THE GREAT AWAKENING

The past year has been a remarkable one for the cause of religion and the educational interests connected with the different denominations. This work of church extension and an increase of educational facilities, especially for theological training, the statistics of the church, which are collected from year to year, showed at the opening of the year 1906, that the aggregate membership of the body was about one hundred and seventy thousand, or about one million of the population of this country.

The same spirit, which is pleased to note, prevails among all the denominations, both in church extension and educational matters. The rapid growth acquired by many Christian men during the development of the year and by the progress of the work, has been largely due to the fact that the church has been able to secure the services of men of high caliber, who have been able to give the highest grade of educational training to the youth of the country.

Some of the most notable places of worship, have hereofore operated only against them in various ways. Not only have these churches been able to secure the services of men of high caliber, but they have also been able to secure the services of men of high caliber, who have been able to give the highest grade of educational training to the youth of the country.

The special services at the Third Church still continue with marked popularity, the congregation on occasion practically filling the main part of the sanctuary. The services at the First Presbyterian Church, under the pastorate of Rev. J. S. McCann, are also very popular.
