It is so difficult to extinguish a raging fever as a raging fire; but you can prevent a conflagration by rendering your dwelling fire-proof, and you can prevent an attack of fever by invigorating and purifying your "house of clay." The outside pressure upon the constitution and the vital powers at this season is tremendous. Every pore of the millions which cover the surface of the body is daily open to its sustenance and its strength. To meet this depletion, to keep up the stamina under such a constant outflow of dissolving food, a tonic and invigorant is absolutely necessary, and time that tries all things, has proved that HOTTET'S STOMACH BITTERS impart a degree of strength and resistant power to the over-taxed vital forces, which is sustainable by any other known means. The effect of this inestimable vegetable preparation is to increase the appetite, accelerate digestion, tone the secretory organs, give firmness to the nerves, purify the blood, cheer the spirits, and by thus rallying all the forces of the body, enable it to defy the enervating influence of heat, and pass triumphantly through the trying ordeal of the summer months. As a safeguard against epidemics, and a preventive of the febrile, bilious and prostrating, of which so many thousands complain at this season, it has a national reputation founded on twenty-five years of uninterrupted and unqualified success. CURE OF FISTULA. DR. KATZ'S I write to thank you for your kind and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult for some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible stricture which I had been added to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten on my lungs. I knew that the peculiar mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would instantly throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge; which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the stricture part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I had tried, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were all most painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energy and vigor of a younger man. With all respects, gratefully, I am, DR. KATZ'S CONSULTATION ROOMS FOR CHRONIC DISEASES, No. 120 FIFTH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.
