CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth street, next door to GAZETTE office.

Meeting of Councils.—A regular monthly meeting of Pittsburgh Councils will be held on Monday, at two o'clock p. m.

Axle Broken.—Yesterday evening a carriage, in pulling out the Passenger Railway track corner Fifth and Grant streets, broke the rear axle, which let the vehicle "down a peg."

Desertion.—Ellen Dugan made information before Justice Barker, of South Pittsburgh, yesterday, charging her husband, John Dugan, with abandonment. The parties reside in Limerick. John was arrested and held for a hearing.

Illegal Liquor Selling.—John Haggerty appeared before Justice Barker yesterday and charged William and Catherine Hannon with illegal liquor selling. The accused were arrested and held to bail for their appearance at Court.

Correction.—We yesterday stated that Mr. J. A. Webbor had been committed to jail by Alderman M'Masters on oath of Louis Siegrist for false pretence. The case was just the reverse, Mr. Webber being the prosecutor and Siegrist the defendant.

Pardon Wanted.—We learn that an effort is being made by the friends of Michael Leonard, convicted at September sessions, 1867, of felonious assault and battery on Patrick Graham, and sentenced to six years imprisonment in the Penitentiary, to obtain a pardon for him.

Coroner's Inquest.—Coroner Clawson held an inquest yesterday on the body of Peter Reinehardt, who died suddenly at his residence in Reserve township, yesterday morning, at ten o'clock. Several witnesses were examined, after which the jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

Cutting Affray.—Two men named Meyers and Price got into a difficulty about a pair of boots in a tavern in Temperanceville, on Thursday evening, during which Meyers drew a knife and inflicted a severe gash across the forehead of Price. The wound, though painful, is not considered dangerous.

Assault and Battery.—John Hanlon made information before Justice Barker yesterday charging William and Catherine Hannon with assault and battery. He alleges that the accused came to his house during his absence and abused his wife, who was lying in bed sick. They were arrested and held to bail for their appearance at Court.

False Pretense.—Rudolph Conig made information charging Charles Schueter, with obtaining goods under false pretense. He alleges that the accused by false and fraudulent representations obtained from him a watch valued at $24. Schueter was arrested and taken before Justice Barker yesterday, when the case was compromised.

Great Was the Fall.—During the wind storm which prevailed in this locality Thursday afternoon the stack at Coward's brick yard, in the Eleventh ward, was blown down. The structure was of brick, eighty feet in heighth. No person was injured by the fall, and the property surrounding was but slightly damaged.

Filling Up.—The low ground in the triangular space formed by Allegheny avenue, Ridge and Rebecca streets, in the Fifth ward, Allegheny, is being filled up. This place has heretofore been quite an annoyance on account of the stagnant water which collected there during the summer time, and the improvement will be duly appreciated by residents in the vicinity.

The Pittsburgh Saengerfest.—The Committee appointed to make arrangements for holding the Saengerfest of the Pittsburgh district have fixed upon the first, second and third of September as the time, and have secured the Keystone Skating Rink, City Hall, Turners' Hall and Lafayette Hall for the occasion. The proceedings will be introduced by a grand torch light procession, to be followed by the usual entertainments.

Alleged Thief Captured.—Officer Barber yesterday arrested William Manners, a boy about eighteen years of age, on a telegram from John S. Krepps, of Brownsville. It is alleged that the boy, who was employed as a hostler by Mr. Krepps, left the premises Thursday night, taking with him a trunk belonging to his employer, and came on a steamboat to this city. The trunk was found at the Brownsville wharf boat, where the boy was arrested. Officer Lynch of Brownsville, came to the city yesterday and took the prisoner back with him.

Alleged Larceny.—Thomas Grady was arrested on a charge of larceny on oath of Henry Millenger, of the firm of Millinger & Bidwell, who alleged that he had reason to believe the accused had stolen a cable from a raft, valued at $60. Justice Barker before whom the information was made, committed the accused for a hearing and issued a search warrant. The residence of Grady was searched, but nothing was discovered, and the evidence being insufficient to warrant the magistrate in holding him to appear at court, he was discharged.

Street Obstructions in Allegheny.—Officer Swain, who has been detailed by Mayor Drum to see that the ordinance in regard to street obstructions is complied with, yesterday arrested quite a number of parties for allowing their wagons to stand on the streets. They were each fined two dollars and costs. Warrants have also been issued for the arrest of about half a dozen others for the same offense. Notice has been given to owners of planing mills and manufactories that for any violation of the ordinance they will be dealt with according to its provisions.

Drunk and Disorderly.—Blassius Rauch made information before Justice Barker yesterday, charging James Hollingan with disorderly conduct. The prosecutor is the proprietor of an eating house in South Pittsburgh where it is alleged the accused called and ordered dinner and liquor, which he ate and drank, and then left without footing the bill. When arrested Hollingen made considerable resistance, but was finally taken to the office, when he admitted the offense and stated as an excuse for his conduct that he was traveling and had run out of money, that he preferred this method of getting his dinner to begging. He was released on condition that he would leave the borough immediately.

The night before last we were fortunate enough to be on Ridge street, in Allegheny. Ridge street is decidedly the prettiest street in either city, with its neat houses, smooth road-way and two beautiful rows of trees, so that when there, one might almost imagine one's self in the country. It is probably to further this allusion and render the scene still more pastoral that the police of Allegheny forbear from the enforcement of the law forbidding cattle to roam at large within the city limits. When we were on Ridge street, the night before last, we counted seven cows that were promenading on the sidewalk in their usual stately and graceful manner. There are times it is sweet to gaze upon the kind, peaceful faces of the bovine race, and no doubt, as we said before, it is for this reason that the noble animals are turned loose and remain unmolested on the highways of the city. Some ladies who happened to be passing along at the same time, showed the absence of poetry in their disposition by becoming frightened and walking out into the street to avoid the animals, but such cowardice should not be fostered in women, and the cows seemed to enjoy it.

New Church—Bellefield (O. S.) Presbyterian—Dedication To-Morrow.

One of the neatest and most perfect church edifices which have been built in our vicinity lately is that of the Bellefield Presbyterian Church (O. S.) on the Mechanics and Farmers turnpike, in the Fourteenth ward, Pittsburgh. The building is located on a rising ground just off from the road, from whence can be had a fine view of the surrounding country.

The structure, occupying a space of ground fifty feet in front and ninety-seven in depth, is frame with stone foundation, and slate roof, built in the gothic style of architecture, one story high, the outside walls being made of vertical weatherboarding with grooved strips covering the joints, all painted and sanded in imitation of stone.

The height of the main portion of the building is forty feet, while at the left side is a square bell tower rising seventy-four feet from base to pinnacle, from which one of A. Fulton & Son's sweet-toned bells sends forth its clear sonorous sounds to call the worshipers together.

The outside ornamentation is all of carved work of the most elaborate pattern, and adds very much to the beautiful appearance of the building. Access is gained to the interior, which is handsomely carpeted throughout, through a Gothic arched double doorway, the greater portion of the front or the main building being occupied with a large, triple window. In the interior a space across the front fourteen feet wide is reserved for the vestibule, which extends under the tower, and has at the opposite side a winding stairway leading to a small gallery directly above.

The cushioned pews in the main audience room are in themselves worthy of notice. The ends are of walnut, with Gothic paneling of ash, and surmounted back and sides with scroll work of a unique pattern, the whole oiled, but unpainted, thus preserving the natural appearance of the wood.

The pulpit is simply a light stand placed on a raised platform built into an arched stucco finished recess, and extending out a short distance from the wall. On each side of the platform is a large ornamented pillar for the lamp stand.

On the left of the pulpit a space enclosed by a fancy iron railing is set apart for the organ and choir.

The roof of the building is paneled in arches between the rafters, with joined arches along the sides, even with the tops of the windows, all painted and grained in light oak. The remainder of the walls are plastered in imitation of grahite, which presents an exceedingly neat and tasteful appearance.

Immediately in the rear of the auditorium is the Sunday School room, which is several feet wider, forming wings on each side, the front of which is square in form, and the rear end a semi-octagon. This room is fitted up with all the latest improvements in Sunday School architecture, and seems admirably adapted to the purpose for which it is to be used. There are two smaller rooms at one side, calculated for bible class rooms, which communicate with the large Sunday School room by sliding doors.

The whole expense of the structure, including the purchase of the lot, is $16,000, and for its size, is certainly a model, and reflects great credit on all concerned in its erection. Messrs. A. and S. Wilson, the builders, seem to have carried out very carefully the plan as prepared by the architecs, Isaac H. Hobbs & Son, of Philadelphia, which in a great measure accounts for its present appearance.

The dedicatory services will take place to-morrow, at which it is expected the pastor, Rev. E. T. Carnahan, will be assisted by other well known divines of the vicinity. To those who wish to enjoy a feast of good things in this line, the mere notice of these services will be sufficient.

Meeting of the Street Committee—Change of Grade on Centre Avenue.

At a meeting of the Street Committee, held last evening at the office of the City Engineer, the matter of the change of grade on Centre avenue was brought before the Committee.

It appears that several persons owning property on the avenue were dissatisfied with the grade, as established by the engineer, and the matter having been agitated in the community, he was seriously reflected upon and unfounded charges made against him concerning the matter. At the meeting last night the dissatisfied parties were present and presented their grievances; but when the matter was thoroughly investigated Mr. Moore proved clearly that he had done the best he possibly could do for the owners on the avenue. After the engineer had explained the grade and his reasons for adopting it, all parties appeared satisfied with it and were willing that it should remain as fixed by him, and the Street Committee approved of his action; but as for the case of having a uniform grade decided upon the following change: At a point 359 feet east of Erin street the grade is to be raised one foot above the grade now established, and to run at a uniform grade from that point to the present grade at Erin street.

The engineer was instructed to prepare an ordinance authorizing the above change, to be submitted at the next meeting of Councils.

Meeting in the Seventh Ward—Grant and Colfax Club to be Organized.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of the Seventh ward was held last evening at the School House on Franklin street for the purpose of making arrangements for organizing a Grant and Colfax Club.

The meeting was organized by calling Major Samuel Kilgore to the chair and appointing William Shore, Secretary.

Several able and eloquent speeches were made, after which the following gentlemen were appointed a Committee on Permanent Organization: James Patterson, John A. Glimpsey, John Leech, A. J. Reynolds and Alexander Seanor.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the School House on Tuesday evening, the 28th inst., at 7½ o'clock for permanent organization.

Adjourned Again.

The Republican Conferees of the Twenty-Fourth Congressional District met at the Monongahela House in this city on Thursday, and after a session of two days adjourned for two weeks, without making a nomination. We have been informed that Mr. Lawrence, of Washington county, has withdrawn from the contest, which if the statement is correct, will leave but three candidates in the field, and a nomination will be made at the next meeting without further trouble.

The Democratic conferees from that district met at the St. Charles Hotel on Wednesday. Each county presented a candidate, and after several ineffectual ballots they adjourned to meet on Wednesday the 29th inst.

Non Est.

The officers at the Mayor's office are anxious to learn of the whereabouts of William Hodgers, who a few days since obtained goods from the firm of Sellers & Co., Penn street, to the value of $140 under false pretence, but William is not to be found. Samuel Dicky, clerk for the firm mentioned, made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging Hodgers with obtaining goods under false pretence. He alleges that the accused purchased goods to the amount of $140, for which amount he gave a check on the National Trust Company which was ascertained to be worthless, as he had no funds in that institution. A warrant was issued for his arrest, but it is supposed that he has gone to England.

Arrest of an Alleged Thief from Brownsville—The Stolen Property Recovered.

On Thursday morning about eleven o'clock Alderman McMasters received a telegraphic dispatch from Col. J. S. Krepps, of Brownsville, authorizing him to arrest a young man named William Hanna, who had stolen a trunk and shipped for Pittsburgh on the steamer Elector, of the People's Line. Officer Blondin went down to the Company's landing and waited for the arrival of the boat, which came in shortly after noon, but missed his man, who came down on the Franklin, of the Old Line. The officer, however, not to be outwitted, searched around until he found the trunk and baggage of the passenger, and seating himself alongside of them, awaited the coming of the chap. He had not waited long before the fellow made his appearance, and he was immediately arrested. He had in his possession fourteen keys of different patterns, which, it was afterwards ascertained he had obtained at a hardware store on Market street, stating that he had lost his trunk key and wanted to get a new one, and leaving a ten dollar bill as security for the return of the keys when he had found one to fit the lock. The prisoner was lodged in jail and Mr. Krepps informed by telegraph of his apprehension. Yesterday an officer from Brownsville came down with a warrant for his arrest, on a charge of larceny, issued by a Justice of the Peace of that place, and took him back to answer the charge. The stolen property consisted of twenty-five dollars in cash and the trunk containing some books, silver-ware, clothing and other valuables. The accused is said to have made a confession, acknowledging his guilt in the affair and detailing the circumstances. He is about nineteen years of age, of gentlemanly appearance and looks more like an innocent man than a person who would be guilty of any such transaction as that of which he is accused. He has been in the employ of Col. Krepps for a short time, and secured his engagement by representing himself an experienced hand among horses. As the Col. is a great lover of horse flesh and keeps a good stable, he had no difficulty in obtaining a situation. Great credit is due to officer Blondon for the efficient manner in which he conducted the affair.

Robbery on Liberty Street.

A decidedly bold and impudent robbery was perpetrated at the tobacco and segar store of John Hays, No. 239 Liberty street, between twelve and one o'clock yesterday morning, and goods to the value of $150 carried away. A gentleman residing on Wood street near Liberty at the time stated observed persons approaching the door of the store where the robbery was perpetrated, one of whom broke the glass in the door, when they all ran away. They returned in a few moments, however, and by reaching through the broken glass removed the bar which secured the door, when they entered the store. The gentleman says that he informed a policeman, who, instead of attempting to arrest the burglars, started after assistance, but before he could return the burglars had left with their booty. They subsequently returned and entered the store again, when the officers, who had been watching it, unobserved by the thieves, reached the door and arrested one of them as they came out, but for some reason allowed him to escape. No arrests have been made since and nothing further is known about the matter, except that two valuable pipes and a package of segars, answering the description of the goods stolen, were found on the railroad bridge over the Allegheny river.

City Mortality.

Dr. A. G. McCandless, Physician to the Board of Health, reports the following interments in the city of Pittsburgh, from July 12th to July 19th, 1868:

The death report from the old city this week is 36, and from the new districts 25.

Narrow Escape from Drowning.

Some of the members of the fishing party which went from here a short time ago had a narrow escape from drowning the other day in Chartiers Creek, where they are located. It seems that F. H. Eaton, Jr., was wading out to pull in the seine, when he stepped into a hole, the water in which was over his head. His father seeing him sinking endeavored to save him, when he was also drawn in. Dr. Arthurs next went to the rescue, and after considerable difficulty succeeded in bringing them ashore, not, however, before they were almost drowned. As it was a good ducking and considerable fright was all they suffered.

Election of Teachers.

On Wednesday evening, July 22d, at a meeting of the Board of School Directors of Reserve Independent School District, held at Lutz Hall, the following teachers were selected for the present year:

Spring Garden School—Principal, Milton Jones; Assistant, Miss Salina Ackley; Primary, Misses Mary E. M'Clelland, Mattie Brown and Mattie M'Candless.

Troy Hill School—Principal, Samuel Campbell; Assistant, Miss Lizzie M'Cormick.

Woodville School—Principal, J. M. Conroy; Assistant, Miss Lydia Porter.

Trouble About Some Pictures.

A. J. Baird made information before Alderman Strain, yesterday, against Mrs. Driscoll, residing at No. 26 Webster street, for larceny as bailee. He alleged that the defendant procured from him two pictures, valued at twelve dollars, which she refused to return.

The same prosecutor also charged Mrs. Cunningham, residing in McElroy's court, Sixth ward, with a similar offense, the property in this case being valued at six dollars. A hearing was had in both cases and the defendants discharged, the prosecutor paying the costs.

The Assessors' Returns.

But five of the Assessors in the city had made their returns to the Controller last evening, but they will probably all be handed in to-day, so that the Committee appointed by Councils to make the apportionment of representatives in Common Council will be enabled to make their report on Monday.

The following are the number of taxables received: First ward, 1,058; Seventh ward, 1,000; Eighth ward, 948; Eleventh ward, 915; Twentieth ward, 200; Twenty-third ward, 204.

We understand that the first nine of the Olympic Base Ball Club intend starting on a starring tour to some of the western cities about the 3d of August. They will probably visit Steubenville, Columbus, Detroit, Toledo and Cleveland, and we hope they will have a good time, as we feel sure they will have a triumphant one.

Likeness of Grant.—Full-sized portrait of Grant, on colored card board, the best and cheapest likeness to be had, for twenty-five cents, at No. 84 Fifth street. daw

The Chartiers Valley Railroad.

From the following letter to the Committee appointed by the subscribers to the Chartiers Valley Railroad, by Mr. Thomas L. Jewett, President of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad Company, it appears that the company are in earnest, and if the subscribers comply with the requirements of the company, as they doubtless will, the road will be put under contract immediately:

PITTSB'H, CINCINNATI & ST. LOUIS R.R., STEUBENVILLE, O., July 23, 1868.

Messrs. Ewing, Reid, McDaniels and others, Committee in regard to Chartiers Valley Railway, Washington, Pa.

GENTLEMEN: I have to-day sent an engineering party to prepare about seven (7) miles of the line from Mansfield to Canonsburg, including the "big tunnel," for letting. This we expect to do about the first of September; in the meantime the subscriptions must be put in different shape from what they now stand; although we have no doubt of their legality, and the good faith of the subscribers, we are unwilling to be left in a position for probable litigation with even one of them. It is an axiom with which we are too familiar, that individuals will do that toward corporations which they would not to each other, and in the present attitude of the subscribers they might refuse to pay our calls, and set up as a defence that the work had not progressed according to the terms of the subscriptions; this would involve legal proceedings on our part, which we intend to avoid. I have personally intervened to get you relieved, from the amount originally required, and hope that the obstacle now referred to will be speedily removed.

Mr. Thomson who feels very kindly disposed towards your citizens, who take so deep an interest in the work, is unwilling to place either himself or his company in the position they would be, if he accepted these subscriptions under the conditions expressed in them, implying as they do, a want of confidence on the part of the subscribers that the work will be carried on in good faith.

I therefore propose the following form as a heading for the stock subscriptions, viz:

We the undersigned do hereby subscribe to the capital stock of the Chartiers Valley Railroad Company the number of shares set opposite our names, and agree to pay the same in installments, to be called in by the company as follows, viz:

Ten per cent. on the first of October, 1868.
Ten per cent. on the 2d of November, 1868.
Twenty per cent. on the 1st of Jan'ry, 1869.
Twenty per cent. on the 1st of March, 1869.
Ten per cent. on the first of April, 1869.
Ten per cent. on the first of May, 1869.
Ten per cent. on the first of June, 1869
Ten per cent. on the first of July, 1869.

Very truly, &c.,

(Signed,) THOS. L. JEWETT, President.

The Place to Purchase.

It is a settled principle in every branch of trade, as well as a matter of economy, for purchasers to buy their goods where they can get the best article for the least money, and it is upon this principle that crowds of persons daily throng the book and stationery store of Colonel J. D. Eagan, Sixth street, near Smithfield. The Colonel's stock embraces over five thousand volumes of rare and valuable books, which he is selling at less than eastern prices. All the magazines for August are already upon his counter, and the most complete and best assorted stock of writing paper, envelopes, &c., he offers to the public at the most reasonable rates, either wholesale or retail. Country dealers should give him a call.

Would you have the latest and most perfect Sewing Machine yet invented? One that is not half the time out of order, and when in order requiring your utmost skill and patience to work it? If so, go and examine Singer's new Noiseless Machine, and our word for it, you will not go away without leaving your order. With less than half the trouble, it will do anything that any other machine will do, no matter how fine or how coarse. Its attachments for hemming, felling, braiding, cording, tucking, &c., are the latest and most perfect. A call on Straw & Morton, corner St. Clair and Penn streets, will convince you that the Singer is exactly what you want. Prices and terms of payment to suit every body.

Remember the Sale of Dry Goods, without regard to cost, at the Masonic Hall Auction House of Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street. The firm have determined to withdraw entirely from this department of their business, and hence no respect is paid to the original cost of goods. Never before in this city have such unusual bargains in dress goods, housekeeping goods, sunshades, parasols, quilts, spreads, rugs, mattrasses, etc., etc., been offered, and those who fail to attend will miss a glowing opportunity. We feel that we are unable to impress in strong enough terms the importance of our readers laying in a full supply of such goods during the continuance of this great sacrifice sale.

Burnett's Celebrated Standard Preparations.—It is affirmed by druggists that Burnett's Preparations are without a parallel for the elegance of their appearance and the scientific nature of their composition. To our readers we would recommend them as being fully worthy of their great reputation. The Cocoaine is not only an elegant article in hair dressing, but a complete eradicator of dandruff and cure for baldness. Burnett & Co. are also the manufacturers of a list of flavoring extracts for culinary purposes which for power, combined with purity are unequaled.—Montreal Transcript. T.T.S.W.

At W. W. Moorhead's, 81 Market street, a large and well selected stock of lace goods and trimmings are being sold at remarkably low prices. The goods sold at this establishment are purchased from first class houses expressly for this market, thus saving the jobber's profit, consequently Mr. Moorhead is enabled to sell at lower rates the same quality of goods, than others are, who do not adopt his system of purchasing.

The Trimming Store at 81 Market street, Mr. W. W. Moorhead, proprietor, is the great emporium for ladies who want a first class article of fashionable goods. The stock of lace goods and trimmings is one of the largest and best selection ever brought to this market, and they are being sold at unusually low figures. The corps of clerks at this establishment take pleasure in showing goods to all who favor them with a call.

The most popular ladies' dining rooms are those of Mr. P. H. McGuire, No. 105 Fifth street. Ladies and gentlemen can at all hours procure meals served in the very best style and at the most reasonable rates. Test Preaching.—To-morrow (Sunday) afternoon there will be services held in the "Tent," conducted by the Young Men's Christian Association, services to commence at a quarter past four o'clock, on the West Commons, Allegheny City.

Simple Facts Beyond Dispute.

Last year the Singer Sewing Machine Company, owing to the perfection reached in their new noiseless machine, sold 43,058—being 5,000 machines more than the sales of the next largest company.

This machine having been before the public but little more than two years, and having been rarely seen in print, does it not follow that it must possess extraordinary merit to have achieved such success?

No matter how great your prejudice may be in favor of any other machine, a visit to the sales rooms of Straw & Morton, corner of St. Clair and Penn streets, will result in converting you to the belief that Singer's new noiseless machine is infinitely better than any other.

It runs as light as the lightest.

It has the most perfect feed.

It has the best hemmer and other attachments.

It has a self-adjusting tension.

It has a wider range of work, without change of needle, thread or tension than any other machine. It is as certain at all times and as durable as Singer's old machine, and is much simpler than any machine yet invented.

A First Class Saloon.

The saloon at No. 105 Fifth street, under the supervision of Mr. P. H. M'Guire, is in every respect a first class establishment. The rooms are admirably arranged for the purpose, and are elegantly and tastefully furnished. The ladies' dining room is separate and distinct from the other apartments, consequently ladies either alone or attended by gentlemen can visit the establishment with the utmost propriety. The tables are supplied at all times with the best of everything to be obtained in the market, including all the delicacies of the season. The situation of the house is a recommendation, as it is located on the upper portion of Fifth street, in a quiet and pleasant community. Notwithstanding this establishment has been opened to the public but a short time, it is highly appreciated, and is destined to be one of the leading dining saloons in the city. We take pleasure in recommending the establishment to the public generally.

Now is the Time.

Property owners and others having plumbing or gas fitting to do, if they are wise, will of course have the work done while the weather is pleasant, the reasons for which are so numerous and palpable that it is useless for us to recite them. In this connection we would call attention to the fact that Mr. T. T. Ewens, whose establishment is at No. 165 Wood street, is a practical plumber, steam and gas fitter himself, employs none but the best workmen, and the result is that work entrusted to him invariably renders satisfaction. At his store will be found a full supply of gas and water fixtures which will be furnished at the most reasonable rates. He also gives especial attention to work in the country. All orders executed promptly.

If You Want a Good Reliable, Sewing Machine, Go to 112 Grant Street.

Don't be humbugged by purchasing an inferior article, which you will have to exchange for a Weed and lose one-half of your money.

By calling at the Weed office you can see new machines of other makes once considered first-class machines, at less than half price, which have been taken in part pay for the Weed.

Weed does not take fits or spells; it is always ready.

This machine can be paid for in monthly installments.

The Original Diamond Front.

McBride & George are the proprietors of the "Original Diamond Front" grocery store, No. 164 Federal street, Allegheny. This establishment is now one of the leading business houses in the two cities, and for quality of goods has no superior in the West. The most complete assortment of tea, coffee, sugar and spices to be found in the city is constantly kept on hand, so that the purchaser has no difficulty at any time in receiving anything he may desire, in the grocery line. The firm also deal extensively in provisions of all kinds, and in fact keep a first-class family store.

Bates & Bell, No. 31, Fifth street, have one of the largest and most judiciously selected stock of dress goods ever offered in this market, which, owing to the fact that they were purchased during the recent decline in goods of that quality in the East at very low rates, they are enabled to sell upon the most reasonable terms. The well established reputation of this old and reliable firm needs no recommendation. It is one of the leading business houses in the country.

The Centennial.—We can think of no better place in the city to get a good, clean, square meal than at Holtzheimer's Continental Dining Rooms, Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice. Mr. H. has had an extensive experience as a caterer, and in his line has no superior. The dining rooms are always kept in the most perfect order, and an accommodating corps of attendants are always ready to wait upon customers.

Holtzheimer's, on Fifth street, one door west of the west of the Postoffice, is the place for the hungry to go. His tables are always supplied with the best the market affords, which is prepared and served in a style to challenge competition. Remember the place, next door to the Postoffice, Fifth street.

No. 20 South Avenue.—This (Saturday) morning at 10 o'clock, will be sold at auction on the premises, that very eligible private residence, No. 20 South avenue, Allegheny City, with handsomely laid out grounds and out-buildings. Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland, auctioneers.

A Terrible Truth!—Caustic solutions for Catarrh drive the disease upon the lungs. Dr. Kennedy's "Permanent Cure for Catarrh" is successful, because it soothes and heals the ulcerated membrane of the nose and throat. It is sold by all druggists. naw
