

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

A Relic of Southern Barbarism.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Chronicle, writing from Chillicothe, Ohio, says: Coming out over the Marietta and Cincinnati road, on the evening of the 22nd...

There is a gentleman in England who proposes to teach the people the Chinese language. He encourages them by stating that the grammar is rather difficult...

In Putnam's Magazine, for May, Mr. C. W. Elliott gives a sketch of life in San Francisco which is not very gossipy but statistical.

The Superintendent of the Erie Railway, in his official report of the accident at Carr's Rock, says: "In all, nineteen persons were killed outright, and five others have since died."

There are certain facts which must be accepted by the people of the North, and upon these they must base all future action. They are as follows:

- 1. The white people will not work.
2. The blacks do not display a very great amount of industry, though in this respect they are superior to the "domestic race."
3. The chief occupation of all these is politics.

An inveterate enmity exists between the whites and the blacks, and they will not affiliate to an extent greater than is absolutely necessary.

These are the facts which must be accepted, and, altogether, then, it would be well to act from the standpoint of the form—Correspondence Cincinnati Commercial.

Interesting to the Wool-growers. The Wool Growers of Ohio have just held a meeting at Chillicothe, and in their resolutions, that of the Wool-growers, who have been instrumental in procuring the passage of a tariff that excludes from importation certain qualities or grades of wool...

The Folsom of California. In California it grows to a height of from six to ten feet, and in some localities covers small hillsides with one tangled wall of its vines.

Dr. McCoski, the Scottish metaphysician and divine, who has just been elected President of Princeton College, New Jersey, is one of the most accomplished modern scholars in his special department of mental and moral philosophy.

How to Get Sleep.

This is to many persons a matter of high importance. Nervous persons, who are troubled with wakefulness and excitability, usually have a strong tendency of blood on the brain, with cold extremities.
