Gold closed in New York yesterday at 140.

The Democracy resolved in 1864 that the war was failure. In 1868, it is understood that they will resolve that the war accomplished the extinction of slavery and of the heritage of secession.

Since the inauguration of a Republican government in Louisiana, the State bonds have appreciated from thirty cents to fifty cents on the dollar, and with an upward tendency.

The spirit which animates the Convention of "Democratic Soldiers" at New York, may be judged of from the fact that the address, which they yesterday ordered to be presented to the other Democratic gathering, denounces Gen. Grant as a scoundrel.

Reading the proceedings of the Democratic Convention on Saturday, we were struck by the evident demoralization of the PENNINSULAR delegates.

When the first law was passed by the Legislature of Pennsylvania disfranchising debtors, while fully concurring in its spirit and intention, we could not approve the method by which the end in view was to be reached.

A CANDIDATE'S DYING REQUEST. Mr. PENNINSULAR's financial theories gain favor daily with the masses of the Eastern Democracy.

Directly a new bill was framed and passed into a law, to the same end, but with a view to avoiding the points decided under the former law.

It is not probable, in view of the position of the Supreme Court, and of the condition of public sentiment, that further legislation in this direction will be attempted.

The report of the impeachment committee, relative to the corrupt means alleged to have been employed to secure the acquittal of the President, is completed and given to the public.

circumstantial proof could not well be stronger than it is, as set forth by the Committee. This proof may not be such as would necessarily convict those Senators of the corruption with which they have been charged.

The report, in the same way, and as clearly though indirectly, establishes the corrupt intent with which the President's friends worked out their schemes to influence the Chief Justice, by tempting him with the prospect of a Democratic nomination for the office which has been the ambition of his public career.

The delegates in New York re-assembled yesterday, and organized permanently with SERRANO as Chairman. The rules of the Convention of '64 were adopted, without any contest.

The following sensible editorial leader appeared in the Evening Mail of the 3d, addressed to the Workmen:

The Military Council of the House are about to report a bill establishing a new system of military education, of which a dispatch says:

The Midland Railroad. Ground was broken with due ceremonies on the construction of the Midland Railroad in the Allegheny county, on the afternoon of Tuesday last.

DRUGGIST GENERAL LAFAYETTE C. BAKER, widely known throughout the United States as the Chief Dispensing Druggist of the Western Department during the rebellion, died at his residence in this city yesterday morning.

COMMISSIONER WILSON, of the General Land Office, has addressed a circular to all Land officers setting forth that extensive tracts now found to be fertile and filled with thriving agricultural populations, and that vast general wealth has been wasted owing to the ignorance of miners of the value of the refuse they were throwing away.

A disgraceful riot occurred at a Funtan place at the Bellevue Grand Hotel of East Eighth street, New York, on the Fourth.

date upon a platform to suit all quarters. That candidate may be CHASE, or some one else, but it will not be PENNINSULAR, the latter is too decidedly pledged and too manifestly sincere to suit the situation.

BRIDGING THE OHIO. We are gratified to note the decisive vote (eighty to twenty-four) by which the House yesterday passed the Ohio River Bridge bill.

A CHANCE FOR ALL YOUNG MEN. One of the West Point cadets for this (the XXIII) Congressional District being vacant, the appointment will be conferred on the young man who may pass highest in a competitive examination, to be held in August, by a competent committee, at the Western University.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Probable Continuance for Two or Three Days Longer—Thirty or Forty Ballots Likely—Pendletonites Giving Up—They Hold the Balance of Power and Express Open Hostility to Chase.

It is the general belief that the Convention must continue in session two days, and possibly three days, longer. The Platform Committee will report to-morrow morning and a lengthy discussion is anticipated, which may consume the entire day.

The Platform Committee have, at their sessions to-day, earnestly discussed the resolutions before them, but have come to no final decision upon the exact phrasing of the financial portion of the document. The East and West are widely at variance on this question.

It is possible that Evans may be confirmed this week, but Fuller and Smythe are sure to be rejected. A joint resolution will be offered by Mr. Stevens, in a day or two, declaring the amnesty proclamation null and void, as it is issued in conflict with the general laws of Congress.

Some leading citizens of Boston propose to give a public reception to Charles Francis Adams on his return from England.

There were about five thousand people in the Union Grounds at Cincinnati yesterday afternoon who witnessed the match of base ball between the Athletics of Brooklyn and the Cincinnati of Cincinnati. The score stood 10 to 19 in favor of the Athletics.

At a regular meeting of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Democratic Club of St. Louis, last night, resolutions were adopted requesting the Missouri Legislature to present the name of General Frank P. Blair to the National Democratic Convention, now in session, as a candidate for the Presidency.
