Compound interest notes are not in very active demand. Most of these notes are now in the hands of banks, where they will remain till maturity, unless some extraordinary pressure draws them out from their snug retreats. The compounds not matured are due in the months of May, August, September and October of this year, and they amount to about forty-six millions exclusively of the eight or nine millions of interest due upon them. These notes are a very pleasant and profitable reserve for the banks, and their retirement will reduce the income of the national institutions.

May 1, with its heavy shower of gold interest, is rapidly approaching. For fear that the gold bulls and bears are not fully aware of the size of the great May gold disbursements, we give the exact figures: The grand total is $25,194,146, and it is made up of the maturing coupons of the $514,789,000 of the 5-20's of 1862; the $120,443,800 of the 5-20's of 1864, and the $195,953,900 of the 5-20's of 1866.

The Philadelphia Ledger, of Saturday, says: Money was the subject of considerable inquiry among the stock dealers on Third street, though the panic was not so pressing as the day before, when one small failure was reported. Call loans on Government collateral is still quoted at 7 per cent, and on inferior securities 7 1/2 to 8 per cent. The current steel rates for prime commercial paper is 8 to 10 per cent. discount.

We clip the following from the New York Times of Saturday: The Board of Directors of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Road, at their special meeting in March, by capitalizing 10 per cent of the net earnings of the road heretofore expended in the improvement of the line and the increase of its equipment and station property, the Scrip Dividend is made 10 per cent. to all stockholders on the close of the transfer at 100, on Monday next, April 20; the dividend payable May 1.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET. OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, April 18, 1888. CRUDE The crude market has ruled remarkably quiet during the past week, the sales in the aggregate being comparatively light, while prices have undergone no material change. It was thought during the early part of the week that under the influence of the resumption of navigation and large receipts, that prices would give out, but this far these expectations have not been realized. On Wednesday and Thursday there were a few sales made at a reduction of about a quarter, but to-day the market closed pretty strong at prices current at the opening of the week, and buyers seemed to be about as numerous as sellers. We can report 700 bbls. to be delivered within ten days, at 8 1/2; 700 to same delivery, 8 1/2, and 1000 for April at 8 1/2. May, June and July would command 8 1/2, but so far as we can learn, there are no sellers below 9 1/2 to 9 3/4. If the year, buyer option, is nominal at 12c.

REFINED—There was a fair volume of business done in bonded oil during the early part of the week, but for the past two or three days there has been little or nothing done. The market, however, is steady with considerable inquiry both for present and future deliveries, and prices, although without quotable change, are well sustained, and the offerings continue light. We can report a sale of 1000 barrels for April at 21c, delivered free on board cars here, and 1000 for May at 25 1/2c, delivered in Philadelphia. We are cognizant of a refusal having been asked for June to December, at 25c for June and a half advance; the last four months could be sold at 28c, and all the year, buyer's option, at 31c.
