The Pittsburgh Gazette

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY.

GRANGE.

BY DORA GREENWELL.

They spoke of thee to me; they said,
Child is thy friend"; and I, with sad
Mechanic force, as one that met
A challenge, tamely in unmeaning speech
I spake of thee! I seemed to reach
Some distant precious whereon to bring
My words; that its praiseful ring
Reach'd not my hands. My words were true,
Yet, while I spake, a cruel dew
Of falsehood on my spirit grew:
Of poverty and vain pretence;
A sense of loveless earth fell through
My words, and then they ceased. I hear
I did thee deem, and over thee drew
The semblance, while, like a tear that falls
Among the leaves rests and hid,
Thy love within the graveyard walls,
And gilded when the dews are dry,
Fell on my soul the thought of days,
When as lay names a sudden flow'r
Within my heart would bloom and spread,
And fill me with its odor sha
Made sweet the moments, sweet the hour
Upon it of thee. O thou were days,
Nothing, for loving, not for praise,
I could not praise to thee (ure: in part
I saw not, loved not. What to me
Were gifts that others prized! A free,
Kind gift was thine to my heart,
The heart that did not reassess seek.
Now reasons need, for loving thee.
So now thy passing ish and wane
Seems but a sound to wind thee in
A garment never worn in life.
Give me close-into thy feet and shin.
So endish love, so ended strife.
Yet not this grave, O, let it pen,
Hold not before thee like the glass:
The life, the breath, the soul is fled.
Now draw the curtain round the dead,
And bring no more to see. Want care
The dead for praising! Unto prayer
Let silence lure; shut out the air
Upon this still chamber; shut in the light
From those still brows so calm and white.

EPHEMERIES.

—Nashville has a limited supply of coal.

—Colt's revolvers have been placed in the hands of the Egyptian cavalry.

—General Grant has subscribed $10,000 to a Methodist church in Washington.

—Alexander H. Stephens has no coalition to offer on the difficulties at Washington.

—The Committee on Ways and Means has concluded that whisky should remain taxed two dollars per gallon.

—The Chicago Insurance Companies have resolved to increase their rates from eighteen to twenty-one per cent.

—It is said that newsboys and bootblacks are kidnapped from New York city and sold to frontiersmen out West.

—Congressman Morrissey is to make a hit by giving a sparring exhibition for the benefit of the poor in New York city.

—Many wells and springs have gone dry in New York, and the "G-A's" of that section attribute the fact to volcanic action.

—Eugene Haywood, a youth of twenty-two years, owns fifty thousand acres of land in Illinois, and twelve thousand in Nebraska.

—During 1867 the United States received an army of immigrants from foreign countries of nearly one quarter million persons.

—James Smallie, got on a spree in New York city, and laid down before a bar room grate to spend the night. His clothing took fire and he was burned to death.

—A naked, new born infant, was found on the railroad track near Altoona. It is presumed that the babe was given birth on a passing train, and thrown out the car window. Of course, it was dead.

—A negligent town clerk in East Greenwich, Rhode Island, failed to return to the assessors a list of registered voters as required by law, and thus disfranchised for the year one hundred and fifty voters.

—George H. Pendleton's chances for the Democratic Presidential nomination daily grow beautifully less. He was well backed, but the shrewd New York politicians, who managed to get the Convention to the city, proved too many for the greenbackers of the west.

—Mrs. Rheda Sherman of Gaston, Conn., is an aged lady of ninety-five summers. She reads without glasses, and two years ago wove a rag carpet, and is now getting out material for another. She has had 145 descendants, who represent her in half the States of the Union.

—Hon. Reverdy Johnson has given his opinion affirmatively on the following question submitted: "Have the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore the right to refuse the first mortgage held by them upon the franchises and property of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company, to fund the accrued and accruing interest up to January, 1871, and take the position of second mortgagee."

—Mrs. Margaret Hayes, of Brownsville, Texas, met her death in a singular manner, the other day. She had crossed the river on her way to Matamoras, and was killed by a bullet from the Brownsville side, while riding in a cab. The bullet was fired by one of the soldiers of a guard just relieved, who were directed to discharge their pieces into the river. The officers who investigated the occurrence, express the opinion that the fatal ball had ricochetted upon the surface of the water.

—Inasmuch as the Democratic journals are canning the votes of the Conservative Senators, as certain to be cast against impeachment, it might be well to urge that the trial is not a political one, and that members must act as sworn jurors. Political views must risk after the following rigid oath is taken "I solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be,) that in all things pertaining to the trial of impeachment of ——, now pending, I will do impartial justice according to the Constitution and laws, so help me God."

—A largely attended convention of the distillers of the West and Northwest was in session at Cincinnati last week. A set of resolutions was passed calling the attention of Congress to the fact that their business was languishing for want of proper protection, as the prices were depressed by the immense quantities of whisky thrown on the market by illicit distillers. They advised a reduction of tax as the best method for putting a stop to the wholesale frauds carried on, and recommended imprisonment, instead of fine, as the punishment of violators of the revenue laws.

—W. S. Hutchings, of St. Louis, is now engaged in constructing a wonderful flying machine. It measures 28 feet 8½ height with an expansion of 22 feet, full weight of the entire machine 233 pounds, when ready for aerial navigation, capable of carrying with ease in the air 150 pounds. The principle is entirely new, and the invention claims the compression of hot and cold air in running a caloric engine which is attached to the back. The body is enclosed in a complete mail armour made of vulcanized Indian rubber and brass with glass in front which protects the body and face from the wind. Attached to the engine and connected by means of a tube, passing over the shoulder, is a large cylinder, containing the compressed air, which is worked with each hand. By this means the navigator can go up or down with ease and regulates the engine at his own leisure. Attached to the feet, head and cylinder, are doubled, inflated wings, some four feet in length; and by means of cords and India rubber valves attached to the fly-wheels of the engine, are two large inflated wings, on the compressed air principle, eighteen feet in length, and which turn with lightning speed in a circular revolution, bearing up the entire machine. Immediately above the engine is attached by means of cords a large double inflated parachute, measuring 66 feet in circumference with a tube connecting from the centre with the caloric engine. This is the protection in making an ascension without danger to the aronaut, in case of accident or breaking of the machine. The first trial will take place near St. Louis, by the wonderful feat of jumping out of a balloon at the height of two thousand feet from the earth; and as the inventor proposes to accomplish this himself he has great confidence in his own invention. If it is a success aerial navigation is certainly the most useful invention of modern times, outrivaling the telegraph or steam navigation.
