Haddopp, the Murderer---His Execution---History of the Case.

Jacob Frederick Haddopp, the murderer of Julius Worbeic, was hung at Norristown, Montgomery county, on Wednesday, at about one o'clock in the forenoon. The Philadelphia Press of June 5th, contains the following account of the murder:

The following are the interesting particulars of an atrocious murder, which were made publicly known yesterday afternoon. The accused, it will be seen, is a native of the same section of the world where Auton Probst was born:

During the year 1865 there arrived in the city of Philadelphia a young German, Julius Worbeic, a bookbinder by trade, native of the kingdom of Wurtemburg. Shortly after his arrival here he made the acquaintance of an unknown man, and Julius Worbeic during last winter left his last place of employment in Philadelphia, in company with said unknown man, for parts unknown. A short time afterwards Worbeic's corpse was found at the farm of Dr. Trebman, of Philadelphia, near Gwynned, Montgomery county, Pa. An inquest held at the time by William Forman, Esq., justice of the peace at Montgomery place, clearly established the fact that Julius Worbeic had been murdered at the spot aforesaid, his head having been smashed in, and the corpse having been found in the barn of said farm. It was also proved that Julius Worbeic had been enticed to said place, which at said time was unoccupied by the family, but was left in the care of a man, who at that time gave his name as Jacob or Joseph Haddopp, and who shortly afterwards disappeared.

During April last W. L. Kuderlen, Esq., the consul of the Kingdom of Wurtemburg at Philadelphia, received information from his government that a letter had found its way directed to the relatives and guardian of the said Julius Worbeic, at Rosenfield, the native place of the same, at apparently written by said Julius Worbeic, in which letter the guardian was informed that Julius Worbeic was in great need, and desired to be furnished money, the pretext for which hole forming the family that he at that time residedin Reading, Pa., and requesting that the money might be sent, payable by a letter of exchange, the answer to be directed "Julius Worbeic care of Reading P. O." This letter was at once declared by the authorities at Rosenfield to be a forgery. Upon this information the consul, Mr Kuderlen, sent a decoy letter, directed "Julius Worbeic, care of Reading P. O.," enclosing a draft on foreign parties at the consulate of Wurtemburg at Philadelphia, and requested the recipient of the letter to have his signature acknowledged before a notary public.

On the first of this month the German notary public of Philadelphia, Julius Wolf, Esq., acting representative of the Consulate of Wurtemburg at Philadelphia, received a letter from the President of the First National Bank at Allentown, enclosing the aforesaid decoy letter of exchange, and requesting the consulate to pay said draft, which had been returned and acknowledged by the alleged Julius Worbeic before a notary public at Allentown in the presence of said bank. The President of said bank and the notary at Allentown were of course unaware of the circumstances of this case, and strictly acted in good faith as they believed that said pretended Julius Worbeic to be the identical person entitled to receive said money.

Upon receipt of this letter by Julius Wolf, that gentleman was apprised of the fact that Julius Worbeic was caused forthwith by Wm. Forman, Esq., the justice of the peace before mentioned, to be sent ascertained that the pretended Julius Worbeic was nobody else than the identical Jacob or Joseph Haddopp (with several other aliases), who, as above stated, had been formerly employed at Dr. Tiedeman's farm, and evidently was the murderer of the real Julius Worbeic, whose condition as to the advantages of succeeding him for the purpose of obtaining the proceeds of his wife's (the real Julius Worbeic's) estate in Wurtemburg, which, as officially stated, amounts to several thousand dollars.

Jacob Joseph Haddopp, had a hearing on Thursday last, 5th of June, before Justice Wm. Forman, at Montgomeryville, Montgomery county, and was committed to answer to the charge of the murder of Julius Worbeic, at the next term of the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Montgomery county. The charge of forgery will also, in the meantime, be prosecuted against said Haddopp before the proper authorities in Berks county, Pennsylvania.

The accused is about forty-five years of age, is a native of Suabia, and, therefore, a countryman of Auton Probst.

The same parties which have been used in the execution of all the murderers for the last eighteen years at the Montgomery county Prison, were loaned the sheriff by Mr. Perkins. The scaffold was erected in the prison yard immediately in the rear of and against the prison. It was almost entirely hidden from view, except from an adjoining church, and no persons except those authorized by law were permitted to witness the execution. Sheriff Heysinger attended to the execution in person, and did not hire a person to officiate as executioner in the case. The execution did little remarkable except that the criminal, before the fall of the drop, spoke a speech in german, declaring his innocence in the most solemn manner.

The Petroleum Production.

A correspondent of the Titusville Herald furnishes the following table of the estimated production of the oil regions of Pennsylvania, for one week ending on the 31st of January last:

	Bbls.
From Oil City to Tarr Farm, including Cherry Run	3,250
Tarr Farm	650
Story Farm	1,000
Central Petroleum Company	1,000
Stevenson and Benninghoff	1,500
Near Royal Farm	1,000
Pioneer and Brownsdale	2,000
Bull and Cow Run, etc	500
Pithole and Pleasantville	2,000
Dennis Run and tributaries, Gordon, Dingley, etc	1,500
Allegheny River, including the Foster Farm	700
Hyde and Egbert Farms	1,000
Church Run	700
Total	15,800

These figures are deemed an exaggeration. It is believed the true production does not exceed weekly, much more than one-half or two-thirds of this amount.

Taking Cold.

A thin having seen and the consequence being the person is disposed to feel weak and are careless in their habits, a little advice as to the easiest manner of gratifying such as may be anxious to give the doctors something to do, may not be out of place. At this season persons who are partial to rheumatism, should wear thin boots and be careful to keep them well soaked in some water. A quick fever can be secured by leaving off overcoats. Neuralgia, consumption, agues to all will wait till they become heated, and then stop at the corner of a restaurant and drink ice cold cider. Several good fellows' Cousins are free to all who insist upon throwing open their coats in order to feel the gentle South breeze which prevails. The ladies are not behind experts in this art that we need not offer them any suggestion, but by abandoning their cloaks and rubbers, and trusting to their boots and shawls, they will reach a great diet by a short cut.

United Brethren Conference.

The Pennsylvania Annual Conference of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, convened at West Fairview, PC., on the 30th ultimo, and will be in session of five days. This Church has three conferences in Pennsylvania, the Alleghany, East Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania, numbering about sixty ministers each, with a membership (communicants) of probably fifteen thousand. The entire membership of the Church in the State combined includes several counties, with one hundred and fifty thousand souls, exclusive of children. The missionary and other enterprises of this church are in a flourishing condition, and are very liberally supported by the great wealth of their people. The annual Sabbath-school convention will be held during the session of the Conference, which will consist of delegates from all the Sabbath schools in the bounds of the Conference. Bishop Glossbrenner, of Virginia, presided.

Common Pleas.

VERDICT RENDERED.

In the case of John Colton vs. the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad Company, on trial before Judge Mellon and reported before, the jury on Thursday morning rendered a verdict in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $1,101.

THE THE FLOOR CASE.

John M. Fulton vs. Heron Foster. Action on settlement of rent and advertising account. This case continued on trial before Judge Sterrett during most of Thursday. No verdict at adjournment.

The jurors were relieved from attending till Monday next.

District Court.

Before Hon. H. W. Williams.

STILL ON TRIAL.

The case of Wm. Fisher vs. Gillespie & Mitchell. Action to recover for work done under contract. Continued on trial during Thursday, and was not concluded at adjournment.

An Example.---Thirty years ago Simon Cameron was elected Printer of the State of Pennsylvania. Thirty-five years ago he worked as a compositor on the National Intelligencer at Washington city. When General Cameron was Secretary of War, printers were setting type in the Intelligencer office who had worked at case while General C. was a compositor in the same office. These are lessons of life which the apprentices and journeymen in all trades can study with profit.

Warrants Issued.---Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham, yesterday issued warrants for the arrest of Henry Heilman and Henry Hefferman, charged, on oath of David J. Thomas, night toll keeper at the south end of the Monongahela bridge with crossing the bridge at two o'clock yesterday morning without paying their toll. Five dollars fine is the penalty.

Glass Works.---The Sharon Herald says that about $40,000 have been subscribed for the erection of a glass manufactory in that place. This was raised on the promise of Pittsburghers to invest a like amount.

Oil Shipment.---The shipments over the Oil Creek Railroad for the month ending January 31, reached in round numbers about 58,000 barrels.

Longevity.---Mrs. Elizabeth Lynch, of Kittanning, died last week at the advanced age of one hundred and four years.
