UNION REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

FOR JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT:

HENRY WARREN WILLIAMS,

Of Allegheny County.

SENATE:
RUSSELL ERRETT, of Robinson Tp.

ASSEMBLY:
GEORGE WILSON, Oakland.
WILLIAM R. PURD, City.
ALEXANDER McLEAR, McKeesport.
AUGUSTUS BECKERT, Reserve Tp.
GEORGE M'FREDDIN, Allegheny.
DAVID L. BRIER, Allegheny.

PROTHONOTARY:
JACOB H. WALTER, City.

TREASURER:
Maj. J. F. DENNISTON, Liberty Tp.

COMMISSIONER:
R. PILLOW, Tarentum.

CORONER:
WILLIAM CLAWSON, City.

POOR DIRECTOR:
H. M. DAVIS, Sewickley.

JURY COMMISSIONER:
CHARLES PUGH, Manchester.

REPUBLICANS OF ALLEGHENY! We have a firm faith that in the great struggle that takes place to-day you will do your whole duty. Upon the result hang suspended the vital interests of the whole people in all sections of the republic. We have to meet not only our old opponents, but all the auxiliary forces a recreant President can secure by bartering the offices within his gift. If we do our whole duty we shall crush, in igtominious defeat, the factions arrayed against us; but if we neglect that duty the consequences will be most deplorable.

The movements of our opponents throughout the canvass have been comparatively secret. Three years in succession they made vigorous and open canvasses, each time counting on a success, but ending in unexpected disaster. This year they changed their tactics, hoping by appearing to be inactive to throw us off our guard, and win an easy triumph. By this time they doubtless suspect that plan has proved a failure. In a quiet way they have been uncommonly vigilant; but the uprising of the republicans during the last month has satisfied them that their game was understood and measures taken to circumvent it.

Remember those words of Gen. LEE, "The northern elections have gone against us, and we must surrender." The rebellion was beaten as effectually by the ballot as by the bayonet. An other crisis is now upon the country. Let us beat them at the elections to be held to-day, and all the rest will be easy.

WILLIAMS OR SHARSWOOD.

To-day the voters of this State will be called on to decide whether Judge WILLIAMS or Judge SHARSWOOD shall be transferred from his present position to the Supreme Bench. In many respects this is an important question. Without entering into any details in this article we do not admit that the latter is as good as the former for that exalted position. We entertain this opinion, and we can demonstrate it closely without impugning either the moral character or intellectual ability of Judge SHARSWOOD. But inasmuch as we have a different purpose in view at present, we will not touch that consideration. Our object is to show that the coming election is one of great importance and significance.

It is important in so far as it will exert an influence on the elections in the States that will vote in November. If Pennsylvania shall elect Judge SHARSWOOD, who is the candidate of the party with whom President JOHNSON acts, the result would be claimed and heralded abroad as a change of views in the popular mind, brought about by the action of Congress on the reconstruction question. Although that is not at issue, still the public is so much engrossed with it, that it is difficult to separate it from any political campaign this fall. The Copperheads would never cease to claim it as a triumph on that very issue. The South would be told that they should be of good cheer; that a change of sentiment was going on in the North. The influence of Pennsylvania would be magnified ten times beyond what it really is, although it is very great.

The defeat of Judge WILLIAMS, the candidate of the loyal Union party, would cause such joy and rejoicing in rebeldom as has not been known there since the day that Sumter was fired on. It would be proclaimed as a defeat of the sentiments of the Republican members of Congress. It would be claimed by every copperhead she.t in the country, and would be printed in large letters as a rebuke to THADDEUS STEVENS. It would cause hope and joy to spring up in every rebel and disloyal bosom, and ANDREW JOHNSON would have the vanity to claim it as an endorsement of his infamous and disorganizing course. The loyal people of the State cannot afford to permit such an event to happen at this time. The strain and pressure upon the strength of our institutions are too great just now to have any such result recorded. Our peace, prosperity and progress depends much on the elections this fall.

Our Republican friends must not be led captive by the syren song that Judge SHARSWOOD is an able and distinguished jurist, a truly honest and conscientious gentleman and an irreproachable Christian. These things may all be so, and yet we maintain that every loyal, Union loving voter in Pennsylvania is in conscience and honor bound to vote against him. During the war there were but two parties in our country. One of these was for putting down the rebellion and the rebels and for preserving the Union. It was determined that this Union should not be broken into fragments by a set of lawless rebels, who desired to accomplish that purpose, because they saw that power was departing from their hands. The other embraced all the rebels in the South and their sympathizers in the North. It included, also, all those who voted for General MCCLELLAN, on the platform which declared that the war for the Union was a failure. These were the two parties. If any thoroughly loyal Union man belonged to the latter, they were in honor, conscience and morality bound to come out of it and give their influence to their country. If their political affections, however, outweighed their moral heroism, and they preferred bad or doubtful company to that which was above suspicion on the subject of secession, let them bear the consequences. Where was Judge SHARSWOOD in his political alliance during the four eventful years that the nation was in a death struggle for existence? Where was he in the election campaign when General MCCLELLAN was before the people as the candidate of the party that resolved the war was a failure? Where was he when Judge WOODWARD was a candidate for Governor? Because he chose to be in bad company, company that denounced the men who carried on the war, and that has never yet uttered one word of censure against the rebels for their attempt to destroy the Union, he should be rebuked.

The issue in Pennsylvania is not simply the success of either one of the candidates before the people. The question is really is the upholding either of Congress or Mr. JOHNSON in the work of bringing back the insurgent States. It is in vain to say, that the rebellion is crushed, and that the question of reconstruction is not before us. Every intelligent person knows that the spirit of the rebellion is not laid aside, and that the only hope Northern Copperheads have to get into office is dependent on the aid of the Southern rebels. If Judge SHARSWOOD does not approve the doctrines and sentiments of the rebels and their friends, if he is thoroughly devoted to the sentiments of the loyal people of the Union, who suppressed the rebellion, let him come out from his present supporters. So long as he is heart and hand with them, so long as he adopts the sentiments of the resolutions put forth by that party, so long must he be held as part and parcel of the same. His purity of private character, his special fitness, as it is claimed, can be no passport to success under such circumstances. The loyal people cannot afford to temporize or parley with the spirit of rebellion at this time. We cannot countenance any movement that looks toward upholding the leaders in their infamous work of attempting to destroy this Union! The success of SHARSWOOD would be construed in that way. There is a principle at stake in this election that the loyal people cannot permit to be ignored. Every thing that can be construed into giving aid and comfort to the rebels and spirit of disunion should be frowned down by the loyal Union friends of the nation. For this purpose we call on the friends of Judge WILLIAMS to gird on their armor and make the election a grand triumph and success. In him we have the honest, able, Christian and loyal judge, statesman, scholar, gentleman and citizen.

GOING BACKWARD.

In this age of progress it is not strange to hear men sigh for "the good old times," but it is noteworthy to see the representatives of a great party gravely propose to go backward, as the test and only change which can benefit the masses. Yet such is the position taken by Mr. COX, in a speech at Columbus, which is published in the World, as an exponent of the party. Says Mr. COX:

"Grind this rule into the marrow of your brain. Every change except a change by repeal is, for the industrial classes, a change for the worse."

The speaker no doubt means the repeal of all laws to put down the Rebellion, but overshoots the mark. Suppose we repeal the law against imprisonment for debt, the ten hour law, all homestead laws, the laws which prevent a landlord selling the last bed of the tenant, &c., &c., &c., how would the industrial classes be benefited by repealing these laws, or any one of a hundred of the laws on our statute books? If the industrial classes are to be benefited only by the repeal of laws, industry must have been blessed in those countries and times when Might made Right, and the armed knight, with his train, took what he required, without asking leave of the industrial classes, who raised and manufactured the necessaries and comforts of life.

EQUALITY.

The Democracy are much shocked at the thought of negro equality; but rebel equality is now the corner stone of their policy, as slavery was in the days of yore. The World is greatly gratified by the exploit of a woman who called on General SHERIDAN, and said, "I am a Southern woman. I respect any man that served with your army. I respect any man that served with our army. Now it is time for us both to shake hands." While there was a hope of success the Democracy and Southern woman reserved all their respect for those "that served in our army." Now they consent to divide, equally, with those who "served in your army." Since they have failed to gain exclusive rule they accept an equal share in the Government which lives not by their suffrance, but in their despite. Did ever before, in the history of the world, a set of conquered traitors dare thus to offer amnesty and friendship, and the hand of fellowship, to the conquerer? Did ever before defeated Treason claim equality with triumphant Loyalty? What loyal man would not rather welcome the loyal negro than the disloyal white, as a friend and brother?

COL. MESSMORE refused to resign his place as Special Agent for the Treasury Department and objected to being removed before he had been tried and convicted of fraud. This is the position taken by President JOHNSON. He refuses to be suspended before he is convicted. In ordinary cases a man is held innocent until he is proved guilty; but when a man holds such position that the exercise of the functions of his office even for an hour may work incalculable mischief and thwart the ends of justice, common sense dictates that he should be restrained from exercising those functions while on trial. It is not customary to permit any public officer to use the influence conferred by it after his indictment for fraud. If a tax-gatherer, or any other public officer, indicted for embezzlement of the public funds, were permitted to go out and receive the public moneys until convicted of the crime, he would have large opportunities of increasing his gains if dishonest; would be in a very unpleasant position if he were an honest man. Self-respect would induce most men to abstain from exercising the powers of their office while on trial for malfeasance, and if it failed the public safety would require his suspension.

IF YOU WANT to uphold the President in his bold and unlawful usurpations, vote for Sharswood.

If you want to stigmatize the majority in Congress for defending the integrity of the Union and the right of the loyal people, vote for Sharswood.

If you want to break down the republican organization, and thereby give the power into the hands of the rebels and their sympathizers, vote for Sharswood.

If you want to reduce the value of your government bonds, vote for Sharswood.

If you want to see the national debt repudiated, vote for Sharswood.

If you want to be taxed to indemnify the rebels for the loss of their Slaves, made free by the Emancipation Acts, vote for Sharswood.

If you want another civil war inaugurated, millions of dollars squandered, and tens of thousands of lives sacrificed, vote for Sharswood.

In short, if you want to destroy the Government—impair the national credit—restore unrepentant rebels to power—re-enslave the freedmen—degrade the poor white man—and introduce a reign of terror and bloodshed and anarchy, vote for Sharswood.

THE Post is shocked because the negroes of St. Domingo exclude white men from holding office, and urges white men of this country to retaliate by excluding blacks. Does the Post mean to teach us to immitate the negroes? It is greatly exercised at the thought of negro equality and flies to negro superiority for refuge. If the negro is to set us an example in the fundamental principles of government he must be our superior; but if he has imitated us in proscribing men on account of color, and this proscription is wrong, as the Post teaches, is it not time we set him an example of a more enlightened policy? Republicans claim that the white race are inventors, originators, the black acceptors, imitators. They have accepted, imitated our proscription. Let us give them broader ideas to copy. The Democracy teach that we should be imitators of the negro, acceptors of his laws and customs. We reject this Democratic claim of superiority for the black race, and insist on Anglo Saxons keeping the van in the march of civilization by teaching all other races broader and juster views of government than any that has ever yet dawned upon the vision of the world.

REPUBLICANS, devote this day to getting out a full vote. Our only danger is in failing to get our men to the polls. Indifference is crime, when the future peace of the country depends on action.

A Word from an Honorably Discharged Union Soldier to his Comrades.

COMRADES:—Do you believe, with me, that in the late war we were fighting for the Union, against its enemies? Do you believe with me, that, under God, the very existence of our country as a Great, Free, Independent Nation, depended on its Army and Navy, of which we were a part? Do you believe, with me, that, in the fields there were—but few Armies, the one for the other against, our country? Do you believe, with me, that those who refused to sustain unconditionally the United States Government at home while we fought unconditionally for it in the field, were Traitors? Do you believe, with me, that no true man could, during such a War, be lukewarm and indifferent as to the result? Do you believe, with me, that no man could be our friend who was not unflinchingly a friend of our country?

If you do thus believe, examine well the record of, the Republican party, and then study the record of the Democratic party. Both are open for your scrutiny. The Democrats love us now, but did they respect us when they called us Lincoln's hirelings? They are anxious for us to vote their ticket now, but did they not try to withhold from us the dearest of our rights while we were in the field?

The Republican party show a good record. It has ever been true to our beloved country, and could not be false to us, in the field or at home. Examine its record—it will bear the closest scrutiny.

The war is over, no thanks to the Copperheads; but peace has not yet brought perfect safety. With a traitor in the Presidential chair, there is peril yet, great peril, for our country in the future. Let us, then, forget self again; let us rally to the defence of our country once more. We have conquered armed treason. Let us now annihilate the treason that is too cowardly to fight, though cunning to plot against the country. Let no side issues divert us, but let our ballots, like our bullets, go to the heart. Treason is scorched, not killed.

Rally once more for the Union, our battle cry "Death to treason wherever it lurks, and whatever form it assumes."

INVISIBLE POISONS.

The Medicis and the Borgias fortified their systems with powerful antidotes against the subtle poisons with which they were dosing their enemies, and which they found might one day be employed against themselves. There are fantastic poisons, almost as deadly, against which new or unthat of taking any precautions. These times are in the air. When the atmosphere is surcharged with them, as it sometimes is at this season, epidemic fevers ensue. The summer which has just ever has been of unusual remarkable one. The amount of rain that has fallen has been enormous, and the exhalations from the soil have been, in consequence, almost beyond example. These exhalations clear ies a powerful influence on the blood, nerves, and predispose the system to disease, by depressing the vital energies, and producing debility, lassitude and depression. These symptoms are the forerunners of fever and ague, bilious remittents and—before they have time to consolidate their hideous features—the chill. The most effectual preventive antidote to malaria, then the vegetable, invigorating, regenerative and tonic HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which is also a specific for dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, rheumatism, kidney complaint, and nervousness. Sold by all druggists and dealers generally. Beware of counterfeits! Examine the private label, and see that the signature of HOSTETTER & SMITH is on the steel plate over the cork of every bottle. Also, beware of the use of the word HOSTETTER'S in connection with any other Bitters, as we have registered against all such infringement and remedies forever.

BLIND EYES RESTORED.

The case to which we allude of some weeks ago, of Christian Fisher, of Sewickley, who was entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on Dr. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his skill and success in restoring her TO ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for 18 months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like hers are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DOCTOR KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, eight hopes were entertained of her ever seeing her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the facts above stated.

OFFICE OF THE ARROW IRON CO.,
ALLEGHENY CITY, PA.,
Mr. Robt. C. Totten—Pittsburgh, Pa.—Dear Sir: We have had a pair of your Patent grooved chill rolls in our use for the last six months, and find them as a superior quality. They finished on the bar iron much even, work, and free from cinder, and I consider them in the end of great advantage, making better iron and of less expense, in consequence of requiring less dressing.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 16, 1867.
Mr. Robt. C. Totten, Pittsburgh—Dear Sir:—In reply to your enquiry in relation to your new patent grooved Chill Rolls. We beg to say that during about a month—viz: from the time we received the rolls from you until we put them in use, we have had them under the test of the ordinary grooved Rolls, and we are in receipt of your Rolls made in the same manner, and we are safe in saying that we have no hesitancy in saying that the latter are superior to the former in every respect. They are more durable, and will do more work than the ordinary grooved Rolls. We believe they have gained a point in obtaining a grooved Roll, and we admire the manner in which they are made and by the manipulation of which we produce an article of iron which we can recommend to the trade.
Yours truly,
LAWRENCE BROTHER & CO.

We claim that we are warranted in saying that we have more than doubled the value of Soft Rolls, especially for rounds and squares.
