CITY AND SUBURBAN.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON FIRST PAGE.)

Anniversary.—The colored people of this city and adjoining localities, hold a grand anniversary meeting to-day, at the Iron City Park. They celebrate the day in honor of the first emancipation proclamation, issued by the lamented Lincoln. Among the thirty guished gentlemen who will be present at the Festival to-day, we notice the name of Mr. Fred. Douglas. No man in the country is more popular than Mr. Douglas, and his wonderful powers of oratory attract listeners in the nation at large. He will [illegible] the Park this morning, and to-night will [illegible] in Masonic Hall. Every arrangement has been made to afford enjoyment to all who may attend the Festival to-day, and we trust that a large number of visitors will reward the untiring exertions of the Committee having the matter in charge.

A Beautiful Monument.—In the Monongahela City Cemetery, Mrs. Howe, wife of Maj. T. B. Howe, has erected a monument over the remains of her husband, killed at Appomattox Court House. The stone is a marble shaft, surmounted by the American eagle with expanded wings, resting immediately upon a Masonic square and compass. In relief, on the face of the monument, is a flag and sword crossed, and beneath is the inscription. It is well known that Major Howe was killed by the last shot fired between the armies of Lee and Meade, at Appomattox Court House, April 9, 1865. It is a beautiful spot, tastefully surrounded by an evergreen hedge, approached by a flight of stone steps, and is already attracting considerable attention.

Howe's European Circus.—The grand street pageant of this establishment, which is performing to crowded houses in Allegheny city, will positively take place this morning, and pass through the principal streets of Pittsburgh. It was postponed on Wednesday on account of the rain, and yesterday, owing to the crowded state of the principal thoroughfares. But, it will be out to-morrow with its georgeous array of knights in armor, glittering carriages—in person the Jolly Howe Family, and the live Lion in the streets. It will be a splendid sight, and hundreds will miss it. The Circus Company performs at 2 and 7 p. m., and as the attendance is large, those earliest on the ground will obtain the best seats.

Awful Accident.—Yesterday a veteran soldier, named I. Case, fell from the Levy wagon bearing the Fort Pitt delegation in rear of Reason, at the corner of Fifth and Penn streets. The wheels passed over his body, crushing and injuring him in an [illegible] manner between the joints, and badly bruising his skull. He was conveyed to the office of Dr. McCook, who did all he was power to alleviate the sufferings of the injured man. He was afterwards conveyed to his residence, in the Forks Lafferty's, on Smithfield street. He will hardly recover from his shocking injuries.

Pic-nic.—The Glass Blowers hold a pic-nic to-day at Mehaffey's Grove. A good time may be expected. All are invited to join. The arrangements made are most complete and everything will be done to secure the enjoyment of all who may attend. The Glass Blowers are proverbial for their [illegible] affairs of the kind, and in which there is no perversion. The best of music will [illegible] so that all who may [illegible] a pleasant time. An excellent dinner will be served upon the grounds.

In Luck.—An Irishman named Owen McCann, who has been working as a [illegible] at Mt. Pleasant, Ind., and who left there for Pittsburgh, was agreeably surprised last week by the reception of a letter, properly and [illegible] announcing to him the [illegible] of a fortune of [illegible] dollars, left him by a [illegible] relative, lately deceased in Milwaukee.

Another Accident.—A runaway horse [illegible] up and down Penn street yesterday afternoon, could not ascertain, [illegible] the occasion of the [illegible] A [illegible] child was run over. She was severely [illegible] and badly injured. At the request of Dr. McCook, to whose office she was conveyed, she [illegible] all the attention [illegible] demanded.

Retiring.—A great many were upon the principal streets, was loafing yesterday in the vicinity, and watching [illegible] Shakespeare's [illegible] that he will receive to-morrow. They are soon to act upon magnificent [illegible]

The Washington County Semi-Weekly News, published at Marietta, Ohio, a good medium through which to [illegible] merchants and manufacturers of Pittsburgh to make known their business to the people along the Ohio and Muskingum Rivers.

A Step Son.—Mr. Henry Reis, residing on the corner of Pike street and Pennsylvania avenue, found a little babe deposited on the [illegible] on his door steps, yesterday morning. He took the little waif in, and will kindly care for it.

Serenade.—At an early hour yesterday morning we were complimented by a fine [illegible] serenade from the Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Maryland, Ohio and Rhode Island delegation. We deeply felt the compliment, and Second Ward Boys in Blue.—This [illegible] is requested to meet this (Friday) evening, [illegible] Wilkins Hall. Those who have [illegible] will please [illegible] them in.

Crawford County Fair.—The [illegible] opens this fall of the Crawford County Agricultural Society will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

All Out.—Although yesterday was a regular market day there was not a single [illegible] in the market place. The [illegible] are all out, and were out in the procession.

Pockets Picked.—We read of several persons losing their pocket books, etc., etc., during the passing of the procession on Fifth street.

Special Caution.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has become so [illegible] that [illegible] parties have [illegible] to counterfeit Mrs. Winslow's. Please [illegible] particularly for Mrs. Winslow of the soothing Syrup [illegible] and with any other [illegible]
