Our friend Holtsheimer, the popular pro-prietor of the Continental Dining Saloon, next door to the Postoffice, on Fifth street, has just received a large lot of the choicest, game and poultry, which will grace his tables to-day. No where else in the city can such a rich and sumptuous meal be obtained at more reasonable prices. A fire department has been fitted up for ladies, and gentlemen at-tending balls and evening parties should bear this first-class saloon in mind, in providing for their partners.

Boots, Shoes and Gatters.

Falmer, Aushutz & Co.'s, of Market street, continue to dispose of their very excellent qualities of boots, shoes and gatters, at remarkably reasonable prices, at this popular shoe house. The firm study to please, and have already succeeded in building up a large addition to the handsome trade left by Robinson & Co. We commend them to the attention and patronage of our readers.
