FINANCE AND TRADE, OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, Gold opened dull at 138%, advanced to 138%, declined to 138%, but closed strong at 138%. Exchange drawn against cotton bills is still pressed on the market to realize on the gold, and have the use of the currency for the time preceeding May next, as a tight money market is anticipated when money may command from 8 to 9 per cent, and commission on call. With the rise and firmness in the cotton market in England, the market will be well supplied with exchange, and the probability exists that without further exciting and disturbing political elements, gold will touch the point predicted several weeks ago. Nevertheless, for commercial reasons, based on the balance of trade theory, an advance in gold is more than probable, considering the financial and political condition of Europe. Although an advance in gold above 140 at the present time would be very disastrous to the whole country, especially the middle counts of BANKS, BANKERS and MER- classes and retail trades-people. The redundancy of paper money has created such a desire for the possession of articles of luxury, that it is difficult to bring people back, to the use of the home-made and to econonly, and as long as there is a dollar left to spend as before, it will be done, to the ben-JOHN T. VAN DOREN, Cashier. efit of the importer and foreign manufacturer, and the country drained of either the metalic currency or the productions of the soil. With the decline in gold, a similar and corresponding decline took place in government bonds; the rise in bonds being artificial lower rates would have followed the great pressure to sell, the question was only how soon would people perceive that it was to their interest to sell, when they are compelled to sell, whether they have the last fraction, which belongs by right to the speculator, or not. No people in the community, as a class, are so penurious or have become so, as the holders of the national securities, men that before the war felt conscientious to ask any interest on money loaned, would now not hesitate to take six per cent. in gold, have the government insure them a high premium on their bonds, and loan the bonds out to some one else and take the brokers legal interest of one and a quarter per month. Stocks are panicky changing in value with the tick of the clock, but the fluctuations are less violent. Money is very scarce, and men have turned their securities into mony to profit by the high rates paid for its use by needy borrowers; 12 per cent. may be called reasonable rate for good endorsed paper.

Our grain dealers were considerably shocked to-day by the announcement that Messrs. Dean & Son, well-known grain brokers in Chicago, had suspended. It is reported that several Pittsburgh firms suffer by the suspension to the amount of about twenty thousand dollars, in the aggate. Dean & Son bought more grain on Pittsburgh account, probably, than any other house in Chicago, and heretofore have stood well in this place.

-The New York Tribune pointedly says, concerning the proposition to tax public securities: "The experiment of sustaining the government by taking its own debts is ing on the interest of what he owes. It has never yet been profitable or respectable" The Chicago Tribune, of Tuesday, says:
There was rather more demand on grain account to-day, growing out of the deliveries on contracts for "the lass half," but in other respects there was nothing new in the monatory situation. in other respects there was nothing new in the monetary situation. The mercantije inquiry is steadly increasing with the ap-proach of spring. Deposits have touched the maximum, and now show signs of a de-crease, and in view of the artificial strin-gency in New York, the local money mar-ket is working closer. Borrowers are treated a little more gingerly, and few can negotiate more more paper than their ac-counts warrant. The bank rate is steady at 10 per cent.

—Says the Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday: Borrowers can not assert very positive claims upon their bankers continue to find it very hard to get their paper passed, and when they do round rates are passed, and when they do round rates are charged them; but borrowers who have steady, good deposit lines, manage to effect their needed negotiations at 10 to 12 per cent.; for the other class referred to, 12 to 15 per cent. is the range for the best of names. Money would be easy enough, doubtless, if it only had free flow through the channels of trade, but the absence of a needed decree of confidence and of the conventor.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, March 18, 1868. With the advent of fine weather and resumption of navigation, business is improving, and while the operations in the leading commodities are restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants, there is a much better feeling in commercial circles, and our merchants, generally, anticipate a good spring trade.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, March 18, 1868. CRUDE-The Crude market is quiet but very firm and holders refuse to sell unless at an advance and to this, buyers as yet, are unwilling to submit. There was not a single sale reported, in the absence of which single sale reported, in the absence of which we quote 8½ to 8½ as the ruling quotations for spot oil—the inside figure offered and the outside quotation asked. The trade is in such a peculiar condition, that there is but little chance for operators to do anything. Oil is too much inflated at Oil City for this market, and while holders cannot afford to sell at a reduction from the figure above named refiners taking the present. afford to sell at a reduction from the ingure above named, refiners taking the present prices of refined as a basis, cannot afford to pay it, and while matters remain in this condition, we do not expect to have many sales to record. Oil City telegrams to-day quote at §3 to 3,25; at these figures, as it are remarkably scarce, at present prices, which is owing to the fact that taking the price of Crude into consideration, there is no margin, and therefore, they seem deter-mined to hold off and wait until they can a repetition of the vagabonds policy of live realize better figures. Late advices from Washington report that there is a fair prospect of having the tax on free oil reduced. -Since the above was but in type, we have the following additional sal ed: 1,000 bbls June at 9; and 1,000 for July

Consider the Chart Class referred to, 12 to 15 per cent. is the range for the best of names. Money would be easy enough, doubtless, if it only had free flow through the channels of trade, but the absence of a proper degree of confidence and of the opening of important new enterprises, still operate to keep money within a narrow, available compass. It is observable that there is less capital offering in the street than there was a short time ago.
