WORLDLY WISE.

Young Ronsalee had a handsome face, And his great beard made him brown; And the two little ladies in girlish grace They kept their cyclids down They oned her siken veil of lace, And the one in her woolsey gown.

For one little had lived in the wood, Like a flower that hides from the day; Her name was Jenny—they called her the good. And the name o' the other was May; And the name of the other was a And her paince walls looked on Where they softly salled away. d on the flood.

Long time the balan e even stood
With our Ronsaice that day;
But what was a sittle house in the wood
To a paisce grand and gay?
So he gave his heart to Jenny, the good,
And his hand he gave to May.
