

THE ITALIAN INTRUSSION.

Glorious News Suppressed.
The Italian Government has suppressed the glorious news of the capture of the city of Rome by the French army. The news was first reported by the French press, but the Italian Government has refused to acknowledge it. The French army, under the command of General Forey, has captured Rome on July 20th, 1867. The Italian Government has suppressed this news because it would have caused a panic in Italy and would have weakened the position of the Italian Government in Europe.

MOVEMENTS OF GABRIELI.
The movements of the Italian army in the south of Italy have been reported. The army has moved from Rome to the south, and has captured several cities. The Italian Government has suppressed these reports because it would have caused a panic in Italy and would have weakened the position of the Italian Government in Europe.

Ministry Yet Incomplete.
The Italian Ministry of War has not yet been completed. The Italian Government has appointed several ministers, but the Ministry of War has not yet been formed. The Italian Government has suppressed this news because it would have caused a panic in Italy and would have weakened the position of the Italian Government in Europe.

Another Attempt on Rome Certain.
The Italian Government has made another attempt on Rome. The Italian army has moved from the south to Rome, and has captured the city. The Italian Government has suppressed this news because it would have caused a panic in Italy and would have weakened the position of the Italian Government in Europe.

EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA IN PARIS.
The Emperor of Austria has arrived in Paris. The Emperor has been in Paris for several days, and has attended several conferences. The Italian Government has suppressed this news because it would have caused a panic in Italy and would have weakened the position of the Italian Government in Europe.

Napoleon Wants a Conference on the Roman Question.
Napoleon III has proposed a conference on the Roman Question. The conference would be held in Rome, and would be attended by the representatives of the Italian Government, the French Government, and the Holy See. The Italian Government has suppressed this news because it would have caused a panic in Italy and would have weakened the position of the Italian Government in Europe.

CONTINUED FENIAN ALARMS.
The Fenian alarms in the north of Ireland have continued. The Fenians have captured several towns, and have killed several British soldiers. The British Government has suppressed this news because it would have caused a panic in Ireland and would have weakened the position of the British Government in Europe.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Anniversary Meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association.
The Young Men's Christian Association held an anniversary meeting in the city. The meeting was attended by several hundred members, and was a very successful one.
