The Pittsburgh Gazette

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 29, 1868.

GEN. GRANT having found it to be his duty, after consideration of all the facts, to insist upon the execution of his first order to General Hancock, touching the New Orleans Councilmen whom the latter had displaced, his directions have been obeyed by Hancock, who, on Thursday, issued an order removing his own appointees and restoring the former Councilmen to their official positions. It will be remembered that Hancock met the original order of the General-in-Chief with a vigorous protest, even declaring that he would rather resign his post than thus to retrace his steps. The superior judgment, wise discretion and tenacity of purpose by which General Grant has ever been marked, thus find another illustration. What course Gen. Hancock may regard as now due to his own personal feelings does not appear.

IF THE PRESIDENT, in a sudden access of patriotic zeal, has deemed the present to be a favorable time for precipitating upon the country a rugged issue with Great Britain upon the Alabama claims, as intimated by sensational despatches from Washington yesterday, his countrymen will undoubtedly give to his motives all the credit they may deserve. In the meantime, it is well enough to remember that neither abroad nor at home, in foreign diplomacy or domestic politics, will there be the slightest possibility of Mr. JOHNSON'S doing any harm, so long as he stands an impeached offender before the highest tribunal of his country. His own status must be determined in that regard before his high office can be reclothed with its proper moral influence and official dignity. Not until then, will he be accepted, abroad or at home, as adequately representing the honor and power of the nation.

A WARNING UNHEEDED.

When two years since, apprehensions became general that Mr. JOHNSON, owing his election as Vice President to the Republican party, but speedily promoted to the higher post by the assassination of his chief, was about to betray the friends of the Union, numerous appeals and exhortations were addressed to him, publicly and privately, by good men from nearly every section of the land. Their arguments and remonstrances were aimed to reach his conscience, as well as to sustain the waning sentiment of patriotism, which had once been strong enough to lift him above the atmosphere of party, but which, it was painfully evident, was already giving way to the corrupting influences of treasonable plotters against our scarcely yet re-established peace. One of these appeals, from a distinguished clergyman of Washington, has been republished by the Philadelphia Press. It bears the date of February 16, 1866, and, after forcibly presenting to Mr. JOHNSON many leading considerations in the interest of both Christian conviction and political duty, and eloquently urging him to be faithful to the sacred duties of the hour, closes with the following remarkable paragraph:

"Nay, more—and this is the presentiment which has haunted me now for days together, and which seems to be like the solemn warning of a messenger of God—and it is in a fear which takes this shape, namely: that you will not be removed from your high office, as your predecessor was, by assassination, but you will be subjected to a fate far worse than death—the open and everlasting disgrace which will in some way or other, how I know not—but will in some way arise in the inscrutable Providence of God. I seem to see the chasm already opening at your feet! Oh, while it is time, I pray you, honored sir, withdraw yourself from the abyss. Look not up, look up alone to Heaven for help, and the Lord Jehovah will strengthen you from on High!"

NEW HAMPSHIRE POLITICS.

The first State election of 1868 comes off in New Hampshire on the 10th of March. Our Republican friends gave HARRIMAN last year a majority of 5,146, and we have good reasons for believing that the Democratic expectations of benefits from any sort of "reaction," this year are doomed to a mortifying disappointment. The State has always been thoroughly canvassed in advance of any general election for years past, and the figures, when ascertained, are regularly made public by the Republican State Committee. In every case the actual vote has varied only a few hundred from their estimate, not more than could be amply accounted for in the unforeseen absence of voters from the polls. The CANVASS for this year has been published showing a Republican majority of over 8,000, making no account of the doubtful voters. There is good reason, therefore, judging from the past experience, for anticipating with confidence that New Hampshire will again elect Gov. HARRIMAN and a Republican Legislature.

In other Northern States the political organization, which thus enables the Republicans of New Hampshire to reckon up their strength and array it successfully in unbroken columns at the polls, might be adopted, as a decided improvement upon present systems. This organization, which is not peculiar to New Hampshire, but prevails in several other Eastern States, is substantially described as follows:

"There is a Central State Committee, with members representing Congressional districts or other divisions of the State; then committees in those districts, with members from each county; then committees in counties with members in every town, and, finally, committees in the towns, with members in every voting precinct. In large towns and cities, there is farther subdivision of labor, every block or every hundred voters, having workers assigned to ascertain the position of each voter, to see that he gets registered, to supply doubtful men with suitable documents or other influence, and to bring voters to the polls. By these means every voter in the State is reached, while the whole campaign, in every detail, is under the direction of the Central Committee."

THE LAW ON DEMOCRATIC AUTHORITY.

Hon. ROBT. J. WALKER is not only known to be a Democrat of the strictest sect, but is a man learned in the law withal. He is understood to stand high in the confidence of the President. Read what he says touching the claim, made not only by ANDREW JOHNSON, but also by Judge WOODWARD and other leading lights of Democracy, that the President may decide upon the constitutionality of laws passed by Congress:

"I called," says Mr. Walker, "upon Gen. Thomas early on Saturday morning, at the War Office, and communicated to him, in a friendly way, my opinion that any such order would be a nullity, and would subject him to serious consequences, especially if any such collision should occur. I told him that he had no right, nor had the President, to disobey a law of Congress upon the assumption that it was unconstitutional, and that if this were not so the President might set aside all the laws of Congress since the foundation of the Government upon the ground that they were unconstitutional. That the President possessed no such power, because it was not an executive, but exclusively a judicial power, and that all the laws of Congress must be obeyed and executed by the President unless their execution was restrained by the highest judicial authority. That to declare a law unconstitutional was not only the exercise of judicial power, but the highest judicial power, and only to be exercised by the courts where, in their judgment, the act was clearly unconstitutional, and that in all doubtful cases the court had uniformly refused to interfere with the execution of the law."

Nor is it unseasonable or inappropriate to state in the same connection, apropos to the remarkable speech of Judge WOODWARD, on Monday last, in which he claimed for the Executive the power which Mr. WALKER so pointedly denies, that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania no longer ago than the last autumn, in a case then pending before it in this county of Allegheny, held clearly and forcibly that the validity of any legislative enactment was in all cases to be presumed, in the absence of a competent judical decision to the contrary, and that a party litigant, seeking his remedy in its alleged invalidity, must specify with distinct precision the nature of his constitutional objections before argument could be heard on that point by the Court. Chief Justice WOODWARD was then sitting upon that bench, he heard that opinion pronounced by one of his Associate Judges, and of course, not dissenting in any way, evidently concurred therein. So much for the Chief Justice!

On Monday last, Hon. G. W. WOODWARD, a Representative from Pennsylvania, in debate in the House, asserted the right of the President to refuse obedience to a law of Congress, if in his opinion it was unconstitutional. So much for the Democratic Representative! The Chief Justice of '67 was a lawyer, and the Representative of '68 is a politician. The man was the same in both cases. So much for consistency!

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Presbyterian Convention at Dayton, Ohio, which convened on Tuesday last, from the proceedings of the first day before us, will have an important bearing upon the question of union now agitating the Presbyterian bodies. Nearly one hundred delegates were present at the opening, and other delegates were expected. After suitable religious services, Rev. John McMillan, of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, Allegheny City, was appointed Chairman for the afternoon. Committee on business recommended the discussion of the following questions: 1. Is the corporate union of the various Christian denominations a duty? The various Evangelical bodies of this city to be invited to sit in conference with the Convention while this question is being considered. 2. Is the union of the various denominations of Presbyterians in the country a practical, a present, and a pressing duty. 3. What expediments ought we to propose to be employed in farthering the union of the Church? The Convention proceeded to discuss the first topic, which continued throughout the day and evening, except a brief time spent in perfecting the organization. The general bearing of the Convention is all its discussion was much in unity with the basis adopted by the Philadelphia Convention. Some side issues were brought in during the consideration of the various questions before the body, but with little effect on their final action and recommendation to the churches, which the delegates represented.

Reference was made not long since to the proposed organization of a society among the Methodists of Philadelphia, to emply women to aid the pastor in certain departments of church labor. The organization has just been perfected under the title of "The Ladies' and Pastors' Christian Union, of the M. E. Church of Philadelphia and vicinity." The Union consists of two delegates, elected annually by the women of the M. E. Churches, who constitute the body represented therein, and the pastors of the several churches. The constitution provides for various departments of work such, as "visitation," "lectures and public meetings," etc. Mrs. Bishop Simpson is President.

Bethany Sunday School Hall has just been formally dedicated to the service of God. This large audience was erected for the Sunday School connected with the Bethany Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia. The capacity of the building embracing the various departments of the school number 2,029. A son of Judge Lowrie, of this city, is the pastor.

The New York correspondent of the Presbyterian writes, that the rum shops of that city, if placed in a line, would extend on both sides of Broadway from the Battery to Central Park—ten miles of death—six stories high—four stories above ground and two under.

The Japanese street congregational Church, Lowell, Massachusetts, after six months trial, votes to have but one preaching service on the Sabbath. The pastor conducts an adult class in the Sabbath School.

A woman named MRS. P. A. HANAFORD was ordained a few days since in Boston, to the pastor of the Universalist Society in Hingham.

During the session of the Convention of Christian men at St. Louis recently, while the question "How shall women best aid in the work," was before them, a lady claimed the floor. The chairman decided against her right to speak. An appeal was made from the decision of the chair, but the appeal was laid upon the table by a vote of 56 ayes to 28 nays. Notwithstanding this action, unpleasant results are likely to grow out of the affair. Some of the dailies of that city think the lady ought to have been allowed to speak.

During the "Week of Prayer" a Ladies Union Prayer meeting was held in the social rooms of the Tabernacle Church, New York. Since then these ladies have organized parlor meetings, which are intensely interesting, and give promise of great and continual usefulness.

Accordiag to recent statistics it is estimated that the increase of the Baptist denomination in this country, during the last twenty-five years, has been 67 per cent. in churches, 77 per cent in ministers and 98 per cent. in members.

A Methodist preacher in Galesburgh, Illinois, recently noticed in meeting that the Black Crook was soon to be represented in Galesburgh and also there was a calico ball to come off. He added that if any of his members wished to attend they must come to his house and have their names erased from the Church list.

A German Lutheran named Muller, of the city of New York, has purchased a church edifice for $57,000, and the Rev. Dr. Krotel, of Philadelphia, has been called as pastor, at a salary of six thousand dollars per annum.

According to the Banner of Peace, the number of professions for six months, ending January 1st, last, to the Cumberland Presbyterian Church was 4,672; accessions 3,447. These figures but partially set forth the additions.

The annual exhibit of the Methodist Book Concern, located at New York and Cincinnati, has just been announced, from which we learn the total net capital is $1,050,946 19. Total profit for the year 1867, $128,871 89. Of the profits the sum of $37,723 04 has been paid out under order of the General Conference to meet expenses outside of the business of the Book Concern.

It is estimated the receipts at the different places of theatrical amusements in New York city last year were over three millions of dollars, which is considerably more than double what is annually contributed for foreign missions by all the Christians in the United States.

The Independent says in 1836 a Hard Shell Baptist Association in Arkansas expelled from its body several churches for having become connected with a missionary society. These latter, six in number, at once organized the Maryland Union Association, and have increased to thirty-nine churches, with a membership of between four and five thousand, and a young and efficient ministry. The former have either quite died out or have only a nominal existence.

The Sunday School Messenger, a new Catholic monthly, has just been started at Chicago. The editorial management of it is entrusted to the Jesuit Fathers. The Catholic of this city speaks very favorably of this new candidate for public favor.

Preliminary steps have been taken to organize a Presbyterian Association, to be composed of all the Presbyterian ministers resident in Pittsburgh, Allegheny and vicinity, together with one or more ruling elders from each church. The object of this association is to be for the spiritual edification and closer mutual acquaintance of the members, and also to give greater unity and efficiency to their denominational efforts in the two cities and neighborhood. A meeting is to be held on Monday to complete the organization.

A Union Convention of the different branches of the Presbyterian family, in accordance with the recommendation of the National Presbyterian Convention, is to meet at Indiana, Pa., on Tuesday, the 10th day of March, for prayer and conference concerning a basis of Union.

The Pope has appointed nine new Bishops and four Vicars Apostolic to Sees just erected in this country. Archbishop Spalding has just made the official announcement of the new ecclesiastical appointments.

Hon. Amos Kendall, who gave $100,000 towards the erection of Calvary Baptist Church in Washington City, recently destroyed by fire, proposes that the structure shall be rebuilt, it being understood that he will pay the bulk of the bills.

The next session of the Pittsburgh Annual M. E. Conference will be held at Greensburg, Penn., commencing Wednesday, March 18. Bishop Kingsley will preside. This being the first time for the Bishop to be President of this Conference, since his elevation to the Episcopate in 1864, considerable interest is manifested in regard to his Episcopal visitation.

The Liberty Street M. E. Church having set apart to-morrow, wholly for missionary purposes, the following exercises will take place: Morning sermon by Rev. L. F. Morgan, D. D., of Christ church; Sunday School exercises at 2½ o'clock in the afternoon, and evening sermon by Rev. S. H. Nesbit, D. D., editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate. The pastor, Rev. W. H. Locke, A. M., will have the general superintendence throughout the day.

On Sabbath day, Rev. John Galley, Pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Butler, Pa., preached his last or farewell sermon in the Presbyterian church, to the congregations under the arrangement by which the U. P. congregation were privileged to worship in the Presbyterian church, while the church building of the U. P. congregation was being rebuilt. The Citizen says: It is certainly very gratifying to know that these two congregations have had a pleasant and profitable time during the past season in worshipping together; and have no doubt fully realized the feeling expressed by the servant of God when he said: "Behold, how good and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." May the christian and brotherly feeling that has been formed by their association be lasting and productive of much good.

George H. Stuart, Esq., President of the Philadelphia National Presbyterian Union Convention, held in that city, has appointed the following committees to present the action of the Convention to the different ecclesiastical bodies represented:

To the Old School General Assembly to meet in Albany, N. Y., May 21st:—Rev. S. W. Fisher, D. D., New School; Rev. J. Y. Sconiler, D. D., United Presbyterian; Rev. John McMillan, Reformed Presbyterian; E. Wood, Esq., New School; Wm. Getty, Esq., United Presbyterian. To the New School General Assembly, to meet in Harrisburg, Pa., May 21st:—Rev. G. W. Musgrave, D. D., Old School, Rev. William Davidson, D. D., United Presbyterian; Rev. W. S. Bratton, Reformed Presbyterian; Hon. Charles Drake, Old School; James McMillan, Esq., Reformed Presbyterian. To the United Presbyterian General Assembly, to meet in Argyle, New York, May 27th—Rev. J. F. Stearns, D. D., New School; Rev. M. S. Goodale, D. D., Old School; Rev. D. W. J. Wylie, D. D., Reformed Presbyterian; Robert Carter, Esq., Old School; Edward McMillan, New School. To the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, to meet in Pittsburgh, May 13th—Rev. George Marshal, D. D., Old School; Rev. C. P. Wing, D. D., New School; Rev. A. G. Williams, Presbyterian; Hon. M. Williams, Lib. D., New School; Hon. Wm. M. Francis, Old School.

—In the new Arctic mill of the Sprague's, at Warwick, R. I., 325 hands are employed; 13,000 spindles and 567 looms are run, and 100,000 yards of print cloth are turned out per week. This is said to be pronounced the most complete cotton mill in the country. The cost of the whole work was $500,000. It was built during the past year and has been running seven months. The main mill is of granite, 302 by 68 feet, and four stories and attic, with an L 90 by 40 and three stories. The boiler house, also of granite, is 50 by 40 feet and two stories, and contains six large boilers. All the wood work of the mill is oak; chestnut and black walnut.

THE MISERABLES

Of this bright and cheerful world ARE THE DYSPEPTICS. Without a good digestion there can be no healthy comfort nor mental repose. Between the stomach and the brain there is a close and wonderful alliance. If the one is deranged the other suffers in sympathy, depressed, incapable of effort, and indifferent to all that makes life agreeable to the healthy.

It is also a sad fact that any rational human being is well aware, when the means of certain, immediate relief can be procured, that they are permanently cured.

The Dyspeptic has no fate in his own hands. If he chooses to suffer from a disorder that reacts his body one moment and his mind the next, he has no excuse for doing it in the easiest way. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

No phase of Dyspepsia has ever yet resisted its alterative, tonic and stimulating qualities. This potent vegetable specific. It invigorates the stomach, the kidneys, the liver; into a sluggish action the dormant liver; puts to flight its disagreeable host; tones the bowels; regulates and equalizes the bowels; strengthens the enfeebled nerves; perfects the digestive assimilation, and fortifies the system of the debilitated invalid. Ladies who suffer from indigestion have only to take a small dose of this pure vegetable preparation, once or twice a day, to correct any irregularities from the pains and peculiarities of a weak stomach, and feel perfectly at ease in every position which our few or no restrictions prescribe.

Chronic Diseases.

The functions of the human body give way, usually one at a time. A disordered liver, or a slight irritation of the bronchial tubes, an obstruction in the skin or of the renal organs, are sure to be followed by pains and aches in various parts, according to the extent of the organic or functional injury. A man afflicted with dyspepsia will soon find more than the stomach at fault. The food that he swallows fails to renew the natural wear and waste, the worn out matter is deposited in some sack or crevasse, where it causes irritation or pain, when it ought to be thrown off and carried out of the system. Hundreds and thousands of just such sufferers have been relieved and restored to health and vigor by a few bottles of DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER, which not only imparts tone to the stomach and digestive organs, but likewise enriches the blood with the elementary principles needful to the restoration of the vital energy of the system. Be careful what you ask for it is to get DR. KEYSER'S, for that is the kind, and the only kind, that has cured the numberless cases of disordered and broken constitutions. It was that which cured MR. BOYD. It was that which cured JOHN TISSELL. It was that which cured MARGARET MCFARLAND. It was DR. KEYSER'S Blood Searcher which cured all the old physicians cases which we have published from time to time in these columns. DR. KEYSER'S Blood Searcher has cured more cases of chronic diseases than any medicine of recent origin. Sold by the gross, dozen, or single bottle, at the Depot—most medicine store. THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE

The largest daily paper in the State of Pennsylvania, enters the 82nd year of its existence with increased facilities for disseminating the current news of the day, and for rendering good political service in the important Presidential Canvass of 1868. The forthcoming session of Congress promises to prove one of the most important held since the formation of the Government, and the proceedings will be anxiously watched by the intelligent masses.

In view of the deep interest centered in the proceedings, the proprietors of the GAZETTE have made arrangements for daily dispatches and letters during the session, from a highly intelligent correspondent, who enjoys the confidence and friendship of the leading members of the Senate and House, the heads of the various Departments, and the leading politicians who frequent Washington, so that readers can depend on receiving the first, fullest and most reliable intelligence from the seat of Government.

The proceedings of the State Legislature, at its forthcoming session, will also prove interesting, inasmuch as many questions of importance will come up for legislation. The GAZETTE will keep at the State Capital, during the entire session, an intelligent and faithful correspondent, who will promptly report the proceedings by mail and telegraph.

It is the only political journal of Pittsburgh which faithfully reflects and steadily advocates the principles held by the Union Republican Party, and interpreted by a loyal Congress.

It gives as much reading matter as any paper sold at twelve dollars per annum, while its price is but eight, being the cheapest as well as the largest newspaper in the Commonwealth.

With the enlargement, every department has been strengthened. The high character of its editorial columns will be maintained, and all questions of public importance will be fearlessly discussed.

The news department will be kept up to the requirements of the day, and its condensed items will faithfully mirror all the transactions worthy of note of the City, State, Country and world at large, and materials for the GAZETTE the reputation of a live, enterprising and first class family and commercial newspaper.

The price named is calculated with care, and will prove a very interesting feature of the GAZETTE.

The financial news department has been placed in charge of an able and experienced broker, who will render it quite an attractive and useful weekly to bankers, brokers and business men generally.

The religious department will receive the attention due to its importance, and will be so conducted as to be pleasing and valuable to members of all religious denominations.

The agricultural, art, science, literary, personal and other departments of the paper will be conducted in a manner which will prove satisfactory to the reader.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE has been enlarged to the size of the Daily, and is now the largest, cheapest and best weekly family newspaper in the State. It should be in the house of every farmer, mechanic and business man. It gives each week forty solid columns of current news of the day, and omits the leading editorials of the Daily, and a choice selection of miscellaneous matter, together with everything important pertaining to the world of politics. Its agricultural columns will be edited to render it valuable to and favor with the farmer and gardener. The markets of the WEEKLY GAZETTE are by common consent admitted to be the most standard authority for both buyers and sellers, and its commercial review of Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania is without equal. The Size of the GAZETTE are used exclusively by the Court of Allegheny county, as reference in important issues, to determine the selling prices in the markets at the time of the business transactions.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE DAY.
ANTI-FRICTION
JOURNAL BOXING.
PATENTED SEPT. 10, 1867.
This system of Boxing is in perfect accord with common sense, (which it does not always do,) and practical mechanics. It is dirt and dust proof. It reduces friction to the minimum. It runs cool and light. It does not heat and cut the journal. It requires no oiling whatever. It is self adjusting. It is durable. It is cheap. It is reliable. Call and see it.

A GREAT FAMILY CONVENIENCE.
A new and novel arrangement for having HOT WATER BOILERS
attached to the back end of common cook stoves, so that the water will rise when you go to the stove. Has been in use for months in a number of families, and will be found the best article ever introduced. It is ordinary through the boiler, and does not require the brass faucet of the PATENT HOT WATER BOILERS. Any one can put on any stove. Any person can be supplied with it, or almost any other Cook Stove in use in the city. Now is the time to have Boilers attached to Stoves, including the Attachment, the Boiler and Brass, all complete, for $15 each. Also one set of SEVEN DOLLARS, by applying to

SECURITY AND COMFORT for THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.
J. B. HARRIS'
SAFETY FIRE JACKET,
Car Heater and Moderator,
For PERSONS AND Baggage, Freight and Express Cars, with Car of Stoves and Pipes in or without Passenger or Freight Cars. With Car Heater and Moderator to graduate the draft and temperature of fire, it will be found perfect protection against the danger of cars to which the Jacket may be attached.
The Jacket for the United States Express Car is the same as that used by the Adams Express Co., and is the only protection from accidents by fire, originating from overheated stoves, that has ever been offered to the public for sale or hire.
The Jacket is applicable to all the various sizes of Passenger or Freight Cars, and is the perfect substitute for stove wood or coal stoves, and will be found far more economical in the use of fuel. I am now ready to supply my
