GLEANINGS.

It is said that Matthew Arnold will be the next Laureate.

The American press has yards of talk about pedestrian feats.

Gottschalks' sisters are giving successful concerts in England.

Alboni's voice is said to be as good as ever in every particular.

The Age is the name of a monthly magazine published in Chicago.

Nathaniel H. Rochester, of the city of Rochester, died on Monday last.

Seventy-five thousand dollar cathedrals is to be built in Bloomington, Ill.

The Hudson River and New York Central Railroads are to be combined.

A vein of superior gypsum has just been discovered near Christiansburg, Va.

The negroes of St. Louis have started a new fortnightly paper, called the New Era.

Prime, the Orientalist, is about to give another prime book of travels to the world.

Fifty thousand people in Aleppo, Syria, have been rendered homeless by fire recently.

The diocese of New York has raised the salary of Bishop Potter from $6,000 per annum to $8,000.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says the language of the soils is the creaking of boots.

The Queen of Spain has abolished Royal Bull Fights. The Pope's bull-fighting will continue.

A London paper says that Victor Emanuel is Pontius Pilate II. A poor Pilot to weather the storm.

Haunted houses and ghosts are again becoming fashionable; a new one has been found in Marshall county, Ill.

They run street cars in Louisville without conductors, and call it a new plan. We tried that here long ago.

A man fell dead on the street in St. Louis on Wednesday night, and the physicians say it was cholera that killed him.

The bridge over the Mississippi at Quincy, will cost a million and a half, and will not be ready for use until next August.

At Dixon, Illinois, recently, a box was found with the body of a man, with the head and feet chopped off and packed in with it.

O'Baldwin, the Irish giant, wishes to fight in America. He has challenged Jim Mace and Mike McCool to fight for $5,000 a side.

There is a man in Ohio who was discharged from the military service in 1815 on the ground of old age, and is still alive aged 108.

An exchange says that A. J.'s version of Gen. Dix's famous order is "If any man hauls down the American flag give him a postoffice."

Pitz Hugh Ludlow, the author of that famous "Little Brother," is writing another novel; he is probably the best magazine writer we have in this country.

Gen. M'Clellan has left Dresden for New York. He got as far as Paris, where he will remain during the winter. A part of the family arrived in the Scotia.

Gail Hamilton is as usual on the other side from the other muscular-minded females. They stick up for woman's rights; she is about to publish a book called woman's wrongs.

During a recent kangaroo hunt in Australia $5,000 of the springy creatures were up hopping. Such wholesale destruction as that will be likely to produce kangaroots.—Pike County Bulletin.

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin assumes the responsibility of the following statement: "Suicide by charcoal is going out of fashion in Paris. They now have other methods as-fix-yer just as sure."

An Inspector gave chase to a smuggling boat off North Carolina, and in the hurry of its owners to get out of the way, they capsized their boat, and, with a small cargo of choice Havanas, went down to the bottom and staid there.

Kingsake's invasion of the Crimea, which was discontinued on account of the author's fear of the popular judgment, because he praised the French, is at length to be completed; it is one of the most entertaining of histories, and the account of Napoleon III. coup d'etat is thrilling.

Bismarck says it at Russia will one day be the greatest and most formidable power in Europe. This shows that Bismarck does not expect Russia to hold her present position long; for if it were not for Prussia, Russia could overrun Europe and avenge even the death of Torsan.

Pike, noted for his late opera house in Cincinnati, has a new and magnificent one in New York almost completed, and Max Strackosh is to open it with his opera troupe, assisted by Brignoli and a Grange. The machinery of the stage and the scenery are said to excel in perfection and beauty anything of the kind ever used in New York.

Amber is found in this country on the New Jersey, Massachusetts and Maryland coasts. The sheres of the Baltic are the principal amber fishing grounds in Europe. We have seen pieces as large as our fist, picked up in the neighborhood of Kurland, Russia. Meerschaum is also found near the Baltic, but it is of a harder and inferior nature to that found in Asia Minor.

The refusal of the King of Bavaria to marry the Princess Sophia has caused a sensation in his kingdom. The people, who expected when the King went to his bridal couch they should go to their toil, are indignant at the termination of their hopes, and have been doffing a little clothing. The father of the rejected bride has resigned all the offices and orders which he held in the King's service. The King goes to the Opera and disappears in the Tyrol just the same as ever.

Captain Mayne Reid, whose name is known to every man who has been a boy within the last fifteen years, and by a large number of men who haven't, is now wintering in Newport. He has written a new Christmas story for the Philadelphia Press, and, it is said, is fast recovering from the effects of his financial misfortunes. The Newport News suggested that he be secured to give public readings. Mr. Reid says in reply to this suggestion: "I hope you will do me the honor to believe that I have come to America for a higher purpose than to make exhibition of myself as a literary showman."

Most of our readers will remember Miss Tennessee Claflin, who figured in this city some years ago. She has turned up again in Chicago, as the following article from the Tribune will show:

"On the 31st of March last my house was entered during the night by burglars, and my gold watch and chain and $1,700 were taken. After a time I gave up all hopes of ever getting them, as I could not get any clue. Business called me to Chicago, and while here was handed one of Miss Tennessee's circulars, living at 365 Wabash avenue. Having heard of her wonderful powers when a child, I was induced to call on her. She at once told me that I had met with a loss, and that it was three things—it looked to her as if it was a watch, a chain, and a large roll of bank bills. It so astonished me that I at once became interested. She went on, and told me that the chain was an old relic, and that my watch was out of repair, and would catch in opening, which was true. She then described two men. She told me that I could not get the money, but the watch and chain had been sold to a man who runs on the river, and that if I would follow her advice I would find them in seven days, which I did, in less than four I found the man, and he had them, and he described the man he bought them of, just as she said. My name is W. B. Jones, residence South Fifth street, St. Louis, Mo."

DOLLAR

SAVINGS BANK,

No. 65 Fourth Street,

CHARTERED IN 1855.

ASSETS.....$3,333,206 54.

Open daily from 9 to 3 o'clock, and on Wednesday and Saturday evenings from 6 to 8 o'clock. Interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum. Deposits received of all sums of not less than One Dollar, and a dividend of the profits declared twice a year, in June and December. Interest has been declared semi-annually in June and December since the Bank was organized, at the rate of six per cent. a year.

Interest, if not drawn out, is placed to the credit of the depositor as principal, and bears the same interest from the first days of June and December, thus compounding twice a year. Parties making the deposits to call, or even to present their pass books, are not required to sign a check in order to draw money.

Executors, Administrators, Trustees, Guardians, Married Women, and all others, can deposit in this safe and reliable institution, with the assurance that their funds will be kept entirely separate from the business of the bank, and will be paid over on their own checks, or to their order, without delay.

The Bank is open for the transaction of business from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M., and on Wednesday and Saturday evenings from 6 to 8 o'clock.
