

RELIGIOUS PROGRESS.

The Plenary Council of the Roman Catholic Church, recently held in Baltimore, has made very interesting and important suggestions in regard to the education of the young. The council was not only a public, nor indeed was the object of the meeting. We are left to gather from various sources the certain modifications of discipline, certain changes of diocesan boundaries, an increase of the number of Episcopal rulers and other minor matters, the attention of this important body. But, the question of most importance to American citizens is their action, in regard to the education and "evangelization" of the freedmen of the South. Reference has already been made to the national letter of the Bishop of Savannah, indicating the wishes of the Holy Father on the subject.

It is well known that the cause of the Catholic Church, and the education of the freedmen, are in the liberal sense of our Republican institutions inseparable. The education of the freedmen is the duty of the Church. The charge is frequently made, and not without cause, that the Catholics have voted almost solidly against the elevation of the negro, and which, have tended to fasten the negro's chains, instead of emancipating him from the bonds of servitude.

If the Council has decided literally for the education of the freedmen and their "evangelization," this great question assumes an importance that should also awaken the Protestant Church to immediate action. The missionary spirit of the Catholic Church has ever been proverbial. The Jesuits have proved themselves to be among the foremost missionary preachers of the world. They have not only evangelized millions, but have also founded, to fulfill their mission and accomplish their work. The indifference of labor among the blacks, says a well known authority, is due to the fact that millions, or at least thousands of converts, numerated to the loss of the Temporal Power, and the practical political control of the Continent.

It cannot be denied that the emancipation of the blacks is one of the most important of the near future. Politicians may employ whatever means they may, "under the name of coming because this is the Republic of America." If the Catholics were to seize the control of negro votes, the power of the foreign vote to balance between parties, neutralized and elected, the Agents of Emancipation were elected, will be replaced by the ballots of Romanized freedmen.

We are totally in the dark as to what action the Baltimore Council took in regard to the education of the freedmen before the public. The large liberty enjoyed by political representatives from the South, and from foreign countries, such as to determine in any other country, shows a spirit of generous liberality in the enlightened North without a parallel. In view of this, the fact that the various Freedmen's Aid Societies in our Protestant Churches are among the most evangelical of all well as patriotic organizations of the day.

In dismissing this subject, it is proper to note that the various Protestant denominations are rapidly granting the right to enter this field. The various Freedmen's Aid Societies in our Protestant Churches are among the most evangelical of all well as patriotic organizations of the day.

It is not surprising that the various Protestant denominations are rapidly granting the right to enter this field. The various Freedmen's Aid Societies in our Protestant Churches are among the most evangelical of all well as patriotic organizations of the day.
