-Anthony Trollope is in New York. There are 145,000 public houses in England and Wales.

EPHEMERIS.

-Steamboats began running on the Pend d'Oreille Lake last week. One of Bierstadt's pictures is now on exhibition in San Francisco. -Crops and railroads have been injured by the heavy rains in Missouri.

-Queen Victoria is now the grandmother of six Prussian scions of royalty. -At the spot where D'Arcy McGee fell, a commemorative tablet is to be placed. -Three hundred servants are employed by the Continental Hotel in Philadelphia. -Pastor (not Pontius) Pilate, a renowned Parisian divine, is in the United States.

-A rumor is prevalent which hints at the possibility of the resignation of Gen. Sickles. -The first sleeping car in Minnesota, went into use on a St. Paul Railway last week.

-Governor English, of Connecticut, is spoken of for Vice President by Pendletonians.

-The Domes of the Yo Semite, Bierstadt's great painting, is now on exhibition in London. -A memorial church to Bishop Delancey is to be erected this summer in Geneva,

New York. -Dr. Dio Lewis has suspended school teaching and returned to his first love, new gymnastics. -Major General Anderson, of Sumpter fame, is to spend the summer at North Adams, Mass. --There are 1,906 ways of spelling Shakespeare, and there is no one way particularly authorized.

-Over five hundred thousand volumes of the Appletons' cheap edition of Dickens's works have been sold. -The health of Senator Nye is improving. This is the Senator recently immortalized by Mark Twaine. -Missouri congressmen bet hats on elections, and when they lose, send them out, franked, from Washington.

-Arch Duke Henry of Austria with his thespian wife, is living at Lausanne, in Switzerland, as Count Waldeck. -The new building to be occupied by the Department of Agriculture in Washington, will be ready for use in June. -The law prohibiting whipping in schools was repealed by the Democratic Legislature of New Jersey before adjournment. -When copperhead papers delight in styling Ben. Butler, Sergeant Buzfuz, they forget that the Seargent won his case. -In 1866 nine females over one hundred years of age died in Massachusetts. They had all been married and were widows. -The original "old oaken bucket" of the Woodworth has been procured from his old homestead and is now in Boston. -The great tubular bridge across the Menai Straights is composed of four spans, two of 230 feet each and two of 459 feet

-Kansas hotels must be pleasant caravanseries. Gen. Sherman says "their price is three dollars a day-board and lodging extra." -G. A. Townsend, who makes the most ridiculous descriptions that ever were attempted, has come out with one of Senator Morton. -The panfier, the exaggerated bustle of modern fashion, has been introduced into Boston by two beautiful young ladies of fashion. -Public executions have been abolished in England. Like all other reforms, a stormy and long protracted war preceded its adoption. -Hamburg is to have a first class daily English newspaper, for which a very heavy circulation is expected throughout Northern Germany.

-John Smith killed his brother-in-law, Edward Flynn, in Mechanicsburg, N. Y. on the 15th inst., by accidentially discharging an old gun. Miss Edith Abell, of Springfield, Mass. has joined the Richings Opera troupe and will shortly make her debut as Arline in the Bohemian girl.

-Madame Scheller, who supported Booth in many of his principle roles before the advent of Miss McVicker, is now playing in Cheyenne City.

-A line of steamers between Liverpool and Galveston has been started. The Pioneer, the first of this line, is now load. ing at Galveston.

-The "alias" Ad Interim is said to gall General Lorenzo Thomas amazingly, but it will nevertheless, in all probability, stick to him until his dying day.

-A Frenchman's idea of oratory is the art of saying everything without being put in the Bastile, in a country where you are forbidden to say anything. -A St. Louis tobacco millionaire will probably revel in all the luxuries of a Missouri penitentiary shortly, for having defrauded the revenue officers.

-Several of the first ladies of New York are going to sing at a concert for the benefit of the Southern sufferers. Bishop Potter is the originator of the movement.

-There was good skating in Gloversville, N. Y., last week, and the local papers made some apt and original remarks about winter lingering in the lap of spring Janauscheck is playing to perfectly immense houses in New York. In this in-

Magazine. If the laureste does not stop writing trash, such a warning will before long be unnecessary.

Gov. Fletcher, of Missouri, says that the delegation from his State will vote solid for Senator Wade for Vice-President at the Chicago Convention. On Thursday morning last the oil refinery of Messrs. Merritt & Poulteney, at Baltimore, was totally destroyed by fire. Loss $20,000. Insurance, $15,000. -One murder per day is considered sufficient to keep Troy. N. Y. in a state of pleasantly horrible excitement, provided that the polytechnic school is in session.

-Mme Miramon, of Mexican fame, is in Brussels with her family. An interview with the ex-Empress of Mexico will probably take place before she sets out for Vienna. -Mr. Adams is still unable to attend the Queen's drawing rooms. He is not allowed to go in court costume, by the home government, nor is he allowed by court etiquette to go without the established dress. -We find in an exchange the following in description of Mr. Drew: "Strong will without words is written on his mouth and palpebrous brow." Palpebrous is the word, as Samson Brass was wont to remark

-George Francis Train has discovered that the air is full of Cromwells. This is very bad, very bad indeed, for the air, and: if the Cromwells be dead ones, very bad indeed for the general health of Dublin. -All the new bridal veils are purchased at the Paris exposition, a really ultra fashionable bride couldn't be induced to be married in one purchased any place else. A manufactory is proposed for making veils purchased there.

-A Baltimore lady named Mrs. Moore died recently at Trieste, aged seventy-seven. The lady has for forty years been known by all American frequenters of that city on account of the delightful way in which she dispensed her generous hospitalities.

-The late avalanche near Cisco, Cal. has been estimated to have been ten feet deep, half a mile wide, five miles long, and to have weighed over five millions of tons, all of which induces us to think that we should'nt like to go snow balling in that State,

Miss Fanny Haskell, of Batavia, New York, is what might with verity be styled a phenomenon of music. She can and does play two airs with her right hand, one with her left and sing a fourth, all at the same time. This would be decidedly more wonderful than harmonious to her audience.

-Two weeks ago last Saturday the dead bodies of two men, named Frank Scofield and James Reynolds, were found a few miles east of Cheyenne City. Both were scalped and two arrows were found sticking in one of them. The bodies were buried in Cheyenne. It is uncertain whether the murder was the work of the Sionx or of the Cheyennes.

-Walt Whitman, whatever his success as a poet may be, is not, as a personalist, a success. One of the most utterly absurd magazine articles we have ever been doomed to read is his Personalism in the May Galaxy. Among other astounding statements he avers that no amount of culture will endow a man with self-possession, that brass is born, like poets, and not made. Every one of the thousands of men, who, though now possessed of easy and elegant address, once suffered all the agonies of diffidence, will be able and willing to refute Mr. Whitman's statements

-A practice somewhat prevalent among certain class of lawyers came nearly proving fatal the other day in Philadelphia A case was being argued before an Alderman, and the attorney used in the course of his remarks, very insulting language regarding the defendant, who was a young girl; the brother of the young woman was there, and he whipped out a pistol and was about to fire, when the bystanders interfered and disarmed him. The language used sometimes by lawyers is truly outrageous and the pistol-justice of the young Philadelphian would hardly be too severe a refaliation
