FORTIETH CONGRESS.

Continuation of Freedmen's Bureau—Civil Appropriations—Resolution for a Bill Levying Tax Per Cent. Interest on U. S. Bonds—River and Harbor Improvement.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette. WASHINGTON, July 29, 1868.

Mr. HOWARD, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported favorably a bill for the discontinuance of the Freedmen's Bureau. It provides the Commission shall withdraw the Bureau from all States entitled to representation on the list of January next, or as soon thereafter as may be one without injury to the government; but the educational department of the Bureau, and the payment of money to soldiers and sailors, shall be continued until otherwise ordered by action of Congress. It also provides for the continuance of the office of the Assistant Commissioner, except in case of his resignation, or death, when the office is to be filled only by appointment by the President, and the Secretary of War, with the consent of the Senate.

A resolution directing the withdrawal of money from the United States Treasury in default of payment of principal interest on its bonds held by the United States, and the bill for the removal of certain cases from the State and the United States Courts, were discussed without action.

Mr. HAZEN, from the Military Committee, reported a bill to regulate the military establishment.

The Senate agreed to hold an Evening Session on Friday.

The Colorado bill came up, but was soon laid aside by a vote of twenty-one to twenty.

The joint resolution relative to States in default was again considered and passed.

The bill extending the time for the completion of the Northern Pacific Railroad was passed as it came from the House.

The bill appropriating money for the improvement of the river and harbor between Kentucky and West Virginia, and $15,000 for the improvement of the river and harbor between Kentucky and West Virginia, were discussed without action.

THE SCHUTZENFEST.

Speech of Mr. Ford of the Congressional Committee.

After the review of the procession of the Schutzenfest, the Congressional Committee and others, the fest of march was continued to the foot of Eighth street, whence a flotilla of steamers and barges carried the excursionists to Jones' Wood, where they had a picnic, and cheered of the multitude. A salute of twenty-one guns was fired in honor of the occasion. A grand banquet was given in West Hill, which was unable to be present, and the chair was taken by the President of the Schutzenfest, Mayor Hoffman, the Congregational Committee, and others, who were among the speakers.

CHARTERS VALLEY RAILROAD.

The Committee appointed to wait on our business men and manufacturers to solicit aid in behalf of the Charters Valley Railroad have issued the following card:

The undersigned Committee, appointed to solicit from non-subscribers to the capital stock of the Charters Valley Railroad Company, take this method of advising you of what has been done, and what is yet to be done to insure the completion of the road from Washington to Pittsburgh. Up to this time we have received from the citizens of Pittsburgh subscriptions to the amount of thirty-two thousand dollars, a portion of which was included in the two hundred and ten thousand reported as having been subscribed by the people along the line of the road. We yet require about seventy thousand dollars, and to make up this amount we want from you subscribers of from five to twenty shares each. If one hundred firms will subscribe ten shares each, and one hundred firms five shares each, we will have the amount required.
