The Solidity Pic-Nic.—The picnic of the Young Men's Society, which takes place at Glenwood Grove to-day, will be a most enjoyable one. The arrangements have left nothing undone that would add to the enjoyment of the occasion, and those participating will have no cause to regret it.

Petition for Gas.—A petition for gas on Sheffield street, Fifth ward, Allegheny, is now in circulation, signed by nearly all the property holders on the street. The petition asks for the grading, paving and laying of the gas pipes, and when the gas is added to the water, it will be one of the most desirable places of residence in either city.

Cool.—Jane McDermott alleges that she went into a clothing store on Smith street to make a purchase and in coming out she dropped a ten dollar bill, which a boy employed in the store picked up, and when requested to restore it he refused to do so unless she would allow him five dollars for his honesty. Alderman McManus issued a warrant for the arrest of the boy, whose name is James Davis.

False Pretence.—C. B. Leech made information before Alderman Orviston yesterday, charging Jacob Goetz with obtaining goods under false pretence. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

The prosecutor keeps a saloon on Union street, and alleges that he had three dollars and fifty cents in the counter, in making change for one of his customers, and that the accused picked it up and carried it away. He was arrested after a hearing was held to bail for his appearance at court in default of which he was committed to jail.

A Cave.—Yesterday morning a brick collar vault in front of No. 18 Diamond street was falling, precipitating two men, who were standing on the ground above it, into the cellar, a distance of ten feet. They were badly scared but not in any way hurt, and after being extricated "smiled" the sewer alongside got out of the way of the falling debris and none were injured. The vault was an old one and had commenced to give way which was hastened by the sewer excavation.

Kept Them.—Abraham Hill made information yesterday before Alderman McManus, charging Samuel Hill for larceny of $100. He alleges that he was employed by Hill, who is a dairyman, and that while there he got into a difficulty with another man, resulting in his commitment to jail on a charge of assault and battery. When released he went to get his wages from Hill, but he refused to pay him, and that gentleman refused to have anything to do with him or pay him the money due. He estimates his loss at $25. A warrant was issued.

Mr. Robt. Lafferty, who was so severely burned on Tuesday night at the burning of the car tanks near the Albion Oil Works, is recovering by encampment at his residence last evening, was doing as well as could be expected, but his numerous friends will grieve to know that his physicians do not consider him out of danger. Lafferty is one of our oldest and most estimable citizens, and much sympathy is felt for him on account of the sad casualty by which his life is put in jeopardy. We sincerely hope his case may terminate favorably.

BENNINGHOFF ROBBERY.

Five of the Perpetrators are in the Franklin (Venango Co.) Jail. The Case "Worked Up" by Ex-Chief of Police Hague—$50,000 of the Amount of Reward—A Sixth Arrest at Montreal, Canada.

We copy the following from the Petroleum Centre Daily Record of Tuesday, concerning the Benninghoff robbery and the capture of five of the robbers, through the efforts of Robert Hague, late Chief of Police of this city:

Five of the Benninghoff robbers have been captured recently, and three of them are now in Franklin jail, having been placed there yesterday. The names of the robbers are: George Miller, George Miller and Jake Shoppit. Miller was taken at Segertown, Pa., and Welde and Shoppit, Philadelphia, and will be lodged in Franklin jail to-day. The three whose names are mentioned above have confessed to their participation in the robbery, and informed on those who were connected with them. The principal one—Jim Seeger—is supposed to be in Erie. It is the job of robbing Benninghoff was fixed up by Seeger, Miller, one of the prisoners, started into the expedition with the others, but backed out before they got to Benninghoff's house, and refused to help commit the robbery. He, however, kept six weeks ago, when he gave information to the officers who waited some time after they were certain of their game, in the hope of getting some clue to Seeger's whereabouts. But it was finally decided that if they should get him he would most probably be "dead broke," and none of them would be recovered, so they concluded to "ponce" down on the victims they had in view, and yesterday they "closed" on Robert Benninghoff, a professional robber, who resides in Meadville. On the night before the robbery Mr. Wegfarth was seated in a saloon at Meadville. Two men were seated near him; they were Germans, and conversing in the tongue of their fatherland. His attention was attracted by a remark which one of them made, it was something as follows: "If that little fellow comes out all right we shall be well wadded with money." He was particularly interested when the news of the robbery reached him, he at once thought that the two men whom he had seen in the saloon were concerned in it. His suspicions were strengthened that it soon became conviction in his mind. He does not know how or when he and Hague got their heads together, but Hague determined to trace out the robbers, and the latter went to Segertown, where Miller's confidence. It seems that Miller had received only $1,500, and he was dissatisfied. Wegfarth nursed him, and finally, to speak professionally, "squeaked" more and during the time which intervened between that and the arrest, Hague was making every effort to secure Seeger, but as yet has been unable to do so.

As usual in such cases there are very many rumors afloat, and it is somewhat difficult to get at the truth of the matter, but we believe the following to be a reliable statement. We have drawn our information from what we regard as authentic sources. One rumor is that the mistress of one of the robbers betrayed him, and Hague traced Seeger to Baltimore and west he telegraphed to have the other parties arrested. This order was carried out, and we have already seen. Some conclude from this that he has got Seeger, while others think he has given up the chase.

Some of the money we don't know how much—has been recovered, and the tiffers of deposit secured. The robbers had invested a great deal of the money in real estate and other property, and had purchased a hotel at Akron, Ohio, and had $24,000 for it, and another had purchased a house in Erie.

The reward offered for the arrest of these fellows was $50,000. The Benninghoff boys recovered to pay the reward, if there is enough to do so.

Yesterday we had a telegram from Montreal, Canada, stating that a man named Gardner had been surrendered under the extradition treaty, on the affidavit of a Pittsburgh detective, on the affidavit charging the person with complicity in the Benninghoff robbery.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

Yesterday District Attorney Carnahan filed an information in a case of forfeiture against sixteen barrels of distilled spirits, found in the possession of B. G. Powell and Michael Giblin, of Luzerne county.

In the cases of the United States against Jacob Auerbach, and the United States against George W. Boales on the criminal docket at Erie, the Court ordered the clerk to direct the files between the informer and United States.

In the bankruptcy branch of this Court Simon Cohen, a bankrupt, was finally discharged.

Petitions for final discharge were filed by Timothy P. Bate, of Erie county, Wm. L. Bardwell, of Wyoming county, Wm. Scoll and George W. Thompson, of Bradford county. The usual orders were made. In the matter of Daniel Bradbury, a bankrupt, the specifications of objections to his discharge were dismissed.

In the matter of Herman Field, the hearing on the rule to show cause why the signs should not be dismissed from his August next, was extended to the eleventh day of August next.

The Fire at the Albion Oil Works on Tuesday Night.

Our account of this fire published in Wednesday's issue was made up by the reporter while the fire was still burning, and in the midst of so much confusion and uncertainty that it is not surprising there should be some inaccuracies. It gives us great pleasure to state to-day that the damage sustained is very considerable—forty barrels of crude oil in one of the car tanks, one hundred barrels of residuum on one of the railroad tracks, and a very slight damage to the mill, the whole not exceeding $1,000, is the amount of actual loss sustained, and such of this as falls upon Warrington & Lafferty is covered by insurance. The mill will resume operations a day or two hence, with all damages repaired. We are glad to report also that Mr. Caskey, reported missing, escaped without injury. The unfortunate young man, James McManus, is the only one killed. Mr. Lafferty, burned, as reported before, and much anxiety is felt for the result of his injuries.

Assaulting an Officer.

Tuesday evening, while officer Cronin was endeavoring to arrest a man named Winterfield Fogie, the latter drew a revolver and attempted to shoot him, falling, however, in the attempt, the weapon being seized before he could discharge it. Fogie was being arrested for creating a disturbance in his neighborhood on Pine street, Third ward, by flourishing a revolver and threatening to shoot his wife and children, and every body who looked upon him. He was taken to the city jail, fined twenty-five dollars, in default of which he was committed to jail for thirty days. He was also subsequently held for trial in default of bail on a charge of forcible assault and battery, preferred by officer Cronin.

Cruelty to Animals.

We doubt if there is another city, town or village in the Union where the equine race is so misused as in Pittsburgh. In many instances drivers are employed and entrusted with the care of horses, who have no more knowledge of the manner of treating a horse than the monkey has of the use of the globe. They simply know enough to put feed in the trough at stated intervals, put the harness on the horse and hitch him to the wagon, cart or such other vehicle as the business may require, and by a free application of the whip set him in motion. When they come to load the vehicles, no matter whether they are hauling feathers or lead, they fill the wagon, or whatever it may be, to its utmost capacity, and then if the article to be transported heavy material, and the horse is unable to pull it, he is unmercifully beaten by the driver, and the horse is made to trot or gallop, until he is exhausted, and then he is driven to the slaughter
