MIPONIGHESS

M. PAINE replied to the argument of the principal of five-twenties in gold. He undertook to controvert that the bonds are payable in coin, because by the act of the 25th of February, alterized by that act, which were made legal tender. If the gentleman from Massachusetts was such a magican as to be able to pay five hundred and fifty millions of greenbacks, then that gentleman should be a transferred to the bead of the Treasury of the National debt.

feat Meser's. Riddell and M'Carthy. They are organized, and will make a desperate struggle, but their labors will be in vain if Republicans will only appreciate the importance of the issue.

Our city ticket is eminently worthy support, and it would be a lasting diagrace should the party suffer the defeat of any one of the guitemen put forward for office. Wards and districts that have not yet been canvassed should be attended to day, and vereif Republican voicer within the limits of the consolidated city should be urged to exercise his right of citizenship at the poils to-morrow, in order to ensure the defeat of the democratic ticket by an overwhelming majority.
