EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Amendments to the Constitution—Reports of Committees—All Saints Church—Interesting Discussion.

SECOND DAY-MORNING SESSION. The Convention assembled at nine o'clock A. M., when an hour was spent in devotional exercises, conducted by the Bishop, after which the Convention was called to order by the Bishop.

The minutes of the preceding day were read by Rev. R. J. Coster, Secretary, and after some unimportant corrections were to a Diocese Convention;

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the Bishop of the Diocese to ascertain and report the facts in reference to the mode of worship in said church, specifying fully, so as to enable a deliberate consideration of the matter and impartial judgment as to whether there be a depar-ture or variance from the established usages of the church by the rector and congregation of All Saints Un A delegate asked for a division of the

Mr. Burgwin moved that the matter be

A delegate desired that, some member who had voted to adopt the Constitution would move to reconsider the vote.

No motion was made, however, and the Convention proceeded to consider the amendment.

The superdiments were read, the most of them referring to the article which excludes non-communicants from the Convention. Gen. Purviance moved an indefinite postement of the subject; and after talking for some time he was ruled out of order by the Bishop, as his motion only referred to amendments relative to the exclusion of non-communicants.

Mr. Burgwin then moved the indefinite postponement of the whole subject of amendment in order that the Constitution might be tried one year.

Mr. Slatterly eated whether the motion had been made in good fath; whether it was fair and in good fath; whether it was fair and in good fath; whether it of common honesty.

The motives of members of the Convention should not be questioned while he (the Bishop) presided. Mr. Burgwin, the mover, was willing hat the motion be withdraws, with the consent of the Convention.

The Blahop then put the question "shall the motion to postpone indefinitely be withdrawn," which was deputed in the affirmative.

The first amendment offered by Mr. Slatterly was then taken up and discussed at considerable length by Mr. Slatterly, after which he was permitted by the Convention to withdraw it.

The Bishop called for the second amendment, which had been submitted at the preceding session.

The Secretary read the amendment as submitted by Mr. Grant proposing to strike out section four starticis threse, which sats forth this no parish shall be entitled to report the month of the convention. Mr. Grant discussed the propriety of his amendment at considerable length, and was replied to by several delegates.

The Chairman of the Committee on the Claims of Lay Deputies to seats in the Constitution asked normission to present the was received and adopted.

The motion of Mr. Grant was amended by Mr. Parker, so as to exclude parishes from representation in the Convention, which failed to pay their assessments for more than one year. The amendment was accepted. The amendment as amended was then

Mr. Tschudy, from the Committee of Con ference between the diocese of Pennsylvania and the diocese of Pittsburgh, submitted the report of the Committee, which was received.

Rev. Mr. Spaulding submitted the report of the Board of Missions, which contained many interesting statistics. Since the creation of the dicese, six self-sustaining parishes have been created, and many of the missions have been self-sustaining, and out of the forty-four parishes all have contributed to the Board save three. Accompanying the report were resolutions adopting the recommendation of the report and authorises.

Mr. Burgwin, from the Special Committee o which was referred certain matters in the Bishop's address at the last Annual Convention, submitted the report of that Committee, which recommended that a Board of Trustees, consisting of eight Laymen, to be chosen annually by the Convention, and the Bishop, constitute a Board of Trustees would be a hand to hand fight. In the past the State always voted in November as the bad witted in October. The contest of Trastees, consisting of eight Laymen, to be chosen annually by the Convention, and the Bishop, constitute a Board of Trustees for the Diocese of Pittsburgh. The Committee also recommend the election of a Registrar for the diocese, whose duty it shall be to take charge of all books, records and papers belonging to the diocese, the same to be subject to the call of the Convention. The report was accented.

The report was accepted.

Mr. Spaulding submitted a report from a Special Committee on Parishes, which was referred to the Standing Committee.

The resolution offered by Gen. Purviance at the morning session relative to All Saints Church, Pittsburgh, was then taken up and read. Mr. Burgwin arose to a point of order. He desired to know whether this Convention had authority to appoint such a committee as the resolution contemplated.

The Bishop overruled the point of order.

Mr. Kesche said that he thought the information asked for was contained in the records of the Convention. That the Bishop by his official acts had given his sanction to the form of worship at All Saints Church. Church.
The Bishop called the gentlemen to order. He declined to allow any such inference to be drawn from his official acts. He had not given his sanction to the form of worship at All Saints Church. He desired the Convention to decide the matter on their own responsibility. He expressed no opinion, and declined to do so.

The Bishop answered in the negative. A motion was then made to recind the action of the Convention relative to the niatter, which was adopted.

Mr. Burgwin objected to a postponement of the matter on the ground that the parish was not responsible to the Convention for the acts of its members, but the rector, who was a delegate and had a seat in the Convention, was responsible to the Bishop for his clerical acts. A delegate stated that he would have to

He did not think it expedient to inaugurate a system or precedent calculated to create dissention and discussion whenever a parish asked for admission. Meeting of the Democratic County Con-vention—No Resolutions Adopted—No Ticket Nominated. The County Convention of the unwashed and unterrified Democracy of Allegheny county, was held yesterday in Lafayette Hall in order to nominate candidates for the county offices, and to place in the field an againsant for Congressional honors. The attendance was full, nearly every district in the county being represented by delegates.

The Convention was called to order shortly after ten o'clock by Thomas J. Keenan, Esq., Chairman of the County Executive Committee, after which D. Himbleright, of Collins, William Reardon, of Lawrence-ville, J. W. Patterson, of East Birmingham, and C. B. Strain, of the Third ward, Pitts burgh, were appointed Secretaries. On assuming the Chair, Mr. Keenan fired the hearts of his hearers by painting in brilliant colors the chances of the Democracy to gain victory in the contest to be waged at the polls.

Mr. J. R. Hunter moved that Thomas J. Keenan, Esq., be elected permanent Chairman. The motion was unanimously adop-

J. S. Haley, of Allegheny, moved that a Committee of five be appointed on contested seats. Adopted.

Mr. W. Stewart moved that a Committee of five be appointed to draft resolutions.

Mr. John Sawyer moved that the Committee consist of ten members.

As neither of the motions were seconded. Col. J. H. Kerr stated that Hon. Wm. A. Wallace, Chairman of the State Executive Committee, was present, and he moved that the gentleman be requested to address the Convention. The motion was adopted with considerable enthusiasm. Hon. Mr. Wallace was then introduced to the Convention by the Chairman, and was received by three cheers (proposed by a delegate,) as the "man who carried the State at the last election." He stated that he was present not to make an address, but rather to give some information in regard to the plan of operations to be pursued in the pian of operations the particular the approaching campaign, and to the necessity of every individual member of the party taking part in the contest. He referred to the discouragements which had heretofore been met, but hoped that in the she had voted in October. The contest would therefore be decided at the county and Congressional election, and the grand element of success was thorough organiza ion in every district.

Upon the conclusion of the gentleman's arks, Alderman Strain moved that the Convention now adjourn until July 16th,

A delegate moved as an amendment that he Convention proceed to nominate a Coun-v ticket. Pending the vote on the amendment, Mr. James Irwin asked and obtained leave to read a letter from Col. Thomas A. Scott, Vice President of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, announcing that arrangements have been made for the selling of excursion tickets to New York, so that all who desire may have an opportunity of at-

A scene of noise and confusion ensued, and the delegates friendly to adjournment commenced vigorously to buttenhole their neighbors and impress them with the fact that delays were not always attended with danger.
Mr. Uzziah Stewart renewed his motion for the appointment of a Committee on Resolutions. The motion did not appear to be seconded, and a delegate moved that lution passed to a vote and was defeated, the vote laying the motion for adjournment W. D. Moore, Esq., seconded the motion, and desired to explain his reason therefor. He stated that his great desire was that victory should be secured at the next election. There were conflicting questions now being agitated in the party which are to be harmonized, and there are movements on foot looking toward the concentration of all the opposition to the Republican party in the country. He was not advised in regard to these movements, but he thought, however, that it would be advisable to adjourn. He wanted the Allegheny county Democracy to start on the proper platform. The National Convertion will meet in New York in July, and would make nominations and adopt a platform for the party.

If the business of the Convention was proceeded with, some action might be taken that would not accord with the action of the National Convention, and he did not desire to have anything to take back. Mr. Guthrie interrupted Mr. Moore soveral times, and asserted his determination to keep the gentlemen in order if the chairman failed to do so.

A country delegate thought the adjournment would be injustice to the delegates from the country districts. They had been brought in to attend to business to-day, and it would be too much to ask them to come that they have pather. again in July when they were busy gathering their crops.

Mr. Nicholson taking the floor with watch in hand asked the Convention to indulge him in a speech just one minute by the watch? The Chair complied with the request and on gaining the floor, Mr. Nicholson made the following eloquent and expressive burst of oratory: "Mister President—We don't want adjournment, all this yer Convention has to do is to say somethin about the greenbacks and the niggers, and"——here fifty or an hundred voices called "time.". The minute being exhausted, the speaker subsided.

Mr. Gutherie called for the previous ques tion, the metion for the reconsideration of the vote against adjournment, and demand-the vote against adjournment, and demanded the yeas and nays.

Mr. Nicholson begged a hearing, and as the call for the previous question was not sustained, he had the opportunity to have his say. He was opposed to the adjournment of the Convention to July. The only questions before the Democracy were greenbacks and the nigger." Those questions could be determaned by the National Convention, and would be in accordance with the opinion of the Democracy of the county. The Convention could nominate a tickef without adjourning. He thought the move was a "Pittsburgh trick," or a "delegate trick," and he would oppose it.

After some further discussion the question was called on the motion to reconsider.

He was a delegate to the National Convention; and he would go to that body untrammeled. He felt sure that such candidates would there be placed in nomination, and such principles enunciated, as would meet the commendation of the entire party, and also secure the support of all opposed to the Republican party and its measures. He hoped the Convention would adjourn. It was policy to do so, and would result beneficially.

The yeas and nays were then called on Col. Kerr's amendment, and resulted as follows: Yeas 88 nays 47, so the motion prevailed. The Convention then adjourned amidst much dissatisfaction and confusion. The country delegates insisting that the "thing was arranged," that it was "a trick on the part of the Republicans and faithless Democrats." The Convention was neither orderly nor harmonious, and its proceedings throughout were marked by the grossest disorder and wildest confusion.

Before Hon, James P. Sterrett. The case of John Colton vs. the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad Company, previously reported, was concluded yesterday morning, The next case taken up was that of John Schuck vs. C. Otto Hartung. This was an action to recover damages. The plaintiff purchased, at the drug store of the defendant, upon a prescription given by Dr. Walter, nitro muriatic acid, which was placed in a bottle. Plaintiff alleges that the bottle was insecurely corked, but being ignorant of the nature of the contents, he placed it in his pocket. While walking home gas was generated in the bottle, and when he went to open it the contents flew into his eyes, destroying the sight of one and in-juring the other. He therefore brings suit to recover for damages sustained, which are to recover for damages sustained, which are laid down at five hundred dollars. On trial.

Malicious Mischief. Bridget Early made information before Alderman Butler yesterday, charging John Hanlon with malicious mischief. John, it appears, is a son-in-law of Bridget, and some weeks since his wife left him in consequence of ill treatment at his hands and went to her mother's, on Hill street, in the Eighth ward. John wanted her to return and went to see her, but Bridget refused to let him in the house, whereupon, as she allleges, he kicked the door down and entered the house. He was arrested, and af-ter a hearing was committed to jail in de-fault of bail for his appearance at Court.

She also made information against him for assault and battery, alleging that after breaking the door down, he came into the ouse and beat his wife because she would not consent to return home with him. A commitment was lodged against him in the latter charge in default of bail to answer at Court.
