United States District Court.

The October term of the United States District Court, for the Western District of Pennsylvania, commenced yesterday, Judge McCandless on the bench.

The names of the Grand and Traverse Jurors were called, but as a quorum of the former did not answer, the charge of the Court was not delivered.

The list of cases were called over, after which Court adjourned until this morning.

There are forty-seven cases on the trial docket, of which twenty-two are criminal, being bankruptcy cases, twelve proceedings in rem, and four proceedings for forfeiture, or ad personem. Besides these cases there will be a number of indictments found during the sitting of the Grand Jury.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

MONDAY, October 21.—No cases taken up. Following is the trial list for this day:

11. James Rees vs. James Morrow.
12. D. Fawcett & Co. vs. J.K. Lanahan.
16. Kennedy & Wilson vs. Bigley.
18. John Gill vs. John McClintock.
20. A. D. Miller vs. Jas. Simpson.
22. Kennedy & Bro. vs. German Gross Co.
27. John Thompson vs. Wm. Murdock, et. al.
29. Cyrus Miller vs. Fuller & Eastman.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

This Court met at the usual hour Monday morning. The following cases were disposed of:

EXTORTION BY AN ALDERMAN.

Edward Lynch, Alderman and ex-officio Justice of the Peace in the Fifth ward, was arraigned upon an indictment charging him with extorting money under color of his office. Mrs. Catharine Carter, of South Pittsburgh, was the prosecutrix. It appeared that in June last she called on the Alderman to complain against certain parties for false imprisonment; that she gave him ten dollars, for which he said he would "put them through;" that nothing was done until in August, after some four weeks had elapsed, when an information was believed to have been employed by the Alderman, drew up an affidavit with a view, as it seemed, of going on with the case; but at this point the old lady, Mrs. Carter, became angry, thinking she was being imposed upon, and made complaint against the Alderman for extortion. The jury were asked to say whether, under the evidence, they believed the defendant received the money, as a magistrate, and led the prosecutrix to believe that he would, in his official language, as alleged, "put the parties through." If he did, the Court said, it was an improper act, in violation of the law, and he should be convicted. The jury found a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.

CROSS ASSAULT AND BATTERIES.

Commonwealth vs. John Stemler and Patrick Duffy and Commonwealth vs. Jas. Lang. Trespass for assault and battery and battery. The difficulty transpired in South Pittsburgh, and the cases were of a trifling character. Prosecutors and defendants are constables, and it appeared Lang was taken into custody for alleged improper conduct at a ball. The jury found the officers guilty and acquitted Lang.

LARCENY.

Herman Goldstein was placed on trial on a charge of larceny; prefered by L. Schnitzer. On trial at adjournment.

Common Pleas—Judge Mellon.

MONDAY, Oct. 21.—The case of George Lyals et. al. vs. W. H. Brown, taken up on Friday last, was resumed, and went to the jury. No verdict at adjournment.

Following is the trial list for this day:

25. (Feb.) Chambers vs. Robinson.
72. (April) National Refining and Storing Co. vs. Heidrick.
12. (May.) Baldwin vs. Henderson.
25. (May.) Duquesne Coal Co. vs. Pumphrey & Kidd.
28. (May.) Lamb vs. Ballou.
34. (May.) Schlandorf vs. Musgrave.
40. (May.) Wilson vs. Poor et. al.
42. (May.) Gillespie vs. Lloyd.
47. (May.) Oblinger and Wirth vs. Bauer.
54. (May.) Coleman vs. McGown's executors.

Appointed Counsel.

Judge Stowe, of the Criminal Court, yesterday appointed Wm. T. Haines, Esq., (until recently a resident of Chester county,) counsel for Blazius Rendel, under indictment for murder, in having fatally stabbed Louis Hetzel, in Allegheny on the 8th of August last. The case will be taken up on Monday next, and the accused had represented that he was unable to employ counsel. Mr. Haines is a lawyer of considerable experience, and during the short time he has been practicing at the Pittsburgh bar has given evidence, to say the least, of a high order of talent. He is a forcible speaker, and never fails in making a favorable impression on court and jury in the trial of causes. His selection in the case alluded to is but a just recognition by the Court of his qualifications.

Hearing of the conviction of Alderman Lynch of extortion, the question came up, in conversation between attorneys in court, whether part of the sentence in his case would not be to deprive him of his office. The law was referred to, and a decision given that the Alderman forfeited his commission notwithstanding his conviction, and that in case of being sentenced to imprisonment, he could, if he would see fit, open an office in the county jail, and by requiring that Aldermen should open offices in the wards for which they were elected and in which they resided. Alderman Lynch resides in the Third ward, and the county jail is within its boundaries.

Some of our Aldermen, had they been in Court yesterday, during the trial of Alderman Lynch for extortion, might have profited thereby. They might, too, have felt elevated in their own estimation at the remark of Judge Stowe, that they were supposed to be learned in the law, but their feelings would have been the reverse, when His Honor added, that unfortunately their legal knowledge, in some instances, was entirely too limited, greatly to the detriment of the more ignorant portion of the community.

Lawyers, as well as other people, some times say things they should not, and we heard with pleasure the mild but severe rebuke of one of the profession, in the Criminal Court yesterday, for making an improper remark concerning a witness. The rebuke was the more deserved as it was a repetition of the indiscretion.

Cherry Mooney, committed to jail by Justice Mitchell, of Lawrenceville, on the 14th instant, for false pretense, was discharged yesterday by Judge Stowe, on the ground that the commitment did not show that any information had been made against him.

Amusements.

NEW OPERA HOUSE.—Second night of the engagement of Mr. S. P. Chanfrau and C. T. Parsloe, Jr. To-night the original comedy of "Sam" in five acts.

VARIETIES THEATRE.—A great bill for to-night. The lady athlete, Miss Swift, the empress of vocalists, Miss Forrest, Chirikal, the great wire performer, and a host of other talented performers.

ST. BRIDGET'S FAIR.—The opening of the Fair in the Church building, Seventh ward, was very auspicious last night. The attractions are great. The Fair will continue all week.

DAN RICE, with his great circus, is coming on his farewell visit.

THE MISSES MCCAFFERY, of Philadelphia, announce a grand concert at the Academy of Music, next week.

Inquest.—An inquest was held last night on the body of John Lanahan, whose death is elsewhere recorded, by Alderman Guyan M. Irwin. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, fully exonerating the employees of the Panhandle road from all blame.

The Pittsburgh Soldiers' Home.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—The communication signed "L," which appeared in your issue of the 19th inst., says "a late soldier's" remarks upon the Soldiers' Home, were calculated to create a prejudice against the Home." Mr. "L." entertains a false idea of my sentiments. I consider the Soldiers' Home in this country one of the noblest institutions that ever sprang out of the hearts of the people. But the purposes for which some of them have been established seems not to be carried out, since a great majority of our crippled soldiers are wandering about without shelter, or without that comfort which their exceptional position claims so imperiously. The explanations given by Mr. L. will not satisfy the public, notwithstanding all the trouble published, if the man, who has a right to be cared for in a public institution, is kept away under a trifling pretext. I admit with Mr. L. that drunkenness ought not to be tolerated. But how can it be otherwise? You have under your charge a number of men still full of life; intermingled and having been deprived of their limbs, they have not the power to occupy their leisure in useful works; their education has been neglected, and they have therefore no taste for reading; wearying of their monotonous life, one of the results of idleness follows: they seek variety in the brutal amusement of depraved souls.

Whose fault is it? It is a subject worthy of consideration, and the Superintendent and the whole Board should give it their most serious attention. To expel a man from the Home because he has been occasionally drunk, is not the true remedy to put a stop to that licentious habit. On the contrary, left to himself, abandoned without hope, and being incapable of earning an honorable subsistence, the maimed soldier falls to a condition lower than the brute, becomes a vagrant, and finds lodging in the jail.

I need not dwell longer upon the consequences of such misfortune. Everybody should be aware that the Soldiers' Home is not a relief for a crippled man, unless he be perfect and without reproach. But where is that reproach? Who will not fail occasionally in some particulars? In this state of things, I may ask, of what use is that institution, and what will become of it?

A LATE SOLDIER.

A Broomstick Battle.

Yesterday Alderman Strain, of the Tenth ward, had before him the female members of a large family of the Seventh ward, who had indulged in an old fashioned broom stick battle. They, in common with the prosecutors in the case, used a bake oven, and the great privilege of baking first on Friday last was made a matter of contest. While the oven was being heated, the quarrel waxed warm, and resulted in a final appeal to broomsticks and dishcloths. A battle was fought on a miniature scale, and the party coming out second best preferred the charge as stated. The parties on Friday last, for a further bout, and as Friday is an unlucky day to bake, especially if you own but half the oven.

The Cost of Folly.

A man named McSwiggen was foolish enough to get drunk yesterday, and to make threats against the life of John Jones. The latter having due desire to prevent the execution of the threats, repaired to the office of Justice Heisel, in East Birmingham, and had a warrant issued for McSwiggen's arrest. The latter stormed and scolded on being brought before the Justice, to such an extent as to have increased himself a fine of ten dollars for his folly. He was likewise held to appear at Court to enter into bonds to keep the peace. McSwiggen is not an Italian, as the name seems to indicate.

A Gallant Husband.

Perhaps some wives occasionally deserve a scolding, but they never should be abused. Mrs. Nancy Hamilton, yesterday, appeared before Alderman McMasters and asked that her husband be held to keep the peace towards her. It appears, from her allegation, that he has been in the habit of abusing her, and that to escape her punishments, she left his bed and board and took up her residence at the house of a friend. Matters at this was not entirely satisfied with the disposition, however, and threatened her dire vengeance, and, as the winter approaches, the demand for fresh pork improves, while that for Mutton falls off, which is generally the case at this season of the year. We quote the following sales:

Wm. Humes sold 20 head of Beaver county Sheep and Lambs, at an average of 6½ per head. Martin Hunsicker had a lot of which he sold 20 at from 6½ to 6¾ per head.

Shaw is reported as having sold a small drove of Mercer Co. Sheep at $1.10 per head.

Foster & Vogle sold 40 head to Mercer Co. Lambs at 6½ per head.

W. M. Fowler had 180 head of Ohio Sheep, at which he reports having sold 140 head at 6¾ per head for Lambs, and 40 at 6 per head for Sheep.

J. Waiters sold one head out of 110 of Mercer Co. Sheep at 6¾ to 6¾. Eckert sold 60 head to Deitrich at 6¾ per cwt.

Adam Eckert reported having sold 76 head of Sheep at 6¾ to 6¾ per head, and 40 Lambs at 6¾ to 6¾.

Wm. Young wholesaled 120 head of very common Butter Co. Sheep, to Young, (butcher), at $1.62 per head.

Hinds sold 60 head to Deitrich at 6½ per head. Mr. Moore sold 37 head of Sheep at 6¾ per pound.

Hogs.

The market for Hogs was also a little dull to-day, which is in consequence of the continued warm weather, and, compared with last week, prices are a shade lower. The difference, however, is very slight, and we give 6¾ to 6¾ as the extremes of the market, for inferior to prime heavy averages.

Kunkle & Co. report having retailed about 150 at 6¾ to 8, and Hothchilds & Byers sold a small lot at 7 to 7¾.

D. Kennedy & Bro. sold to Stalsky & Bro. at 7½. E. Stacey sold 13 head to Eberfeld & Co. at 8. John Kennedy reports 25 Butler Co. Hogs at 8¼ to 8¾.

Seymour sold 81 head, averaging about 200, to Eberfeld & Co. at 7¾. W. Moore sold 43 head to same buyers, at 8.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, } MONDAY, October 21, 1867. }

Gold remains firm to-day at about 144, though there is a disposition to advance the rate, yet the high quotations for United States bonds in Frankfort and London, and the large amounts of exchange offering at low rates, keep down the premium. Speculators are afraid at present to take hold at high rates, since the Government will disburse about twenty-six millions of interest on and after November 1st.

Government bonds remain dull and weak quotations remain almost unchanged. The market is kept up by a few speculators who are also dealers in them at retail. So long as call loans on Governments commanded but 6 per cent. premium, it was easy to carry bonds, but at present the carrying rates exceed the interest earned on the bonds, and so dealing is confined to actual investment demand.

Orders from the Eastern capitals and functionaries are rapid; there is evidently a desire by large holders of stocks at high prices to unload, and at present prices the purchases of the cliques keep up quotations. The mining shares are lower and dull, more for want of funds to operate than any unfavorable reports from the mining regions.

Closing New York quotations received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 144; 1881's, 111¼; 5-20s, 1862, 111¾; 1864, 108¼; 1865, 107¾; Ten-40's, 106½; 10-40's, 106½; 7-30s, 104¾.

—The financial feature claiming most attention at present is the large surplus of foreign capital which is seeking temporary employment in this country, at New York particularly. To the rumors of the probability of French intervention in favor of the Papal government, and the fall of securities at the London stock exchange, is mainly ascribed the advance, also, of 1,500 bales low middling at 34c; probable that the disturbed state of monetary confidence in England will probably tend to increase the amount of capital seeking employment on this side.

—The New York Post announces that currency is returning from the west, but says that all of it must soon be required by the South. The Post says "the more welcome the financial men deduce the conclusion that while there cannot be any severe monetary stringency developed for the present, except by some Treasury disturbance of the currency, which is not at all likely to occur, still the prospect of such monetary ease and plethora as would set a very early day for resumption of specie payments to seven per cent. is rather decisive than trustworthy."

—Gallatin's theory is reported to be selling gold, but the supply for delivery is small, and as much as ¼ has been paid for borrowing in New York.

The discussion now going on, regarding the liability of the Government and the dealers in United States securities, to accept bonds at the "irregular" Seven Thirties, recalls to mind the questions which have been raised between bank and bank, and banks and individuals, regarding the responsibility for forged endorsements. We believe it is now well settled, that in case of a payment of a check with forged or irregular endorsements, redress can be had to the last endorser, though not without regard to the laps of time. Cases have taken the ground that claims of this character are of short life as against the party commanding demand for money due, and that only the general laws of equity apply to them. In the case of our Boston banks, not long since, had a claim of this character, of ten years standing, presented. By strict construction no notice was taken of it. The brokers "interested" in the Pierced Seven Thirties has taken the position that their liability ended when the Treasury passed their name, and they have stated their determination to fight out on that line. Several well known Stock Exchange firms here are somewhat connected with this break in the conservatory movement, and they have but Canada West at 1,658@1.51. Barley mait is dull and nominal.
