DEATH OF E. H. IRISH, ESQ. After an illness of nearly a year, this well known and most excellent citizen expired at his home near New Castle, Lawrence county, at the early age of thirty-three years.

In consequence of declining health, Mr. Irish relinquished the practice of law in this city, where all the years of his mature life had been spent, and returned to his farm, where the few remaining months of his beautiful life were passed, and where, under the gentle ministrations of his mother and sisters, he slowly yielded to that fatal disease which has long since been inevitable.

The early life of our friend was spent at New Lisbon, Ohio. He was educated at Washington (Pa.) College; read law with Messrs. SPAFFORD, SWEENEY & Co. of this city, and was admitted to the bar about 1834. In 1838 he was elected a member of the House of Representatives, and in the following year he was chosen as one of the Senators for this county.

Mr. Irish succeeded well as a member of the bar, and retired with a reputation which will long survive him. In his general character he was gentle, quiet, unassuming, kind and benevolent. He represented his constituents with great acceptance, and gained a character for integrity, talents and influence second to none.
