Popular Prices-The Wholesale and Reopular Prices inc wholesale and Re-tail Dry Goods Store of William Sem-ple, Nos. 180 and 182 Federal Street, Allegheny—An Immense Stock at Rea-sonable Prices.

CONTRACTOR CONTRACTOR CONTRACTOR CONTRACTOR

Mr. Semple has purchased an immense assert-and with our knowledge of financial affairs in New York we feel assured we are correct-that the heavy stock of goods carried by Mr. Semple could not, at the present time, be duplicated at the same figures at which they are now supplied to the patrons of this house, and of this fact merchants and dealers may be convinced by favoring the establishment with a purchasing visit. Aside from buying their goods at Semple's as cheap as they can be purat semple's as cheap as they can be put-chased in the east, the merchant and deal-der save large items in fare, freight, he-tel expense, &c., in traveling. Hence, it is clearly apparent that it is a matter of pure clearly apparent that it is a matter of pure or merchants and others, who economy for interentiation of the original density with the self again, to be to write the patronage this side of the mountains, more especially when equally choice varieties are offered at not much lower, prices at the extensive and well managed house of Mr.

Semple. We cannot attempt to do full justice to the enormous stock of goods held at this establishment by entering into de-tails. Few of the jobbing houses of the tails. The attice carry more goods metropolitan cities carry more goods through a season than will be found on the shelves, counters, and in original packages at this house. The stock has been selected with unusual good care, and cannot fail to suit persons of all shades of taste. Here we have an endless variety of rich poplins and foreign and American silks, which are very good, and will coax a violation of the sacred good, and will coax a violation of the sacred injunction not to cover our neighbor s goods from our mildest and sweetest wives and daughters. The silks are in all shades of colors and of elegant texture. Then the va-riety of plain and figured delaines, gingalpacas, chintzes and other dress materials is very great and must prove entiternais is very great and must prove enti-ing to the purchaser. The house makes a specialty of trimmings, ribbons, Shaker hoods, bonnets, hats and ribbon flowers and general millinery and straw goods. Milliners and others in that line will find all the latest styles from which to make seall the latest styles from which to make se-lection. Irish linens and white goods are also made a leading specialty, and the as-sortment in this line is in keeping with the display found in the other departments. A full assortment of cloths, cassimeres, jeans, flaunels, and all goods of this de-scription for men and women's heavy wear, presents quite an attractive feature to the city to do. presents quite an attractive feature to the general buyer. But we cannot go on enumerating, for our paper contains not enough space to name and properly classify the al-most numberless articles of dry goods, housekeeping goods, furnishing goods, wearing apparel, hostery, gloves and gen-eral notions. Readers must visit the estaberal notions. Readers must visit the estab-lishment in order to form a proper idea of lishment in order to form a proper idea of the extent and character of the establish-ment of Mr. Semple, and the reasonable and popular prices which prevail through-out every department. Perhaps we can enlighten our readers on the latter point by quoting a few of the prevailing prices, from which a fair estimate of the general run of articles may be obtained. OPERA HOUSE .- Last night was the ocheard of lately occured at the depot of the casion of Lotta's benefit at the Opera House, Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad yesand there has not been a larger and more respectable audience at any place of amusement this season. The "Female Detective" was presented, in which Lotta sustains five characters, all of which she stock of seasonable goods which he is sell-ing at very popular prices. We venture to To say that she is a star actress, is not sufficient, she is a constellation of stars within herself. At the matinee this afternon; she will appear in "Paul the Pet of the Peticoats" with "Nan" as an after-piece. The house will doubtless be crowd-

THEATRE COMIQUE.-The "Old Theatre" is still doing a good business; and the ex-cellent company is daily increasing in pop-ularity. The Goldin Brothers are the best gymnasts and acrobats wo have ever seen. Their feats on the horizontal bar are truly wonderful, and nust be seen to be appreci-ated. The lightning Zouave drill, by Mr. Austin and sister, is astonishing, and the ballet dancers are unapproachable. Matinee

500,000 DEVILS.—Mr. Zerboni the Iman-ager of the German Theatre in the Academy, has brought out, with a good deal of expense and trouble, a new extravaganza styled "Five Hundred Thousand Devils." It is one of those pieces, a constant succes-sion of which has made Kroll's Theatre in sion of which has made Kroli's Theatre in Berlin, a piece filled with popular songs, witticisms and local allusions, absurd situ-ations and impossible costumes. With that charming soubrette, Mmc. Zerboni, and the exclient low comedian of the troupe, the piece with all its own intrinsic excellences ought to have an extended run. Even for those unfamiliar with the German langnage the songs, scenery and costumes ought to be sufficient attraction to fill the Acadomy.

Travel Obstructed--A Bridge Caved In. Friday morning, between four and five o'clock, the bridge on the Farmers and Mechanics Turnpike at Soho caved in, completely obstructing the passage of all vehicles over the road beyond that point. The bridge was a stone structure comprising one arch of considerable length, and for some weeks past has been gradually giving way, until at the time stated the slow but sure work of destruction culminated in a sure work of destruction culminated if a general cave in. About one-half of the bridge next to the river is in a pile of ruins Since the consolidation of that district with the city will render the remuce of the toll gate at that point, it is to be presumed that the company will not go to the expense of rebuilding the bridge, but leave it for the Expensive Drunk.

Frank Campbell was drunk on Thursday, and concluded to take a ride in the Pittsburgh and Temperanceville Omnibus. After riding some distance he observed a fellow passenger sitting opposite him, whom he mistook for the conductor. Feeling rich, and wishing to make a display of his money, he handed the supposed conductor a ten dollar bill, from which to take the a ten dollar bill, from which to take the fare. He took the money, and stated that he had not sufficient change at the time, but would hand it to him before he left the "buss." When Campbell next thought of "buss." When camposi next indugit of his change, the supposed conductor was "non est." He appeared at the Mayor's of-fice to make information against his vic-timizer, but as his name is unknown, it is not at all probable that he will be appreterday. A few days since a trunk, the property of Miss Rhodes, at Connellsville, was shipped to that place, but by mistake brought back to the city and left in the baggage room at the depot, and as there was no address on it, no one about the depot knew to whom it belonged. Yesterday William Price walked into the depot. and seeing the trunk, claimed it, asked the baggage man at the station to assist him to arry it out, which, thinking the trunk be longed to Price, he did of course. It was removed to the Park Exchange, at the corner of Grant and Second Streets, by Price's orders, who requested the landlord to keep it until called for. In a few minutes after the baggage man re-turned to the depot a despatch was received from Connellsville, describing the trunk, and requesting that it be forwarded to that place. The baggage man was called and of Grant and Second streets, by Price place. The baggage man was called and asked if there was such a trunk in the room, when he stated that it had just been called for and taken to the Park Exchange. Officer Timony was sent for, and with the aid of the baggage man found the impu-dent thief and arrested him. The trunk was still at the Park Exchange, and it, with Price, was taken to the Mayor's office. The Price, ficer made information against charging him with larceny, and after a hearing, he was, in default of bail for his appearance at Court, committed to jail.
