Our object is to present our paper in such style as may prove creditable to our great and growing city abroad, and at the same time to reader it attractive at home. Our extrest efforts to furnish such a found The New York Herald takes the prop-er view of the recent, elections when it says that "they do not denote Democrat-ies, but that the Republican ele-ment of the country has stepped aside to rebuke its leaders." So say we. The masses have grown tired of the inert policy of those who are by circumstan-oss placed in position as the pioneers of the party. They hold to the party with tenacity creditable to their patience, and tenacity creditable to their patience, and were loth to sever their connection. With it till the lest vestige of hope, for the accomplishment of any vigorous action was gone. But the party leaders will awake to a consciouaness of their short-comings, and 'ere many months roll away the Republicans will be cemented together in the one common hand which united them while battling for the perpetuation of our Union. Providence has been kind, showing the party their weakness before the great battle for the Presidency, and let us improve by the lesson wouchsafed, the nation.
