English Press on the Rights of Naturalized Citizens—Confederate War Vessels and France—Case Decided Adversely to the United States—The War in South America.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)
GREAT BRITAIN.
LONDON, July 29.—The act passed by Congress for the protection of American citizens abroad is unfavorably criticized by the English press, though its passage does not appear to excite surprise or anger. The journals affect to consider the bill as a partisan measure for effect on the election, but they think it will not promote the success of American negotiations with foreign powers to secure the establishment of principles of nationality.

LONDON, July 29.—The Times says the passage of the American citizen act will grossly wrong the United States. The bill is considered as a partisan measure for effect on the election. The general principle of the bill for England to deny its support. Irishmen who have taken out their naturalization papers in the United States while traveling in Europe, or serve in the armies of the United States, are treated as subjects of the United States, and are liable to be called upon to fight in its wars. The real purpose of the bill is to protect the new citizenship thus conferred on land in her realm. But here they must be treated as subjects of the United States, and natives are on the same footing in such a case. The denial of a jury mediante lingua was right, because the trial of a case depended on internal, not on external facts. The evidence obtained in the United States against these prisoners, to the extent of the American laws, was merely collateral. The real crime charged against these men was committed on British territory.

LONDON, July 29.—A grand demonstration was held to-night by the Democratic party for the election of Hill and Miller to the United States. The city was splendidly illuminated. There was a immense gathering in front of the United States Hotel, and the discourse was addressed by several speakers. Mr. Miller came out in a fine speech for Seymour Blair, constitutional liberty and the Union. General Gordon delivered a splendid oration, appealing to the people to stand by their country, the down by Washington and the Union. Mr. Miller's speech was a splendid one, and he was warmly received by the audience. The election of Hill and Miller to the United States is the cause of much congratulation among the citizens.

LONDON, July 29.—The mail steamer from South America has arrived. Intelligence has been received from Brazilian sources that the Government of Paraguay, General Lopez, had sent propositions for peace to the allied powers through the mediation of the Argentine Minister to Paraguay, Mr. Washburn. Dispatches had reached Rio Janeiro from Buenos Ayres, via Montevideo, announcing the success of the Argentine arms. The Argentine Ambassador to the United States, formerly an elected President of the Argentine Confederation.

PARIS, July 29.—The Corps Legislatif closed its session yesterday. PARIS, July 29.—In the case of the United States versus Arman and others, the States was today rendered against the plaintiff, with costs. In its decision the Court says the evidence is insufficient to support the case made by the United States; that the plaintiffs failed to prove that the Arman had contracted to build vessels of war for the Southern Confederacy, or that said Arman had received money belonging to the government of the United States.

FRANCE.
