

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

See advertisement in wanted column for girl at No. 50 Liberty street.

Assault—Moses Parker, a colored man, was arrested yesterday and held for a hearing, charged with assault, on oath of Wm. Weyman, before the Mayor.

Died from His Injuries—The man Ross, who was shot yesterday as having been shot by an employe named Hase, in Robinson township, has since died from his injuries.

Attention—The Allegheny county Tamers' Club will meet at City Hall for a procession to-night. It is to be hoped that there will be a full turnout of all the members.

Held for a Hearing—Michael Harrison was arrested yesterday and held for a hearing on an information for a charge of peace, preferred against him by Mary Harrison before Alderman Strain.

St. Paul's Cathedral—The new spire had reached, last evening, a height of 193 feet from the ground. It is to be elevated 128 feet, with 12 feet more for the spire, in all 228 feet when completed, before the close of the present season.

Kept the Cash—Michael Moran alleges that Jerry McCarthy obtained five dollars of his money in trust, which he now refuses to deliver up. McCarthy is now in jail on a warrant for the arrest of Michael on a charge of larceny as bail.

Committed for Trial—Young Hardy, the boy who was arrested for burglariously entering Smith & Reimann's store, on Fifth street, Wednesday night, and being hanged yesterday and was committed to jail in default of bail for his appearance at Court.

Pleasant Reunion—One of those very pleasant reunions which have characterized the life of the late General Harrison, took place on Thursday night. There was a large attendance, representing our best citizens, and all enjoyed themselves highly.

Assault and Battery—Patrick Kearns yesterday information before the Mayor, charging Robert McCutcheon with assault and battery. He alleges that the accused struck him on the head with the butt of a revolver. McCutcheon was arrested and held to bail for his appearance at Court.

Stop Water Difficulty—Kate Abeneth and Mary Ann McClain, residing in the Fifth ward, Allegheny, are complaining of difficulty while scrubbing the brick sidewalk in front of their respective houses, which culminated in a visit to Alderman Neill's office, and a decision to have the sidewalk adjusted, each party paying half the costs.

The Robinson Township Homestead—Coroner Clawson yesterday commenced the investigation of the circumstances attending the killing of Daniel Ross, in Robinson township, by the boy David Penn, but did not conclude it. The inquest will be resumed at the office of Dr. Walker, in Mansfield, on Saturday, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Youthful Thieves—Officer McCready arrested John Miller and Willie Boardman, boys about ten years of age, who were charged with robbing a bill in the Market. Officer Dressler arrested Thomas Newlan, a boy about twelve years of age, who was in company with the others when the theft was committed. They will have a hearing this morning.

The Saengerfest—Yesterday, owing to the inclemency of the weather, the grand picnic of the Saengerfest was not held, but will be substituted to-night by a grand promenade concert at the Kaslova rink. Dancing, singing and general enjoyment will be the order of the occasion, and all who attend will have a pleasant time. See advertisement on our fifth page.

About an Umbrella—There is one man in the city who believes that umbrellas can be stolen and taken in accordance with his convictions appeared at Alderman Taylor's office yesterday, gave his name as Peter Ackerman, and claimed that he had been robbed of an umbrella valued at $2.75. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the accused.

Base Ball—The first nine of the Olympic Club have challenged the Old Men to a game of base ball, and the latter having accepted, the event will take place to-morrow at three o'clock, at Union Park. The Old Men, although making a strong effort to make the match a very interesting one, and if they do not succeed in wresting the championship from the Olympic boys, they will be obliged to give them a pretty tough struggle. Some rare fun may be looked for, and a large crowd of spectators is anticipated.

Probable Suicide—Samuel Wach, cloth peddler, residing at No. 21 Esplanade street, Third ward, Allegheny, was discovered in his sleeping room about six o'clock last evening, with his throat cut, and water in his blood. A pair of shoes was found near him, which he had been wearing, and which he had taken off, and which he had thrown away. He was found nearly dead, and upon examination decided the man to be in a precarious condition, his windpipe being nearly severed. Domestic difficulties, it is supposed, induced the commission of the rash act.

Fire at an Oil Refinery. Yesterday morning, about eight o'clock, a fire broke out at the oil refinery of Brooks, Brintline & Co., in Temperanceville, which threatened for a time to result in the destruction of the works. It seems that one of the stills, which was filled with about five hundred barrels of oil in process of refining, sprung a leak, by which a stream of oil was poured down into the fire of the furnace, causing an instant conflagration. The fire in the furnace was extinguished as quickly as possible, which had the effect of diminishing the flames somewhat, but it was not entirely quenched until the oil had been completely destroyed. We were unable to ascertain the amount of loss or the insurance, but it is supposed to be considerable.

Forbes Street—The new Oakland Road. This new avenue to extend from Ross street, near the Court House, eastward between the line of Pennsylvania (now Fifth) avenue and the Monongahela bridge, and striking the present East Liberty road about a mile beyond the car station at Oakland, will be, when completed, an admirable improvement. Avoiding the heavy grades of the high road bridge of the present road, it will conduct travel by an easy and nearly straight line through a new and well paved street sixty feet in width, free from the annoyance of street cars, direct from the heart of the city to the suburbs. We understand that, in all respects, this new Forbes street is to be made one of the pleasantest in the city, and especially adapted for the use of the throngs of pleasure-seekers, who descend from the smoky town to the pure air and charming scenery of that delightful suburb. The plans and their execution, by C. E. Moore, in reference to this grand improvement, will reflect the highest credit upon that officer.

POLITICAL.

Meetings to be Held This Evening. Republican meetings will be held this evening as follows:

Upper St. Clair Township—At houses of Alex. Gilliam, Speakers; Thos. Ewing and W. S. Purvance, Esqs.

Elizabeth Township—At Union Hall, Col. John Glenn will deliver an address.

Dravosburg, Mifflin Township—Speakers: J. R. Dravo and C. W. Robb, Esqs.

Brownstown, Lower St. Clair Township—Corner of Carson and McClurg streets. Speakers: A. M. Brown and John H. Kerr, Esqs.

Temperanceville—Speakers: J. M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., and others.

Manchester (now 5th ward, Allegheny)—At Hamilton's drug store. Speakers: Gen. Wm. Blackley, H. H. McCormick and J. E. McKelvy, Esqs.

Mass Meeting in Allegheny—Enthusiastic Turn-Out—Speeches of Messrs. Mackrell, Bayne and Lucas.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of Allegheny City was held last evening at the stand in the Allegheny Diamond. The Germania Brass Band was in attendance and enlivened the occasion at intervals with excellent music.

At half-past seven o'clock the meeting came to order, with the following list of officers: President—John A. Jennings.

Mr. Jennings, on the chair, returned his thanks for the compliment in a few pertinent remarks, and introduced H. C. Mackrell, Esq.

Mr. Mackrell commenced by congratulating the audience on the large turnout, which he considered an indication that the masses of Allegheny were fully awake to the issues of the hour, and would be true to their duty in the coming contest.

He then entered into a lengthy review of the record of the principle standard bearers of the Democracy, showing that during and since the war, by his public utterances, his published letters, his votes and his actions, he had proved himself in sympathy with the principles which instigated the rebellion with all its dire calamities to the country.

The Democratic platform, which occupied his attention for a short time, he argued that it was a tissue of glittering generalities and misrepresentations, which only the Democracy could swallow. He states that all the acts done by Congress in the way of reconstruction are revolutionary, unconstitutional and void, although history records the fact that they were passed and ratified in the regular constitutional method by congressional majority, and in strict accordance with the provisions of that immortal document.

The Democracy are equally inconsistent on the bond question, about which they help so much. In their platform they say that the bonds shall be paid in greenbacks, while they have nominated a man for their candidate, who, according to the contract, is to pay the bonds in gold.

They have two purposes to serve. They are divided among themselves. A majority of their adherents holding bonds, anxiously require what is to be done with the Government securities they hold in gold, the only just and honest method of disposing of them, says Seymour.

The remainder of the party who own no bonds ask, what will you do with the bonds? How shall they be paid? In greenbacks, of course; read the platform, is the answer, and by having the bonds paid in gold, the speaker continued, and some length and closed with an earnest appeal to all present to go to work actively and immediately and labor that the designs of these sympathizers of the rebellion be frustrated.

Col. Thomas M. Bayne was announced as the second speaker, but not having arrived Mr. Gourley took the stand and made an address of about ten minutes' length. Mr. Gourley said he had never made a political speech in his life, but that the times in which we live demand every man to do his sober thought and active work. To-day Republicanism is on its travels, and if it fails to return to its former position, it will be forever blotted from the firmament, and the blackness of dark night will envelope the rights of humanity.

The gentleman proceeded in this eloquent style for a few minutes, and closed by urging all to earnest exertions in behalf of the loyal candidates, Grant, Colfax and Johnson. Col. Thos. M. Bayne was next introduced and made an address of more than an hour's length, in which he reviewed the issues of the hour in the light of past history, which was the only true method of examining it. He showed clearly that the principles at stake in the present contest were the same as those which had engaged the attention of our fathers in the organization of the Government, which had demanded the consideration of our statesmen ever since that period.

The Colonel held the audience in rapt attention throughout the course of his speech, and handled his subject in a manner which spoke much reflection and careful consideration. We attempt no synopsis of this masterly effort, feeling that a pal report would but do the speaker injustice. At the close he was rewarded with three cheers, given with a will by the audience, after which B. F. Lucas, Esq., in response to loud calls, appeared and entertained the audience for a few minutes in a well-timed and appropriate address, in which he made several happy allusions to the ground swell in Vermont in favor of Union and independence, which were received with hearty applause.

At the conclusion of Mr. Lucas' speech, the meeting adjourned with three cheers for Grant and Colfax.

At a meeting held Sept. 2d in Ross Township, for the purpose of forming a Grant and Colfax Club, the following Committee on officers was appointed: William B. Dummett, James Sanderson, John B. Craig, Wm. A. Shinn, D. R. Quail and Andrew Brethour, who made the following report: President—D. H. Cunningham.

Vice Presidents—first school district, Joseph Hiltbrand; second, John B. Craig; third school district, John Brown; Peter Sargard; fourth, J. J. Gillespie, James A. Eakin; fifth, John Flocker, Ebenezer Williams; sixth, John Ranney, Charles Hammer; sixth, George Quail, Wm. Halsey.

PITTSBURGH STEEL.

Another Test of the Park, Brothers & Co., Steel Plate Boiler.

There has been within a few weeks past several tests of a boiler made out of the steel turned forth from the celebrated works of Park, Brothers & Co., which have attracted much attention from the scientific world.

The boiler under test is a series of tests, was manufactured out of ordinary plates furnished by these works, in the best style of workmanship of Carrol Snyder, and although no extreme pressure, such as will satisfy the Messrs. Park, has yet been attained, still the fact has been fully established that the material of which the boiler is made cannot be surpassed by any in use in the world.

These experiments being made, there were among our most skilled and thoughtful mechanics, engineers and scientists, many who took a very small stock in the adaptability of steel to general boiler making. But these objections, and beyond the Messrs. Park, Brothers & Co. have established that they have struck upon the exact quality of material for boiler use, and none are longer in doubt as to the value of the knowledge they have gained.

It is such a test that we have witnessed with our own eyes with a view to the knowledge of the fact. Five hundred to seven hundred and twenty pounds, is employed in the boiler, and the explosion would be simply out of the range of the abilities. At the test, held August 22d, a pressure of 665 pounds was reached, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds on each square inch of 7,000 pounds! The boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

The only effect witnessed at the first test, was a slight expansion of the boiler, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

After the pressure was raised to the plates contracted, showing movable elasticity. Yesterday the same boiler underwent a second test, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

After the pressure was raised to the plates contracted, showing movable elasticity. Yesterday the same boiler underwent a second test, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

After the pressure was raised to the plates contracted, showing movable elasticity. Yesterday the same boiler underwent a second test, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

After the pressure was raised to the plates contracted, showing movable elasticity. Yesterday the same boiler underwent a second test, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

After the pressure was raised to the plates contracted, showing movable elasticity. Yesterday the same boiler underwent a second test, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

After the pressure was raised to the plates contracted, showing movable elasticity. Yesterday the same boiler underwent a second test, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

After the pressure was raised to the plates contracted, showing movable elasticity. Yesterday the same boiler underwent a second test, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

After the pressure was raised to the plates contracted, showing movable elasticity. Yesterday the same boiler underwent a second test, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

After the pressure was raised to the plates contracted, showing movable elasticity. Yesterday the same boiler underwent a second test, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

After the pressure was raised to the plates contracted, showing movable elasticity. Yesterday the same boiler underwent a second test, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

After the pressure was raised to the plates contracted, showing movable elasticity. Yesterday the same boiler underwent a second test, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

After the pressure was raised to the plates contracted, showing movable elasticity. Yesterday the same boiler underwent a second test, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds, and the boiler was subjected to a strain of 7,000 pounds.

One Hundred Guns in Honor of the Green Mountain State.

Allegheny county, through her banner district, the Old Second Ward, responded last night to the thunder heard rolling from the blue hills of Vermont, and sent re-echoing among the hills the sound of rejoicing which will be caught up and borne on every wind to the remotest corners of our country.

It was not proper that such a glorious victory as that achieved in Vermont should be permitted here, in the citadel of Republicanism and loyalty, to pass unnoticed, for as regards the high spirit and energetic event which will strengthen and solidify the Union ranks, and turn the hands of wavering citizens into the broad straight pathway of patriotism.

Hence it was that the Second ward improved a procession and a salute of a hundred guns, in honor of the Green Mountain State, and by the way the pioneer organization of the character in the United States) busied themselves in making preparations for the spontaneous display of the evening.

At eight o'clock the members of the Second ward proceeded, and preceded by mounted field piece drawn by four horses, paraded the various streets. Luding's famous brass band was in the advance and was closely followed by the Second Ward Club.

The members, some two hundred in number, in their neat uniforms and bearing gleaming rifles, brought up the rear. As the procession moved the heavens were kept aglow with fire works sent up by the members in honor of the whole the affair was one of the most brilliant of the campaign.

The club brought up the Monongahela wharf, where it was the intention to fire the gun, but it was found that the gun had been spiked by some evil disposed persons, and the club telegraphed through Penniman, Esq., to the Secretary of War, Gen. J. M. Schofield, for an order on the commandant of the Allegheny Arsenal for the use of two pieces of artillery.

The Secretary promptly responded, giving the Arsenal with the order a squad of experienced artillerymen, under the command of Captain W. B. Cook, Lieut. Collier and Captain John Floyd, were dispatched to the Arsenal with the order, and at regular intervals, one hundred rounds were fired on the Monongahela wharf.

The impromptu celebration was highly creditable to the Second ward and to our citizens generally. At the still hour of midnight the sound of the guns, and the re-echo among our hills, thousands listened and felt that the sturdy sons of Vermont would not be slow to fire the guns of Pennsylvania, which would be an expressive way assure them that their nation they have and follows the noble example they have.

Production of Oil at Pleasantville. We publish the following table showing the estimated and real production of oil at Pleasantville, at the request of many interested in the oil business:

Table showing production of oil at Pleasantville, including columns for 'Estimated', 'Real production', and 'Total'.

Another way to show the production, and we think about as reliable as any, is to take by the quantity of oil that is transported there and has been no other way of transportation) together with the amount of oil that is produced in the district.

The following table shows the amount of petroleum shipped through the pipe during the present month, up to the 27th, together with the amount of oil that is produced in the district.

Table showing petroleum shipped through the pipe during the present month, including columns for 'To Titusville by Pipe', 'To Pithole', and 'In tank at wells'.

Now provided there was no oil on hand on the 1st of August, the average daily production would be 1,300 barrels, for the twenty-seven days ending August 27. But the average cannot be so great, because there must have been a large amount of oil on hand on the 1st of August.

There was undoubtedly considerable June oil in tank on the 1st of July. Should the quantity of production in all the producing districts be as much exaggerated as this, the actual production of this region is many thousand barrels less than reported.—Petroleum Centre Record.

The Coopers. Messrs. EDWARDS GAZETTE: Gent.—In your issue of Wednesday a morning there appears in your local columns an account of an affair headed "Disorderly Conduct," which places the coopers of Allegheny in an unfavorable position, and is, in part, a misrepresentation of facts.

We have not been on a strike for some time. The resolution favoring a strike was only adopted by the Coopers on Tuesday evening, and we are not striking for an advance of wages, but for the old prices and against reduction, which has been proposed by the bosses.

At an informal meeting of the coopers, held on Monday evening, a committee was appointed to visit the different shops and request the workmen to attend a general meeting to be held on Tuesday evening, for the purpose of striking.

Those persons who created the disturbance at Mr. Hemphill's shop were not on the committee, and were not at the meeting. The gentlemen appointed on that committee attended to their duty as such, without the intention of annoying any one. Yours, etc., A COOPER.

Preparing for the Fall Trade.

The fall trade will soon open and our merchants are busily engaged in arranging their fresh stocks for its transaction. It has been universally conceded that the coming season will be a prosperous one, as small merchants in the towns and villages have permitted their supplies of goods in all departments to run down very low, and the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

From the fact that the opening of the season is anticipated in the opening of the season, and that the merchants and dealers may as well enter the market early as late, for they will secure the same advantages.

Choice Suburban Residence.

Thursday, September 10th, on the premises, will be sold the very desirable Residence and Grounds of Mr. ENSWORTH, delightfully located within ten minutes' ride of either city. Rare chance for parties desiring to purchase a country home having all the advantages of city property. See advertisement in daily papers of H. B. Southworth & Co., Auctioneers.

MARRIED: BLAIR-CARSON—On Tuesday, Sept. 1, 1868, by Rev. A. H. Elder, Mr. OLIVER P. BLAIR, of Brighton Station, Pa., and Miss MAGGIE J. CARSON, of Pleasant Hill, Pa. No cards.

PERCHMENT-BRADLEY—On Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 1st, 1868, at Spring Lawn, the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. L. F. Morgan, D. D., Dr. P. PERCHMENT and Miss E. BRADLEY, daughter of Alexander Bradley, Esq., of this city.

DIED: ROSS—On Thursday morning, Sept. 3d, at 6 o'clock, DANIEL ROSS. General from his late residence, Robinson township, this (Friday) afternoon, at 2 1/2 o'clock. KELLY—On Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 1, 1868, Mr. YALE KELLY, aged 64 years.

Undertakers. ALEX. AIKEN, UNDERTAKER, 106 FIFTH STREET, Pittsburgh, Pa. Description of Funeral Furnishings, Furniture, Caskets, Cases, Coffins, and Carriages furnished.

CHARLES A. PEELER, UNDERTAKER AND LIVERY STABLES, corner of Allegheny and Liberty streets, Pittsburgh, Pa. Description of Funeral Furnishings, Furniture, Caskets, Cases, Coffins, and Carriages furnished.

ROBERT T. RODNEY, UNDERTAKER AND ENGRAVER, No. 45 OHIO STREET, Pittsburgh, Pa. Description of Funeral Furnishings, Furniture, Caskets, Cases, Coffins, and Carriages furnished.

WESPENHEIDE, MERCHANT TAILOR, No. 50 St. Clair Street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Having just returned from the East with all the latest styles of French Goods, is now prepared to make up in the latest fashion and in strict accordance with the most improved and stylish, and for the purpose of making new ones, at PRICES TO SUIT EVERYBODY.

HENRY G. HALE, MERCHANT TAILOR, Corner of Penn and St. Clair Streets, Pa. Has now in stock one of the largest and most varied assortments of Fall and Winter Goods ever brought to this city. His stock embraces all the latest French and English manufactures of Cloths, Cassimeres, Suitings, Overcoatings. Also, a full line of Gent's Furnishing Goods.

GENUINE SCOTCH PEBBLE SPECTACLES. WARRANTED TO IMPROVE THE SIGHT FOR SALE BY DUNSEATH & HASLETT, 56 FIFTH STREET.

SECOND ARRIVAL OF NEW AND BEAUTIFUL FALL GOODS. THE FINEST ASSORTMENT OF SILKS, POPLINS, EMPRESS, AND EVERY DESCRIPTION OF DRY GOODS, TO BE FOUND IN THE CITY, AT J. M. BURCHFIELD & CO'S, No. 34 St. Clair, near Liberty St.

CAUTION! TO BUYERS OF TEA. C. A. BOUCHER, 114 SMITHFIELD ST., OPPOSITE POST OFFICE. Original Red Front Tea Warehouse.

BOCUS TEA COMPANIES. Of the present day. Men with scarcely sufficient knowledge of Tea to distinguish Black Green Tea of this city, on the various diseases of the ear, he says that in many cases could be cured by their incapacity if application were made to some responsible and competent ear surgeon.

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EAR. In observations and notes taken by Mr. KEYSER, of this city, on the various diseases of the ear, he says that in many cases could be cured by their incapacity if application were made to some responsible and competent ear surgeon.

REWARD OF $50. For each and every copy of short weight of tea, or other goods, as weighed on the first scale, or as weighed on the second scale, or as weighed on the third scale, or as weighed on the fourth scale, or as weighed on the fifth scale, or as weighed on the sixth scale, or as weighed on the seventh scale, or as weighed on the eighth scale, or as weighed on the ninth scale, or as weighed on the tenth scale.

C. A. BOUCHER, No. 114 Smithfield Street, Pa.