Playing Policeman.—The Accessity of Livingston & Co., Iron Founders. of uniforms to a well regulated and effi-cient police force, is patent to almost any one, unless it be some person who is so old fogyish as to be unable to see the ad-vantage of any improvement upon the manner in which his great grand fathers conducted their affairs. There may be some argument against uniformic the For Wayne road, we found in our rami-bles the extensive now establishment of Livingston & Co., to whose advertised-ment in to-day's paper we invite atten-tion. We found the establishment very complete in all its appointments. The firm own six lots, on which are the foun-dry, 60 by 40 feet; the finishing room or machine shop, 70 by 40; the builing and grindstone room, including core house and smithy, 70 by 40; the annealing and second croom 50 by 40, with extensive
