

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

A MISSING MAN FOUND.

A Mystery Explained.—The Body of Anthony Freyvoegle Found in the Ohio River.—Cause of his Death.—Unknown.—Coroner's Inquest.—By H. C. B. ...

The Works of the Pittsburgh Bolt Company destroyed.—Loss $100,000.—Insurance $40,000.—A most disastrous fire occurred Sunday morning, at half-past six o'clock, in the works of the Pittsburgh Bolt Company, by which the entire establishment, and a large amount of valuable machinery, was destroyed.

On Tuesday, May 21st, at about eight o'clock in the evening, he left some acquaintances on Diamond alley, and started for home. Not the least trace of his person, or of his whereabouts, was to be seen until Friday evening last, nothing was heard or seen of him. Every effort was made to solve the mystery; rewards were offered, detectives endeavored to find traces of him, his friends were given to understand that he had been abandoned and confined in some Lunatic Asylum; yet nothing definite being known in regard to him, they were left in a state of suspense until the present time.

On Friday afternoon, at about six o'clock, Jacob and John Lashell and John Hughes, while engaged in their usual business at Lashell's Landing, opposite Sewickley, discovered the dead body of a man floating in the river near the landing. The body was secured, and notified Coroner Clawson by telegraph, stating in the dispatch that the body was believed to be that of Anthony Freyvoegle.

The inquest then adjourned to meet at the Mayor's office at ten o'clock this morning, and the Coroner had the body packed in ice and removed to the city, where it was examined yesterday by Dr. Murdoch, who stated that he was unable to find any marks of violence. The holes in the head spoken of in some of the city papers having apparently been made by a bullet and buckshot prove to be merely indentations of the outer skull, made, the Dr. says, by coming in contact with some pointed and hard substance after decomposition had taken place.

Fire in Ross Township.—Mettung Oil Works destroyed.—Loss $100,000.—Insurance $11,000.—A destructive conflagration took place about four o'clock Saturday morning in the Oil Works of the Montana Refinery and Storage Company in Ross township, on the Ferryville Plank Road, about half a mile from the Allegheny City line, by which the Oil works and three dwellings were entirely destroyed.

Another Den of Infamy.—From the number of prosecutions against persons for keeping bawdy houses it could appear as though there was a determination to rid the city of them. Scarcely a week passes with one or more informations being made charging persons with keeping houses of this character, so that the business has become a very unprofitable one.

Palmyra Accident.—An accident occurred at a sparring match, which took place in Wilkins Hall, Saturday night, between Joseph and John Rogers. They were engaged in a "set to" when they clinched, and fell in such a manner as to break one of the bones in Joseph's left ankle.

Body Found.—Coroner's Inquest.—The body of an unknown man was found between two rafts in the Ohio river near Neville Station, on the P. F. W. & C. R. R. about two o'clock Saturday afternoon, by Alfred Evans. The deceased was apparently about 30 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches high, black hair and whiskers, was dressed in a black and red flannel shirt, gray woolen undershirt, and a pair of blue trousers and blue socks with white toes.

Personal.—Mr. John Wright, who was leader of music in the First Presbyterian church for twenty-five years, died at his residence a few days ago, in the City of Paris, to be absent a few months.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Opera House.—Under the most annoying circumstances Mr. Edwin Adams arrived through the moral drama of the "Deborah" on Saturday night at this "high-toned and popular place of amusement."

The Circus.—Thayer & Noyes' circus drew a very large audience on Saturday night at the Barron's Music Hall, the largest we have seen for many years past gathered beneath the tent. Every body was in the best of humor, and the performance afforded, and the audience gave frequent signs of approval and delight by wild and rapturous applause.

The Franklin Exchange, Franklin, Pa.—Perhaps the finest hotel structure outside of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, in the State, and certainly one of the best managed and most ably conducted, is the Franklin Exchange, Franklin, Pa. It is of massive proportions, presenting an elegant appearance, is admirably located in the heart of the city, and fitted and furnished throughout in the highest style of art.

Pittsburgh Theatre.—This old and popular theatre, under the management of excellent management, continues to draw largely from the patronage of its more pretentious rival up street. The bill for the evening is "The Barber's Shave," and the corps of colored negro delineators, pantomimists, dancers and vocalists are quite attractive.

Barnum's Museum.—The attendance at Barnum's Museum is daily increasing. The Museum presents many natural curiosities and is eminently worthy of a visit.

A Case Compromised.—A rather peculiar case of assault and battery was brought before Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham, which, through the intervention of the learned counsel, the parties left the floor on more friendly terms, if possible, than they had ever been previously, notwithstanding the fact of them being husband and wife.

Reports of Letter Carriers for April.—Following are the reports of the Letter Carriers of Pittsburgh and Allegheny City, showing the number of letters and papers carried and delivered during the month of April:

Table with columns: Mail Letters, Drop Letters, Papers, Total. Rows for Allegheny City and Pittsburgh.

Alleged Horse Thief Arrested.—John Christy was arrested Saturday charged with the possession of a horse, which was stolen from John Mitchell, of Lawrence county, which was subsequently found in the possession of John Mitchell, a butcher, in Allegheny, and delivered to the owner. Haul alleges that he purchased the horse from Christy, and on this charge he was committed to jail for a further hearing on the 12th instant.

AN OLD FIRM IN A NEW PLACE.—Grand Opening of J. M. Burchfield & Co.

No dry goods dealer has longer or more deservedly occupied a high position in the estimation of patrons generally than Mr. J. M. Burchfield, who has just entered into a new co-partnership and will open this day, at No. 52 St. Clair street, with an entire new stock of goods. The firm of J. M. Burchfield & Co. have taken great pains in fitting out their new sales room, which is supplied with the most elegant buildings on St. Clair street. It has been thoroughly renovated, and refitted, and is now one of the prettiest, as well as best adapted, storerooms in the city.

City Teachers' Association.—Second Meeting.—Address by the Chairman.—The first stated meeting of the Pittsburgh Teachers' Association was held Saturday morning in the Hall of the Western University, at Diamond and Ross streets.

Parting Testimonial.—A very affecting parting scene took place at the Sandusky street School on Thursday afternoon. Mr. C. A. Chamberlain, the principal, having resigned, an account of ill health, the directors, teachers, and pupils met in his room, and Mr. Young, in behalf of the teachers and pupils, presented Mr. C. with a very handsome gold-headed cane, as a slight token of their love and regard. He responded in a very appropriate and impressive manner. Mr. Francis, in behalf of the Board of Directors, expressed their regret at the departure of one who had done so faithfully. Mr. Loomis also made some very beautiful remarks, saying he had often spoken to witness such parting scenes in this world, but he hoped all would meet in that place where partings are unknown. After singing "Shall we gather at the river?" Mr. Chamberlain bade farewell to all. He has the good wishes of all for his speedy recovery.

Grand Opening.—Messrs. Rosenbaum, Steinhard & Co., the popular dealers in trimmings, notions, straw and millinery goods, announce the grand opening of their new store, at No. 43 Third street, on Saturday morning. The attention of our lady readers is directed to this firm, which has succeeded in pleasing the public since their advent into our midst, and have kept such an elegant display of fashionable goods on hand as to win the patronage from the community. The firm have just received a fine stock of straw goods, such as bonnets, hats, cords and tassels, together with ribbons of all kinds, artificial flowers, bonnet and hat frames, crepes, illusions, silks, satins, laces, veils, embroideries, white goods, hosiery, gloves, furnishings, goods, parasols, sunshades, and the thousand and one other articles embraced in their line of trade. Our ladies will find the opening-to-day very attractive.

Struck a Boy.—James Kelly made information before Alderman Thomas against Frederick Bringer, charging him with having committed an assault and battery on his son, William J. Kelly. The parties reside on Gibson street, in the Eighth ward. The prosecutor alleges that his son, William J. Kelly, was playing with a defendant's stable when he rushed out and struck him on the arm with a stick or whip. A warrant was issued on Saturday, and after a hearing held to bail for his appearance at court.

Amende Honorable.—In Saturday's Gazette we published an item under the caption of "A Cutlery Business," which did great injustice to a very worthy gentleman, who sustains a character in this community above the suspicion of a disreputable act. He simply took possession of his own goods, and a prosecution was made out of anything but a commendable spirit by the prosecutor. The case was promptly dismissed, and the prosecutor made his disappearance.

Held for Trial.—Ed. McGinn and Thos. Devine, charged on oath of L. B. Kelly with the larceny of sixty dollars, the particulars of which have been previously reported, had a final hearing before Alderman Strain on Saturday, and were held to bail in the sum of five hundred dollars each for their appearance at Court, and Kelly, charged on oath of James Brightmore with perjury, was, in default of bail, committed for trial.

Drugs, Drugs, Drugs.—Go to Burns & Caughy's drug store, corner of Penn and St. Clair streets, for the finest assortment of pomades, perfumes, Colognes, toilet waters, and every description of all kinds, at day, and sold at the very lowest rates. Remember the place, Burns & Caughy, corner of Penn & St. Clair streets.

Malignant Mischief.—T. H. Bolton made information before Alderman Taylor Saturday, charging Ed. McGinn and Thomas Devine with malicious mischief. He alleges that they maliciously broke a light of glass for his window. A warrant was issued for their arrest.

Steamboat Detained.—Owing to the unfavorable state of the weather, the steamer "Kate Robinson," has been detained, and will now continue her trip through to St. Louis. She advertises for Cincinnati, Louisville, Cairo and St. Louis, to-morrow afternoon at four o'clock.

Surety of the Peace.—A. A. Lott made information before Alderman Taylor Saturday, against Peter Schuster for surety of the peace, alleging that Peter called him "negro" names, and threatened to hit him with a cane. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Peter.
