

B. CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 m. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth Street, next door to Gazette office.

Petroleum Nasty will lecture in Pittsburgh next season.

The Hotels are doing scarcely a paying business, there being but few strangers in the city.

The Libraries and Reading Rooms about the city are largely attended, and all boast of unprecedented prosperity.

Edwin Booth, will probably return to this city next winter, but Forrest will stay at home a wise determination on his part.

Peaches are becoming a little more plentiful in the market, but they are rather too expensive to be purchased very liberally.

Proposed New Bank.—There is some talk of establishing a new Bank in Birmingham. The project has assumed as yet no definite shape.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of partner wanted in a manufacturing business in another column. This is a splendid chance for investment.

There has been no appearance of the cholera as yet this season in Pittsburgh. Notwithstanding the public health continues remarkably good.

Many of the Penn street houses have their hall doors boarded, a sign to the initiated that their occupants are sojourning at the fashionable summer resorts.

Meets To-night.—The Allegheny Board of School Controllers will hold a regular monthly meeting in the Common Council Chamber, City Building, this evening at 7 1/2 o'clock.

The soda water dealers of Chicago and New York have reduced their prices for that delicious summer beverage. Why is not their good example followed in this neighborhood?

Slapped Her.—Sarah Madden alleges that Lottie Gerber, residing at No. 23 Third Street, slapped her in the face and called her bad names. Lottie was arrested and held for a hearing.

False Alarm.—The alarm of fire given from box 23, corner of Palo Alto street and Taylor avenue, Allegheny, yesterday morning, was caused by the testing of the box by Chief Engineer Crow.

Serious Charges.—Ellen Gregg, an inmate of the County Home, made information yesterday before Alderman Strain, charging Jas. M. McElroy with adultery, fornication and bastardy. A warrant was issued.

Plente of the Turnover.—The Pittsburgh Turnover (Boston) has been made by the Garden, on Troy Hill, yesterday. It was largely attended, quite a number of the Allegheny Turners participating.

The Second Ward Grant Club, the first in the field, will meet at headquarters to-night for the purpose of making arrangements for the furnishing of their rooms and the establishment of a central reading room.

The Oil Excitement is again threatening to break out. Nearly all our merchants are commencing to double "a little" in promising localities. The Pleasantry arguments have caused a revival of the fever.

Alleged Desertion.—Mrs. Ella McDonnell made information yesterday before Alderman Miller, against her husband, John McDonnell, for desertion. She is now arrested and committed for a further hearing in default of $500 bail.

A knock-down occurred last night at the corner of Fifth and Smithfield streets between two prominent but antagonistic politicians. No police interference. The assault was mutually made up by the usual shaking of hands.

The House of Refuge inmates are said to be the best disciplined body of boys and girls in the United States. Eating, drinking, working, praying, studying, and exercising are carried on a systematic and universal plan and like clock work.

To-night, at the Keystone Skating Rink, Allegheny City, Rev. Wm. Evans, one of the most accomplished eloquentists of the country, gives a select reading, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association. All are invited to be present.

Postponed.—On account of the small attendance, influenced no doubt by the rain, the organization of a Grant Club of the citizens of the Fifth, old Third ward, in this city, did not take place until next Friday evening.

Alleged Larceny as Bailie.—Alderman Strain yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of an Gallagher, residing on the corner of O'Hara and Penn streets, charged on oath of Geo. Green with larceny as bailie of a watch chain, valued at twenty-five dollars.

Suburban.—Oliver McClintock, Esq., the well-known real estate merchant, has almost completed one of the handsomest suburban residences in this vicinity. The structure is located on McCookville and is the Ferris plank road, just beyond the Observatory.

Ward Meetings.—We call the attention of the Republicans living in the Eleventh, (old Seventh), First ward and Fifth ward, Allegheny, to the meetings to be held this evening in their different wards. All who are in favor of the election of Grant and Colfax should attend.

Another Eliza affair is brewed about, and some of our fast young men are regionally alarmed. The game about "Eliza" is not as the boys would say, and as such cases rarely come to Court, we can but surmise that they are put up to levy black mail from those who fear exposure.

Too Much So.—A colored individual named Benjamin Stewart for a little too much enanated in Allegheny yesterday, and acted in a free manner, not in strict compliance with law and order, which resulted in his being arrested and conveyed to the lock-up for disorderly conduct.

Deep in Law.—James Flaherty yesterday lodged two informations before Alderman Strain against John and Kate Donahue, residing at No. 22 Duquesne way, one for disorderly conduct and the other for keeping a disorderly house. The accused were arrested and held for Court in the sum of $300.

This Evening, at half-past seven o'clock, the Seventh and Eighth Ward Grant and Colfax Club will hold a meeting at the Franklin street "Gazette". A large attendance is desirable, as the Constitution and By-laws of the Club, and other important business, will be brought before the members for action.

School Teachers Elected.—The School Directors of Lower St. Clair Township have elected the following teachers for the ensuing year: Misses No. 1 and 2 (Main street), Principal, John A. Logan, Assistant, Josephine Brennan. Nos. 3 and 4 (Mount Oliver), Principal, J. K. Barnes, Assistant, Mary Hunter. No. 5 (Williamsburg), Hannah J. Lyon. No. 6 (Saw Mill Run), Mary K. Polan. Nos. 7 and 8 (Brownson), Principal, W. P. Montgomery, Assistant, Jennie J. Creighton. No. 9 (Allen-down), Lizzie Heitrich.

Disorderly.—Officer Shaffer, of the Allegheny police, arrested a man named Jack Zimmerman for being drunk and acting disorderly on Federal street yesterday afternoon. The fellow made a stout resistance but was overpowered by the officers and lodged him safely in the lock-up. He will have a hearing to-day.

Temperance Meeting.—Rev. Paul Coombs, the Secretary of the Pennsylvania State Temperance Society, was to have addressed the friends of the cause in front of the Allegheny Postoffice last evening, but for once too much cold water came in contact with the Temperance reform.

Fortunate.—Yesterday afternoon, while a carpenter was engaged in repairing the cornice of a house on Ohio street, Allegheny, he missed his footing and fell to the ground. He was fortunate enough to alight on his feet and so was saved from serious injury, the only effect being a slight stinging from the force of the fall.

The contest for the Republican nomination to the municipal offices at the forthcoming primary meetings is growing warm and exciting. There are a number of persons willing to serve their fellow citizens in the various offices. It is generally conceded that the Democrats will put Mr. Jas. Blackmore in nomination for re-election to the office of Mayor.

Questions Answered.—Those large heaps of earth scattered over the Allegheny Common, which have attracted so much attention, and regarding which so many questions have been asked, are compost heaps, formed by a combination of lime with old manure, which are to be used in fertilizing the soil around the trees when planted in the proposed park.

Almost Completed.—The Federal Street and Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway is almost completed, and will be in running order about the first of the present month, if the work progresses according to expectations. But a very small portion of the track remains to be laid, and it will be completed as soon as the cars arrive, which will be about the time stated.

Progressing.—The new building for the use of the First National Bank of Birmingham is progressing rapidly. The workmen are engaged on the last story of brick, and the roof is already ready for roofing. When once closed up, a strong force of workmen will be put on and every effort made to complete it rapidly. It is expected to be ready for occupancy by fall.

Boy Drowned.—Yesterday afternoon, shortly after one o'clock, a boy residing on McKee street, Birmingham, was drowned in the Monongahela river, near Chambers' Glass Works. Parties were engaged in searching for the body during the afternoon and evening, but up to a late hour last evening it had not been found. We failed to learn the name of the deceased.

The New Organ of the Third Presbyterian Church, (Barnaby Hook) (Boston) has been made by the Garden, on Troy Hill, yesterday. It will be immediately erected in the elegant new church on Sixth street. This organ will be much sweeter in tone than the mammoth Jardine organ in the Cathedral, and we deem it will be a superior instrument altogether, although not so large.

Temperance.—The Temperance men are actively at work canvassing for the advancement of their cause. They meet in Convention Tuesday, August 11, to place in nomination a candidate for County Commissioner. As yet no particular man has been specially talked of for the position, but from appearances at present the contest will be among the well known advocates of the cause in Allegheny.

Alleged Assault on a Boy.—Simon Johnston made information before Alderman Taylor yesterday against Charles O'Donnell for committing an assault and battery on the person of his step-son, Gratton Burbridge. The alleged offense was committed at the head of Wylie street, and it is stated that the boy, Gratton, is now threatened to take the boy's life. A warrant was issued.

Melicious Trespass.—James R. Mellon made information before Alderman McKee yesterday, against several boys for trespassing on his father's property, the Bloomingdale pike, and carrying off fruit, besides breaking the trees and destroying the shrubs on the grounds. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the boys, whose names are Geo. Hawshaw, Thos. Herron, Geo. Mink and Jno. Cannon.

Active.—The Republicans of Allegheny have become thoroughly aroused and are engaging actively in the campaign. A stand will be made by their headquarters, which has been erected in the Third ward square of the Diamond, and from it during the coming struggle the orators will deliver their scathing rebukes, and around it many a hearty shout for the loyal candidates, Grant and Colfax, will make the welkin ring.

Disorderly Conduct.—Elizabeth Pentz made information yesterday before Alderman Strain, against Sydney Pentz, for disorderly conduct and surety of the peace. She alleges that Sydney is in the habit of throwing dead chickens and the contents of soap palls around her house, and using very violent language toward her. At the hearing the case was finally postponed until the morning, when she will be required to furnish security for the peace.

Street Opening.—A petition is in circulation signed by a number of the property holders in the vicinity, asking for the opening of Taylor avenue, in the Second ward, Allegheny, from its present termination at the corner of Allegheny street, to a distance of two squares. The petition will be presented to Councils at their next meeting, and as the improvement is one which is very much needed it will no doubt receive favorable consideration.

Serious Accident.—Yesterday afternoon about two o'clock a German, while driving a two horse wagon loaded with coal along Smithfield street, near Fifth, was struck by one of the wheels and knocked down. The hind wheel of the wagon passed over his left leg, below the knee, crushing it in a horrible manner. He was conveyed to the hospital in Birmingham and medical aid summoned, but it is feared that amputation will be necessary. We failed to ascertain his name.

We have received from Prof. Charles C. Mellor, No. 81 Wood street, the following popular music: The Wandering Boy, by George M. Alexander, Esq., music composed by James Giles; Little Lead Polly, composed and dedicated to Miss Stella Jones, one of Pittsburgh's amateurs, by Dr. C. Haughawout; also, Pading Lilly, in memory of Miss Prudence Holm. These pieces of music should be had by all our readers who are any way fond of music. They are published by Mr. Mellor, and can be had at his store, 81 Wood street.

In our promenade along North avenue, on Sunday evening, we had the pleasure of meeting several cows and five pigs. These lively specimens of zoology are, perhaps, allowed to wander on the order to add nature's beauty and life to the beautiful scenery of North Commons; but if we dare make a suggestion, it would be that these animals, charming as they may be to some eyes, would best rest quietly in the city pound, if such a place now exists, and if the great pig sty, in one corner, should be some species of the Commons, as closed as a lawn in front of the Penitentiary is not a city pound, we can not possibly imagine why it can be there.

Opening of a Magnificent New Bank Building.—Yesterday, by a grand banquet dinner, the magnificent and palatial new building of the Peoples' National Bank was formally taken possession of by the bank, and a sumptuous dinner was afforded its stockholders and patrons. The building is one of the handsomest in the city, and in style of finish and point of convenience cannot be surpassed. The main building is two stories in height, and has a front of twenty feet on Wood street. The front elevation is composed entirely of cast stone, the material used being remarkably free from spots or discoloration. The first story is thirty feet high, and forms a large arch, supported on either side by ornamental columns, with capitals. The archway is set with "Corinthian" or raised stones similar to a keystone, which present a very handsome appearance. The triangular fields on each side are filled with ornamental scrolls and medallions in the form of shields, enclosed by wreaths. This arch is divided into doorways and windows, the design and effect being tastefully decorated. The second story of the building contains three clustered windows, arched at the top, and on a sinuous ornamental cornice, supporting a medallion cornice. In the pediment there is an allegorical representation of Liberty, surrounded by flags, and a cornucopia of corn, wheat, and other products of the soil. The pediment is supported by a pair of columns, with an eagle, perched on the top, and a scroll, with the motto "Liberty and Justice under Law." The building is on the first floor, on a level with Wood street. It is twenty feet wide by sixty in length. The ceiling is semi-circular in front, about thirty feet high in the center, and the floor is finished in stucco. The rear part of the room is finished in a style harmonizing with the front of the building, and the ceiling is finished in stucco, with a decorative design in the center. The desks, counters, door-frames, etc., are all of white oak, and the floor is laid in the style of the front. The room is the vault which is constructed in a manner which will defy all the ravages of fire or the operations of burglars. The building is finished in a style of the highest quality, and is well adapted for the purposes of a banking institution, and reflects credit upon the city as well as upon the taste and liberality of the donors.

The People's Bank is now permanently located in the new building, and with Samuel Ross, Jr. as President, and J. M. Gordon, Cashier, all of whom enjoy a wide reputation as experienced business men, promise to make the institution but to even increase its business prosperity.

Emancipation Day.—The Celebration Yesterday.—How it Passed off.—The colored population of this vicinity yesterday celebrated the thirty-fourth anniversary of Emancipation. Its observance should properly have taken place on Saturday, but the day was postponed to yesterday, the week it was thought best to postpone the affair until Monday. At an early hour yesterday the excitement commenced, and from "early morn till dewy eve" the celebration was carried on with earnestness and hearty abandon, which gave good evidence of how well the occasion was appreciated.

The Pittsburgh population generally repaired to the district where the celebration was to be held, and the streets were thronged with the glad throng. The largest number thronged the shade trees and the grounds of the Lincoln Guards, where a large number of the colored people gathered, and the promenade, the hours glided swiftly and delightfully. Orders for the day were put in an appearance, containing somewhat of a break in the program. A warbling vireo, which had been killed with the other exercises, Linden Grove also attracted quite a fair assemblage, all of whom enjoyed a very pleasant time. The celebration was a most successful one, and the Lincoln Guards, commanded by Lieutenant Smallwood, turned out, and headed by a marching band, they proceeded to the observatory, where they were met by the members of the Lincoln Guards, who were marching to the observatory, where they were met by the members of the Lincoln Guards, who were marching to the observatory.

Not Dead, but Lying.—Edward Barnett was arrested yesterday by officer Gumbert, of the Mayor's police, on an information for false pretense, made against him by Mr. Edmund Evans, of East Liberty. It is alleged that the accused, who is in the employ of Mr. Evans, came to him last week ago and requested the loan of forty dollars, stating that he wanted the money to pay the funeral expenses of his wife, who had just expired. Mr. Evans, being a kind-hearted man, and feeling a sympathy for the bereaved, loaned the money to him. It is alleged, however, that he discovered that the whole affair was a fraud, the woman not being dead at all. The officer, proceeding to the residence to arrest the accused, came upon him before he had risen yesterday morning at his residence, finding also his wife lying in bed, and seemingly remarkably active for a deceased woman. At the hearing, together with the other evidence, it was held in the sum of $300 for his appearance at Court. It is quite likely, however, that the case will be compromised.

The Tombs last night was respectively well filled. Call No. 1 contained an "Irishman," who had imbibed too much, and held a grudge against the world with all his might. He was occupied by a female of doubtful virtues. The parties reside at Mansfield street, and the woman obtained from him ten dollars by representing that he had a large sum of money coming from the Government, and that she would allow the prosecutor to collect in payment of the bill. Instead of doing this, Almsworth says that the woman, who is a native of Ireland, was a vulgar and unscrupulous creature, who had collected and refused to settle the bill. A warrant was issued.

Half-past Twelve.—A Man Killed.—Coroner Clawson held an inquest yesterday afternoon on the body of a man named Barney Toner, who was killed at Mansfield. It appears that the deceased had been in the employ of Messrs. Negley & Co. as a miner at the Grant coal works, Mansfield, but had been out of work for some time. Yesterday morning he started up to the works to see if he could get a situation, and while standing on the track near the company's tipples, the morning express on the Pittsburgh and Columbus railroad, due there at 10:20, came along, and the track in endeavoring to cross the Toner got out of the way was struck by the locomotive and knocked over the freight train which had stopped on the other track. The force of the blow was such as to crush in his left side, and otherwise severely injured him. He was conveyed to his boarding house in Mansfield, and Dr. Dale summoned, but notwithstanding the medical skill could not be expired shortly after one o'clock in the afternoon. At the inquest a number of witnesses were examined, after which the jury returned a verdict "that the deceased came to his death on the 3d of August, 1886, at Mansfield, from being struck by the express train on the Pittsburgh and Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad going west. No blame can be attached to the employees of the train, and the accident is held to have occurred through the negligence of the deceased." The morning express train is run at too great a speed through Mansfield. The deceased was a native of Ireland, about forty years of age, and had been in the employ of Messrs. Negley about two years.

An Original Method.—James Campbell, of the First ward, Allegheny, was charged before Mayor Drum with threatening to kill a citizen on Saturday last. Officer Kingdon found the man at Kennedy's Landing on the Ohio river, and was about to arrest him when the accused jumped into a boat and started for the river. The officer, not to be outwitted, also procured a skiff and started in pursuit. Finding himself lost in this way, he returned to the shore, and landed on some rats and started on a run. Being almost overtaken he took to the water again, and the skiff was unfortunately overturned. He had not learned to swim, and would have been drowned had not the officer fished him out at the time. The skiff was taken to the Mayor's office and fined five dollars and costs, and then released after giving bonds for his future good conduct.

A Diversion.—Some time during Friday night, or early Saturday morning, a pair of butter was stolen from the cellar connected with the residence of Mr. Louis Zellner, in East Birmingham. The owner of the stolen butter, Jerry Inman, Justice Ammon's police of the occurrence. After a diligent search it was discovered that the thief, evidently fearing detection, had concealed the article in a room of McConigley's planing mill. The employees of the mill finding it, and thinking some "quaint" man, who was as a slight acquaintance with much respect, equally amongst themselves, and when the matter was brought to the attention of the Mayor's office and fined five dollars and costs, and then released after giving bonds for his future good conduct.

In a Smashing Humgr.—Frank Schwann, Nicholas Danahar, Henry Shaffer and Thomas Murray were arrested yesterday and brought before Justice Ammon of East Birmingham, charged on oath of Louis Hauck with disorderly conduct. It is alleged that the parties attended a picnic given by the St. Vincent Society at the Grove on Saturday, at which they acted in a very disorderly manner. Coming home from the picnic Hauck alleges that they entered the Grove and proceeded to demolish the place, destroying everything that came in their way. They were held for a further hearing, and the matter, unless paid a number of others with the same offense, but none of them have yet been arrested.

Medicinal Waters, &c.—At the well managed and first class drug and perfumery house of Messrs. Burns & Caughy, corner of St. Clair and Penn streets, the pure and healthful mineral waters, Vichy, Saratoga, Kissing and Seltzer waters will find them in draught from clean and ice-cold porcelain fountains. Nowhere else in the city can so pure and delicious waters be obtained in such quantities. The waters are brought from the fountains with their fresh fruit syrups and also contain the most delicate essences, and are of the highest quality. The waters are brought from the fountains with their fresh fruit syrups and also contain the most delicate essences, and are of the highest quality. The waters are brought from the fountains with their fresh fruit syrups and also contain the most delicate essences, and are of the highest quality.

Abusing a Horse.—Mr. Miller, of the firm of Miller & Bradley, lively stable keepers, on Ohio street, Allegheny, made information last evening before Mayor Drum against two colored men, named respectively Oscar Robinson and James Holley, for recklessly driving and abusing a horse. It is alleged that the accused hired a buggy of the proprietor to attend a picnic in Gallagher's Grove, just outside the city, and that the horse, which is a fine animal, was completely exhausted, and died a short time after being put in the stable. The accused were arrested, and the matter is being investigated.

Fire in South Pittsburgh.—About half-past twelve o'clock last night a fire broke out in a one-story frame building near the end of the Monongahela bridge, in South Pittsburgh, occupied as a wagon-making and blacksmith shop by Messrs. Rigdon & Nelson. The building, together with its contents, was totally destroyed. It contained a few little metal articles, and the loss, which is trifling, is covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown. The firemen of the city were promptly brought to the spot, and did a short time after being put in the stable. The accused were arrested, and the matter is being investigated.

Western University.—The success of this excellent institution renders it unnecessary for parents to send their sons from home for a first-class commercial, scientific or classical education. Every advantage that can be had elsewhere is afforded here, and we would do well to appreciate the blessings we have in our midst rather than seek them at greater distance. Kind attention is directed to the fact that the college of instructors have built up an institution which we are proud to honor, and we would like to see the noble crowded with students. The fall term opens September first.

Alleged False Pretences.—Wm. Almsworth made information before Alderman McKee yesterday, against Jonathan Vickers for false pretences. The parties reside at Mansfield street, and the woman obtained from him ten dollars by representing that he had a large sum of money coming from the Government, and that she would allow the prosecutor to collect in payment of the bill. Instead of doing this, Almsworth says that the woman, who is a native of Ireland, was a vulgar and unscrupulous creature, who had collected and refused to settle the bill. A warrant was issued.

The Benninghoff Robbery.—Hearing on Wednesday.—Additional Arrest.—The detectives engaged in working up the Benninghoff robbery case, on Saturday made another arrest, the prisoner being one of the hands engaged on the farm at the time of the robbery. It is alleged that the accused gave the necessary information which enabled the thieves to carry out their plan so successfully. The parties now in the Franklin jail, the particulars of whose arrest we published some time since, will have a hearing on Wednesday, when fuller particulars will be developed. The chief detective in the matter, has not yet returned from Canada, whether he went on business connected with the affair. The names of the arrested parties are George Miller, Louis Waide and John Shaffner.

Found and Lost.—Yesterday afternoon the body of a man, in a state of decomposition, was found on the wheel of the steamer Baltic, lying at the foot of Penn street, in the Monongahela River. The boat had steam up preparatory to departing on a trip down the river, and it is supposed the body was fished up by the wheel as it turned round slowly in the water. The Coroner was notified of the find, and the body was taken to the morgue. The man was rather loosely secured to the wheel, and as the current at that place is very strong, it is supposed that the body was passing basis had broken it loose and carried it away in the current.

MARRIED.—HAWK-KIRKPATRICK.—On Thursday evening, July 30th, at the residence of the bride's parents, by the Rev. S. Hawk, Mr. A. M. HAWK and Miss LOUISA KIRKPATRICK, all of this city.

DIED.—FLACUS.—On Sunday evening, August 2d, 1886, MARY, daughter of William and Catherine Flacus, in the 11th ward, at the residence of her parents, in Lawrenceville, this morning, at 10 o'clock. The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.
