wei-known genueman of this city, who was on board, gave us the above informa-tion. The St. Charles arrived at Cincinnation Sunday, and the J. N. McCullough left there the same day for Pittsburgh. The St. Louis Republican says: We take the following from an Illinois. exchange, and have Captain Abrans' word that it was an actual occurrence. It shows what opposition and dull times have brought steamboats to: The following incident is. snid to have actually occurred, as the Belle of Pike was on her down trip last Saturday evening, at Jones' Ferry: Capt. Abrams was standing on the promenade deck, when the boat was halled by a small boy on shore, and, after landing, the following dialogue ensued: Capt.-"What is wan-ted?" Small boy-"I say, Cap., take this letter to St. Louis, and put a three-cent stamp on it, and put it in the post office." Capt.--"Hand it to the man on the plank." Boy hands the letter to "an American citi-zen of African desceni."
