. Smith made information against Finch, charging him with assault and battery with intent to kill. The accused was arrested and will have a hearing as stated. It is said that the affray was caused by an old grudge existing between the parties.

A Ruffian Fitly Punished.

On Friday evening last, two young ladies residing on Logan street, left home in the early part of the evening for a walk. They went farther than they intended and when they returned it was quite dark. While walking together homeward they were rudely accosted by a young man, a stranger to both of them. They made no reply and paid no attention to him, thinking while keeping close beside them. They reached the house of one of the young ladies and went into the house The father of the girl hearing of the occurrence from them, went out and found the fellow still standing at the gate. He ordered him away and when the fellow refused to go, called for his cane. Then ensued a fight in which the old man's arms blow which knocked him down. The assailant then ran off, but had been recognized by the brothers of the young lady watching for him. Yesterday one of them discovered the fellow in the far room of the Monongahela House, and "pitched into" him. He punished him to so thorough an extent that we are informed by a bystander when he feels inclined to insult a lady, he will carefully and thoroughly ascertain the number and size of her brothers

Caught Again.

A woman named Jane Sproull has been before Mayor McCarthy repeatedly for drunkenness. On one occasion she had in her possession some bad whiskey with which she had her spree by pawning stolen goods for it, and a storekeeper was kept for her. Yesterday morning Officer Cupples was passing along Market street, when he saw Jane with two other female companions, of the same kind as herself, loitering in a suspicious manner about the door of McConnell's dry goods store, on the corner of Fourth and Market streets. The officer watched them for a short time, when Jane, having waited until the store was comparatively clear of customers, went in. Officer Cupples, still on the watch, saw Jane, while the clerk was engaged elsewhere, endeavor to secrete a web of calico under a white jacket that she wore. She made two or three attempts before she succeeded, and as soon as she had it properly planned and was about to leave the store, the officer told her that he would take her and her calico, which he did and she will doubtless try the benefits of retirement for awhile.

A Domestic Brawl.

Mary McCloskey appeared before Alderman Lynch yesterday and made oath against her husband, James, for assault and battery. It appeared that James came home in the quiet of his usual evenings since in a beastly state of intoxication, and on his wife greeting him with a few kind reproving words, he struck her in the breast with such force as to knock her over a cradle that contained a fractious specimen of humanity, of which they were joint possessors. The consequence was that the infantile occupant of the cradle was thrown out upon the floor, and its rather diminutive nasal organ made a bright red by coming in contact with the carpet. A warrant has been placed in the hands of officer Conners for the arrest of the domestic tyrant.

Meeting at Uniontown.—The loyal masses turned out in full force on Thursday afternoon last, upon the occasion of the grand mass meeting of the Union Republican party. The day meeting was addressed by Hon. T. J. Bigham, of Pittsburgh, and W. W. Ketchum, Esq., of Wilkesbarre. An evening meeting was held in the Court House, at which Col. A. K. McClure, of Chambersburg, and Prof. Miller, of Rochester, spoke. Both meetings were great successes, clearly demonstrating that the Union citizens of that place are keenly alive to the great issues before the people.

Mistaken.—We reported, on Saturday, the case of a man who had his leg broken twice, and stated that it was done in a row at the rear of Patrick Neeson. It seems that our informant was mistaken. The difficulty occurred in the court adjoining Mrs. Neeson's house,

Mass Meeting in Allegheny—Enthusiasm, Speeches, &c.

There was an immense meeting of the Union Republican voters of Allegheny City, held last evening, in the Diamond square, in that place. An organization was effected by calling Hon. James L. Graham to the chair and appointing the following named gentlemen to act as Vice Presidents:

John F. Hennings, Esq., Capt. Sol. Schoyer, J. R. Ingraham, Esq., A. D. Smith, Esq., Robert Lea, Esq., William W. Martin, Esq., Jacob Collin, Esq., George Parkins, Esq., Wm. Owens, Esq., A. H. Dunseath, Esq., John Bassilone, Esq., John F. Slagle, Esq., Joseph Schaffer, Esq., Thomas Chrighton, Esq., T. J. Martin, Esq., Col. Steele, Esq.

The reporters of the press were made secretaries.

On assuming the functions of Chairman, Mr. Graham made a brief and pertinent speech, which was listened to with respectful attention and frequently applauded. The chairman concluded his remarks by introducing E. S. Lucas, Esq.

This gentleman after mentioning briefly the momentous issues involved in the present canvass, went into an analysis of the characters and abilities of the candidates for congress in the Twenty-third district. It was needless, he said, to state to an audience who have been represented by the Hon. Thomas Williams, the many private and public virtues of that gentleman. He had been consistent, tried and true, never once faltering in the hour of darkness and adversity, but remaining like a rock fixed and steadfast, against which the waves of treason would dash in vain. On the other hand, the Conservatives have nominated a young man named Billings C. Dibble, who, within the short space of a few weeks, has declared himself opposed to "any policy" and willing to take the field in opposition to those who had planned such an outrageous as the New Orleans massacre

Mr. Lucas spoke at length, and he was then nominative "My Policy" nominee in opposition to Mr. Williams, and he was being rattled on the other side of the City Hall, after addressing his auditors not to forget the county ticket, which was of great importance to them of the fact that in the next Assembly would devolve the duty of choosing a United States Senator in the place of Mr. Cowan. Mr Bowers retired.

Smith & Tourge's corner Western Exchange is in excellent style that beautiful national air of "Hail to the Chief"

When the music had ceased, the President came forward and, in a few neat remarks, introduced the Hon. F. B. Penniman, who was received with three deafening cheers, the enthusiasm lasting for several minutes. When it had somewhat subsided, Mr
