Gold closed in New York yesterday at 184.

The Indianapolis Herald, the Democratic organ of Indiana, sunk $20,000 last year. It has passed into the hands of a nephew of Jesse Bright, ex-Senator.

The succession to the Presidency, in case the office be vacated prior to the expiration of the Constitutional term, is regulated by a law passed in March, 1792.

The press of the North and South are running wild on the subject of the Ku-Klux-Klan. That such an organization of rebels exists we have ample assurance, but its strength and power is greatly exaggerated.

THE ERIE RAILWAY SLAUGHTER. We print some additional and interesting particulars of this shocking and wholesale murder.

But our notice in bringing up this matter, now and in this form, is not so much to forestall action, here or elsewhere, as to suggest the necessity for a definite understanding in the premises.

IMPEACHMENT. The Senate continues to indulge Mr. Johnson's counsel in a very wide latitude of testimony.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE. The General Assembly of the Old School Presbyterian Church will hold its annual session at New Albany, New York, commencing May 21st.

RE-UNION COMMITTEES. The Re-union Committee will be rushed through the Assembly without any further action being necessary.

THE ERIE RAILWAY SLAUGHTER. Another passenger says he knows not how to account for the catastrophe; but he narrates the following colloquy which occurred in his hearing.

THE ERIE RAILWAY SLAUGHTER. The Philadelphia Press says: A conference of the friends of American industry will be held at the Metropolitan Hotel, New York, on Thursday, the 28th inst., at 12 o'clock.

CONSUMPTION. Check and conquer its advances, lest you fall the victim. When attacked with any of its preliminary symptoms, no matter how slight, be on your guard and promptly use the remedy we offer.

THE BROWN FAMILY. Ladies migrating to the country for the summer are pretty sure to become members of this dusty family.

THE CORONET OF NATURE. It is a magnificent head of hair. It enables the features, however homely, to present to the eye a pleasing and attractive appearance.

piece with the insinuations against the integrity of certain Republican Senators, is entitled to equal credence and, no doubt, emanates from the same discreditable sources.

MR. THOMAS WILLIAMS. The third term of service of Mr. THOMAS WILLIAMS in the House of Representatives at Washington is drawing to a close.

THE DUTCH. The dropping of the "Dutch" seems to have started new life into the Reformed Church.

THE NEW ENGLAND M. E. CONFERENCE. Its late session at Boston, denounced the proscription of the M. E. Church, by the Government in the selection of chaplains to the army and navy.

THE NEW YORK POST OF THURSDAY EVENING. A number of those who were slighted by the New York Post of Thursday evening, among the number were A. G. Gillet, Mercer county, Pa., Mrs. O. S. Gillet, and Mrs. Stewart.

self-sustaining. Receipts for books and for missionary purposes about four hundred thousand dollars, of which over one-fourth have been expended for salaries of missionaries, donation of books, and other things.

There are seventeen hundred and eighty-three American domestic missions under the care of the Methodist Episcopal Missionary Society. The General Missionary Committee, appropriated for this work, for the year 1867-8, the sum of five hundred and forty-nine thousand and eight hundred dollars.

The American Churchman, commenced its seventh year, April 9th, in a new dress, and enlarged. It presents quite a creditable appearance. The paper is well edited and is of the progressive school.

Fears are entertained that the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church will end the year of its work, which closes on the 1st of May, with a large debt encumbering it. This arises from the high price of exchange and its enlarged operations. This vigorous body of Christians should see that this noble cause is sustained.

The dropping of the "Dutch" seems to have started new life into the Reformed Church. We notice the record of more revival intelligence, in that ably conducted journal, the Christian Intelligencer, than usual.

The New England M. E. Conference, at its late session at Boston, denounced the proscription of the M. E. Church, by the Government in the selection of chaplains to the army and navy.

Another passenger says he knows not how to account for the catastrophe; but he narrates the following colloquy which occurred in his hearing.

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP. It is an old, well tried, certain and standard remedy for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Breathing Pain or Oppression in the Chest, etc.

A MISERABLE SHAKER. It is the victim to Fever and Ague. This tedious and insupportable disease is, unfortunately, too well known to need a description.

THE BROWN FAMILY. Ladies migrating to the country for the summer are pretty sure to become members of this dusty family.

THE CORONET OF NATURE. It is a magnificent head of hair. It enables the features, however homely, to present to the eye a pleasing and attractive appearance.

SUPERIORITY WILL TELL. The reputation of the toilet articles manufactured by Joseph Burnett & Co., of Boston, has subjected them to a pressure which no man regrets.

A MISTAKE CORRECTED. Moore insists that "all that sweet was made but to be lost when sweetest." Now see how a plain, sweet perfume, the very breath of Florida, is incorporated with what we call "BURNETT'S COCOAINE," so that it is not only sweet, but it is also a beauty.

at once destroy all true principles of making an offering to God, as an act of worship. This has the true evangelical ring and will have a good effect not only on parishes in his own diocese, but the Christian world generally.

In New York City the total number of Churches and places of worship of all kinds is over four hundred, with accommodations for two hundred thousand persons. The average attendance is about one hundred and fifty thousand.

Reference was made, not long since, to the expected reelection of Rev. Dr. Nesbit, for the third term, as editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, since which, we are informed, his name has been proposed for one of the three Bishops likely to be elected by the General Conference next month.

THE ERIE RAILROAD DISASTER. We append the additional particulars at hand of this shocking calamity, and its probable cause. M. M. A. Blakelee, a resident of Olean, N. Y., who was a passenger in one of the cars which went over the embankment, says:

"I was awakened by the sudden stopping of the cars. There was a wrench as if the coupling was breaking. A wall quiet in the car yet. I sprang from my berth to the floor; just then the car was dragged by the others over the embankment. I then threw myself full length upon the floor and the car went over and over, and the sides fell outward. I was about to rise when the iron roof of the car came crashing down, and was held by a broken framework within, three inches of my head. Crawling out, I saw a man wounded. I managed to extricate myself from the wreck. The ladies' car was on fire, and on every side of me sufferers were shrieking and groaning in agony. The man came up when the fire began to extricate the dead and wounded. I helped to clear away the rubbish of the wreck."

Mr. Blakelee declares "that it was the most perfect wreck that could be imagined, nothing but a mass of chips and splinters remaining of the broken coupling and one ladies' car. I counted five dead bodies in the car that I was in. There were three killed, and afterward burned in the ladies' car. I saw five more dead bodies upon the railroad track. I should judge there were at least fifty badly wounded. I was told by a friend of mine, a Mr. Porter, that the train was running at the rate of forty or fifty miles an hour. It was told at Salamanca, when I embarked, that the train was then thirty minutes behind schedule in consequence of having been delayed some time near Corry, Pa., in picking up the body of a man who had been killed by the train passing over him."

tracted for the purchase of 20,000 tons of steel rails, to replace the broken rails which had been snapped during the severe cold weather. That, immediately after the granting of the injunction, the firm with whom they contracted refused to furnish the rails unless the amount should be deposited with Baring & Brothers.

The scenes in the Delaware House are truly horrible; from every room groans and lamentations proceed, and the air is seen hurrying to and fro, doing all in their power to alleviate the suffering. At the depot the heart-rending hundreds of anxious people, friends supposed to have been on board, and the cries and tears of those who recognized in the room full of mutilated corpses, some dear relatives, would move a heart of stone.

The coroner's jury have rendered the following verdict: "That the evidence before us we have arrived at the conclusion that the deceased, Tobias Ehrlich, came to his death on the track at Carr's Rock, Pennsylvania, the accident being caused by a broken rail. The occurrence, in our opinion, might have been avoided had the train run at less speed, owing to the unsafe condition of the road."

A Port Jervis dispatch states that robbers were committed upon the dead and wounded after the disaster, by passengers who were saved by being in the forward cars. Money in large sums and gold watches, were even taken from the pockets of the dead, and rings torn from the fingers used to release the fingers from the fingers of a lady who was at the time conscious enough only to be able afterwards to tell the story. People who were at the scene, say they could not protect the sufferers from such sacrilege.

The following are the names of additional killed and wounded: Killed—An unknown man, since identified as J. D. Hurd, and the unknown boy, son of J. D. Hurd, both of Urbana, Ohio. H. P. Corwin, of Urbana, Ohio, should have been Mr. Ehrlich, of Hornellsville, New York. Mrs. J. Decker, of New York, probably hurt. Mrs. J. Decker, of New York, Kercher died at 6:30 P. M. Wounded Unknown woman; Mary Sterling, Wells, Ohio, supposed to be going to Ithaca, New York. Lewis B. Collins, of South Byron, New York, Susan Squires, of Stafford, New York, and A. W. Gardner, of Batavia, New York, are reported missing. They were traveling together.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. Success Tells Its Own Story. The immense demand for BURNETT & CO.'S standard preparations for the toilet, in New York, has induced that celebrated Boston House to open a large and elegant branch establishment at No. 599 Broadway.

The Chemistry of Cookery. Nobody ever tastes a cream, a custard, a pie, a pudding or a sauce flavored appropriately with one of Burnett's Standard Extracts, without, like Oliver Twist, "asking for more!"

Important to Epileptics. Some of the most eminent cooks in this country—among the rest Monsieur Biot, the Parisian Chef-d'Hotel—have emphatically approved of Burnett's Flavoring Extracts.

To the Educated Palate. Burnett's Standard Extracts have taken the lead of all other flavoring preparations in this country. They have a national reputation, and no lady who understands their value will ever be without them.

Burnett's Extracts. Authors often interlard their works with "elegant poetic extracts," but the true poetry of epicureanism is condensed and perfected in the two flavoring preparations known as "Burnett's Standard Extracts." The essences of the most delicious fruits are embodied in them, and there are few American housekeepers who do not appreciate their usefulness and acknowledge their superiority.

A Challenge and a Test. Blindfold a connoisseur in perfume, and then submit him for comparison BURNETT'S COLOGNE WATER, and the best manufactured by any man in the world, to the test of his palate. This test of excellence is challenged by the American manufacturer, and he believes that his article, under such an ordeal, will be mistaken at least three times out of six for the "genuine German."

Kallistion. To the beautiful influence of BURNETT'S KALLISTION thousands of ladies owe the preservation of their complexions during the season. Apply it to the evening and it will undo all the mischief the wind and sun may have done to the skin during the day. Tan, freckles, moles, redness, prickly heat, blotches, &c., vanish under its cooling, purifying operation, like mist under a ray of the breeze.

CONSUMPTION. Check and conquer its advances, lest you fall the victim. When attacked with any of its preliminary symptoms, no matter how slight, be on your guard and promptly use the remedy we offer.
