The repairs to machinery are indispensable to insure abil-ity to furnish an adequate supply of water pending the construction of new works. The cost of work herein detailed is about

The Water Committee of 1829, in their annual report, state that the works were projected and erected for the sake of acprojected and erected for the sake of ac-complishing two permanent objects of the greatest importance to the comfort and safety of the citizens—the affording of an ample and constant supply of good water and security against the ravages of fire. The history of the past 30 years has de-monstrated the importance of the water works to the city. The wonderful growth of the new additions and claims for water privileges indicate that in the future the works are destined to become of even greater importance than in the past.

The population to be supplied by the additional facilities now proposed is more than equal to the entire population of the city when the water works were first erectived, and the value of improvements in much larger proportion. As a business investment, it is wise, and for sanitary reasons being desirable, upon Councils it devolves to take.

Your Committee respectfully ask the passage of the resolution hereto annexed:

THE MAYOR'S VETO OF SIDEWALK ORDI-NANCE. The President presented the opinion of the City Attorney in relation to the validity of the veto by the Mayor of the ordinance authorizing the widening of the sidewalks on Eifth street, as follows:

On Fifth street, as follows:

PITTSBURGH, April 14, 1868.
CITY ATTORNEY'S OFFICE.

GENTLEMEN: Your resolution of April 6th, in relation to the veto of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance increasing the width of sidewalks on Find street," and asking my opinion whether the ordinance is valid, notwithstanding the veto, has been presented to me, and I have the honor to give my opinion as follows:

The 18th section of the act of April 6, 1867, provides that "any ordinance when passed by the City Councils shall be signed by the Presidents of each Councils and shall be submitted to the Mayor of the city, who, if he approves the same, shall sign it, and if he does not approve it, he shall return it to the Councils with his objections thereto in writing, whereupon it shall be reconsidered, or if it be not returned within five days after it was delivered to the Mayor, it shall be deemed a valid ordinance, and shall have full force and effect, the same as if it had been approved and signed by the Mayor."

In this case the Mayor, within five days after the ordinance was delivered to the work of the same as if it had been approved and signed by the Mayor."

as if it had been approved and signed by the Mayor. In that case the Mayor, within five days after the ordinance was delivered to him, returned it to the Clerk of Council, with his objections in writing, but it was not presented to Councils until the 6th of April, which was long after the expiration of the five days, but was the first meeting of Councils after the passage of the ordinance.

The simple question is: In order to perfect a veto, is it necessary that the Mayor should return the ordinance to Councils in open session, within the five days pragerified?

My first impression was that it would be a sufficient compliance with the law to return the ordinance to the Clerk of Councils, from whom it had been received; but upon a more careful consideration I find many reasons for a contrary conclusion, and am satisfied that it was the duty of the Mayor to return the ordinance with his objections to Councils in open session.

Among the reasons for this conclusion I will state the following:

Pirat—A strict construction of the language of the act admits of the other conclusion, as it requires the ordinance to be returned to Councils and makes no provision for returning it to the Clerk. Councils is an organized body which is not represented by any of its officers.

Second—The object of the provision requiring the ordinance to be returned within five days was doubtless, to cusure speedy action upon its reconsideration. If it were sufficient to return the ordinance to be returned within five days was doubtless, to cusure speedy action upon its reconsideration. If the were sufficient to return the ordinance to the Clerk or President of Councils, as these officers do not have authority to convene Councils, and the law provides for quarterly sessions only it might happen that the reconsideration would be desired to the House in which it originated in open session. As the power conferred upon the Mayor by the ext of April 6, 1807, is copied from that given to the President and Governor, for the maining of this act.

five unjecting to be called at such time us a special meeting, to be called at such time us a special meeting, to be called at such time us a should designate.

For these reasons I am of opinion that the ordinance referred to in your resolution became a valid law, because not returned to Councils within five days, as prescribed by the Act of Assembly.

Very respectfully,

J. F. SLAGLE,

City Attorney.

On motion of Mr. Batchelor, the communication was received and filed. CLAIM ORDERED PAID.

Pittsburgh is very properly termed the "Birmingham of America," in consequence of her many iron establishments, which Resolved, That the City Controller be and is hereby authorized to certify a warrant in city in the United States, but for many years have been more judiciously conductive. ed, and more productive of good to the community as well as more profitable to the proprietors. This might be accounted for in various ways, but the principal cause to which it should be attributed is, that very generally, the proprietors are practical business men. Of this class is the firm of Carol & Snyder, boiler makers and manufactures of sheet-iron, oil tanks, stills, &c. Their establishment, which is one of the largest and most complete in its appointments of any in the city, is situated on Short street, occupying the entire square from Second to Third streets, a distance of one hundred and sixty feet, and extends back one hundred feet. It is a two-story briot building in the content of which is a back one hundred feet. It is a two-story brick building, in the center of which is a boiler yard about eighty by one hundred feet. The first floor of that portion of the building fronting on Second street is used as the fitting shop, and in it is the principal part of the machinery used for cutting, punching and bending the iron, which is run by a thirty-horse power engine. The finishing shop is on the opposite side and fronts on Third-street, where all the necessary machinery of the most approved style is found, which is run by an engine of twenty-five horse power. Beengine of twenty-five horse power. Be-tween these buildings and fronting on Short street is the business office, in the rear of which is the boiler or tank yard. The second story is used for the manufacture of sheet iron. This firm manufactures boilers and tanks of all sizes. They are now engaged on a pair of boilers for James Wood, Son & Co., of Wheatland, Ohio, 36 inches in diameter by 60 feet in length, and are just completing a contract with the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company for 125 oil car Valley Railroad Company for 125 oil car tanks of 42 barrels capacity each. Within a year past they built an oil tank of 25,000 barrels capacity. We discovered in the fin-ishing shop, nearly completed, three of Dr. Weddle's patent stills, 8 feet in diameter by 12 feet long, which are for the use of the Aladin Oil Company. In addition to what we have enumerated, Messrs. Carol & Snyder engage extensively in building wrought iron bridges. In the course of a year there is worked up in this establishment about three hundred tons of boiler iron; five hundred tons of tank iron, and from eighty to one hundred tons of sheet iron. The boil er iron used is of the very best quality, all stamped and made from charcoal hammerstamped and made from charcoal hammer-ed blooms. When running to their full ca-pacity about eighty-five hands are employ-ed; at present, however, they are working but fifty. The boiler and tank works are under the supervision of Mr. Frederick Rephan, one of the most experienced workmen in the city, and the sheet iron shops are superintended by Mr. Michael Revan who is also an experienced work Reyan, who is also an experienced work-man. The present firm has been in existence about eleven years, and is a continuation of the old firm of Henry Busha & Co., which was one of the first boiler and sheet iron establishments started in this city. Under the present proprietors, however, the business has largely increased, and it may now be considered the leading establishment of its character in the country.

Messrs. Carol & Snyder are not only practical business men, but are both experienced mechanics, Mr. C. having served an apprenticeship in the establishment of which he is now one of the proprietors. Having a thorough knowledge of their business, they are enabled to conduct it in such a manner as to render entire satisfac-tion to their patrons and with profit to themselves. They are both high-toned, honorable and fair dealing men, and we take pleasure in recommending them to the public.
