Probably Fatal Shooting Affair. A shooting affair occurred Wednesday evening about five o'clock, on the line of the Pittsburgh, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad about five miles west of Steubenville, which in all probability will result fatally to Mr. William Brew, foreman of Division No. 13, on that road. It appears that some weeks since Mr. Brew discharged from his employ Michael Vaughn, on account of his ill nature and disagreeable temper. Since then Vaughn has shown a strong hatred toward his former "boss," and at the time mentioned, while Brew's men were repairing the track near Gould's station, and while the five o'clock train was approaching, Vaughn, armed with a double barrelled shot gun, which he had loaded with slugs, crept up behind Brew, and shot him in the left side, the whole charge of taking effect and producing a wound which it is thought may prove fatal. The noise of the train prevented the report of the gun being heard, and Vaughn had escaped before the fact of the shooting became known. Only a few nights ago Mr. Brew's house was burned, we are informed, and his family barely escaped with their lives. It is supposed that Vaughn set fire to the building.

A Stolen Watch Recovered.

Two years ago Messrs. Dunseath & Haslett, the well known jewelers on Fifth street, sold a fine gold watch to a gentleman in New Castle for two hundred and seventy dollars. One year ago the watch was stolen from the owner by an unknown thief. Yesterday, singular to say, it was left at the jewelry store where purchased for repairs by a man giving his name as Michael Shan-non. Mr. Dunseath immediately recognizwatch as the stolen one, and had its reputed owner promptly arrested. On being taken to the tombs, Shannon told several conflicting stories in accounting for its conflicting stories in accounting for its ssien, but finally stated that he had bought it from an unknown Englishman for eighteen dollars. There will be a hearing

Peter Finegan was tried on an indictment charging him with malicious mischief, in casting a stone through a window of the tayern of J. B. Bates, corner of Canal street and Spring alley, on the 17th of December last. Joseph Cavanagh, gas fitter, was tried on an indictment charging him with malicious mischief, in undertaking to remove gas and water fixtures from a building on St. Clair water fixtures from a building on St. Clair street. The prosecutor was a Mr. Newton, who claimed the fixtures as his property. The lease of the building, which had been held by James Hague, deceased, was sold at sheriff's sale, and the purchasers assigned it to Mr. Newton. For the defence Mrs. Hague testified that she had placed the fixtures in the building, and had employed the defendant to remove them. Jury out. John Lynch was indied for selling it. John Lynch was indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, on Gist street, Eighth ward, on oath of Dietrich Formhalz. It appeared that no less than six different like harges had been preferred against Lynch by Formhalz, before a magistrate, but the Grand Jury ignored all but two of them.

Heavy Forgeries—The Consequences of Fast Living—The Perpetrator "Non Est." In the GAZETTE of yesterday we alluded to the fact that heavy forgeries had been committed in this city recently and cited some of the particulars in the case, omitting, however, the names of the parties and other interesting facts for prudential rea-culty, financially, and a large amount of his paper was thrown on the market, the holders of which, becoming weary, went into an investigation of his affulrs, through which t transpired that he was not only involved financially but had been illegally using the names of his father and brother-in-law Among the first to discover the latter fact were S. McClean, Jr., and Thomas Collins, the former holding notes of Johnston to the amount of $1,200, and the latter $433. They immediately instituted civil suits to recover the amount, upon which Johnston confessed judgment, and under direction of the parties a levy was at once made by the Sheriff on the hotel, fixtures, made by the Sheriff on the note, fixtures, &c. While the gentlemen named were securing themselves from loss, other parties holding notes were inspecting and inquiring into the securities held by them, which in every case were pronounced forgeries. The aggregate amount of the forgeries thus far ascertained will probably: reach 312,000, but this sum may be increased The operator has been pursuing this line of business for some time past, and he played his game so carefully that he es-caped suspicion until Monday. His father, Mr. Robert Johnston, who resides in Washington county, is wealthy, and his brother-in-law, Mr. D. Gilmore, of the firm of Gilmore, Straub & Co., brewers of Allegheny, i also in good financial condition. The standing of the parties named assisted him in his operations, and he has been enabled to de-fer his detection by making new notes and lifting the old ones when they became due. Among those who hold his notes are the following: Union National Bank, $1,500; T. Ewing, Esq., $1,000; Citizens National Bank, $2,000; S. Hare, $1,000; J. Schlelein, $1,900; — Patton, grocer, $600; J. A. Mazurie, $400; Patrick & Co., $500; S. McClurkan, representing insurance company, $2,200; G. McLean, Jr., $1,500; Thos. Collins, $432. Some of the notes in possession of the banks had been sent in for collection, and of course they will escape to that extent, but others were discounted by them, and to their loss.

A petition had been filed by Mr. G. S. Head in the U. S. District Court, for the purpose of forcing Johnston into bankruptey, and thus securing an equal division of his property among his creditors. The petitioner claims that Johnston is indebted to him to the arrown of $2,000 cm. a promises. him to the amount of $2,000 on a promiss him to the amount of $2,000 on a promissory note, given for value received, dated November 12th, 1867, and payable two months after date at the Citizens National Bank, upon which the names of Robert Johnston and D. Gilmore, as well as that of Mr. Head, appear as endorsers. The alleged act of bankruptcy set forth in the petition is the confession of judgment to Messre. act of bankruptcy set form in the perindiis the confession of judgment to Messrs.

Last night the proprietress of an aspiring and well-kept apple stand in the neighborhood of the Union Depot, becoming weary of watching for a wholesale or retail purchaser of pies or bologna, took an innocent map, closing her eyes to all the cares and vicissitudes of the peanut life. Along came vicissitudes of the peanut life. Along came a fellow with more style than conscience and not much of either. In he went for the money drawer and out he came with eighteen dollars, nearly a year's gross earnings of the aforesaid stand. He made his escape and is now luxuriating on his ill gotten gains, while the sleeping owner is rubbing her eyes to realize the immensity of her loss and the wisdom of bankruptcy.

M. C. Beebe, of Pleasantville, Pa., Late Member of the House of Representatives. Dr. Aborn, No. 134 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Dear Sir: Some five years ago my son Willie commenced showing symptoms of Catarrh of the Head, which continued to grow worse until his system was so debilitated as to preclude an active enjoyment of the sports of childhood or pursue any system of study, or attend at school, and at times was entirely prostrated with lingering fever—some times, for weeks together, with a constant manifestation of the symptoms of the disease, such as a constant hacking nostril discharges, &c., irritation of the throat, &c., causing nausea. All the usual appliances and treatment of physicians, &c., had failed to afford relief, until you were applied to during your pro-fessional visit at Titusville last winter, when he began to improve immediately after commencing your treatment, and continued to improve until now he enjoys a good state of health, and is able to participate in the active sports of childhood with zest, as well as pursue his studies without interruption. I have omitted to make this statement here tofore, as I wished to be satisfied that the relief was permanent. M. C. Bekbe, Pleasantville, Pa.
