The Coroner's Inquest Concluded-Verdict of the Jury-The Mystery Unexplained. The jury empannelled by Coroner Claw-son in the case of Anthony Freyvogle, assembled at the Coroner's office at one g'dock Saturday afternoon, and after liearing the following testimony, completed their labors, by rendering a verdict:

John Kucschler, sworn-Wass acquainted with Mr. Freyvogle. Saw him last on a Tuesday in January last. He came into o'elock in the morning. My shep is on Market alley. A milkman was with him, and Frayvogle told the barber to hurry, as he wanted to go away with the milkman. The milkman said he wanted Freyvogle to go with him to pay for a cow he had bought the day before. Never saw Frey-vogle after that. The two men left the shop together, saying they were going to Alexy rendering a vertice. John Kueschler, sworn-Wast acquainted vogle after that. The two men set the shop together, saying they were going to Alex-ander Murray's. Think this man (Lutey) is the man who was with Freyvogle. One of the hands said afterwards that the same of the hands said alterwards that the same nilkman came, in next morning and got shaved. Noticed nothing particular about Freyvogle. A Mystery-Probable Suicide.

A mysterious affair occurred about seven o'clock p. m., yesterday, on the Hand street bridge, which for a time created considerable excitement in that locality. At the time mentioned, three young ladies were crossing the bridge and had proceeded about one-fourth of the way over, when they were met by a man with neither coat they were net by a man with neither coat or hat on, who conducted himself, in such a manner as to lead them to belleve him de-ranged. He ranget hold of one of the la-dies, who screamed and ran, when he turned and ran the other way. The ladles then came back to this end of the bridge, and in-formed a policeman of what had occurred. The officer went in search of the man, and saw him climb over the railing of the bridge at the second pier, and on arriving at the as nim cumo over the raining of the order at the second pier, and on arriving at the pier, heard a splash in the water below, but could not see the object of his search. The Other Side.

We published in the GAZETTE an account of the arrest of Alderman Bailie, of the First ward, Allegheny, charged with misdemeanor in office, before Alderman Mc-Masters, on oath of Mr. Powell. The case, like many others, appears to have two sides, like many others, appears to have two sides, and having given one we publish the other. The Alderman states that he gave two judg-ments against Powell, the first being against M. Powell and wife, and the second against M. Powell & Co. The first judgment was satisfied and a receipt given. 'On the sec-ond an execution attachment was issued, and the money has not yet been paid. The Alderman asserts that the prosecution is malicious, and that he can fully establish the allegation. the allegation.

A Misunderstanding.—John Minehan, a few days since, purchased a cart from John Barry (not the constable) and when he came to settle for it a dispute arose between them about the price.³ One said it was $50 and the other said it was $55. They quar-reled some time, but heing unable to come to any terms, decided to settle the matter .n another way; and accordingly stripped for a fight. Several rounds, wave fought when the parties were separated. Both parties then went before Alderman Strain Saturday and made information against each other for assault and battery. They were held for a hearing.

Alex. Graham made information before the Mayor Saturday, charging George Arnesburg and John Stein with larceny. He alleges that he left a market basket and no aneges that he left a market basket and a two gallon stone jug on the platform of a Pittsburgh and Birmingham (ar, and went into a saloon to get a drink of beer, and when he came out the basket, and the de-fendants, who were standing near where he left it, were gone. The narties were arrest. left it, were gone. The parties were arrest-ed and held to ball for their appearance at Court, in default of which Stein, was committed to jail.

The Police Parade.

The parade of the police force, Saturday, was a complete success. The uniforms are neat, and a decided improvement to the appearance of the men. There were one hundred in the ranks, and a finer body of men of that number are seldom collected together. The parade formed at the Maytogether. The parade formed at the May-or's office at two o'clock, and followed the route published Saturday. The citizens already see the advantage of the uniforms, and many of them will, doubtless before a year has passed, wonder why they were not adopted years ago.
