INTERESTING REVENUE CASE.

Government Officers on Trial for Bribery and Conspiracy—Objection to Main Witness on the Ground of Atheism.

In the United States District Court, Judge McCandless presiding, the case of the United States vs. Richard F. Wilson and Charles U. Johnson, indictments for bribery (receiving bribes) and conspiracy to defraud the revenue, was taken up on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Johnson, the defendant, was called by the Government, and was sworn. He testified that he had known Smith for three years, boarded in his house and worked about his factory. He heard him say, when everything went right, that God was on our side. He believed that punishment would be on this earth.

Mr. Johnson testified that he had known Smith for three years, boarded in his house and worked about his factory. He heard him say, when everything went right, that God was on our side. He believed that punishment would be on this earth.

Smith does not go to church, and is a very profane man when anything goes wrong. The conversation I refer to occurred about four weeks ago. Smith said he was a very good thing and a Bible very useful in the house.
