Alleged Libellous Proceeding. A warrant was issued yesterday morn ing by the Mayor for the arrest of a well known photographer of this city, charged with libel on oath of a prominent citizen. More Rowdylsm.

On Monday evening, while returning from participation in the reception of Hon. John Sherman, the Twelfth ward Grant and Colfax Club were assailed by a party of roughs at the corner of Penn and Fifteenth streets, who treated them to a shower of stones, bricks and other missiles. One of the members of the Club, James Clocker, was struck on the back of the head with a stone and so severely injured that he had to be carried to his home on Twenty-first street. He was living at latest accounts, but almost paralyzed, and but slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Death of an Estimable Young Lady. Miss Libbie Ramsey, daughter of Col. J. B. Ramsey, died at Uniontown on Monday last, after a long and painful illness. She was an estimable young lady, of more than ordinary worth and intelligence. The possession of a large and generous heart, kind and charitable in her disposition and winning and agreeable in her ways, sho was ever surrounded by a large circle of warm and appreciative friends. During her illness she never murmured, but with the prayer of submission on her lips, "God's will be done," her soul winged its way to heaven, to dwell forever in the happiness of eternity.

Supplied Themselves.

Alexander McGowan made information yesterday, before Alderman McMasters, against Turner B. Aber and W. Large, charging them with the larceny of a lot of groceries valued at $8,85. McGowan, who resides in Baldwin township, states he was in the city yesterday and purchased a lot of groceries. On his way home he stopped at the White Hall Tavern, on the Brownsville pike, to take a drink. While inside the house, he alleges, the accused ransacked his wagon, which was standing at the door, taking away the articles to the amount mentioned. A warrant was issued.

An Annoying Practice.

The residents of the Second ward, Allegheny, in the vicinity of the outer depot of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, have been considerably annoyed by the shricking screeching noise caused by engineers of the Railroad blowing the whistles on their respective locomotives unnecessarily. Yesterday an engineer of the Cleveland and Eric road, which company shares in the use of the depot, was ied five dollars by Mayor Drum on complaint of a citizen in the neighborhood Doubtless in the future the practice, which s very annoying, will be stopped, or at least abated in a measure to comply with

Brown was represented by his friend Tyler and Coulter by Alexander Murray. Several hours were spent in endeavoring to agree upon a referee. The three gentlemen named by Coulter all declined to serve, and Mr. Tyler named Mr. Colville, of the New York Clipper. Murray objected, Tyler insisted, and at length the conference adjourned, to be re-sumed this morning at nine o'clock. It has been agreed to have the race at half-past four, instead of between five and six, as the packets going up at five will disturb the water too mucl Coul er has not yet decided on his judges, but it is probable that Mr. R. C. Elliott will Still Another. "The fools are not all dead yet" is a trite, but nevertheless true, observation, in support of which each succeeding day adds its numerous illustrations. The latest of these which has come within our knowledge, is that of Joseph Plawch, who was "plucked" by one of those oily tongued, well dressed, and respectable appearing chaps whose chief business is to keep a lookout for individuals of Joseph's proclivities. The circumstances of the affair, as related by the victim, are as appended: He had just arrived in the city from Somerset county, of this State, en route Michigan. It is, of course, declined, in the same fraternal spirit in which it was extended, Mr. Clark having been recalled to his very clever, sociable young man, who, after learning his destination, remarked that he was bound for the same place. that he was bound for the same place. Clever young man said he had an establishment in Cedar Rapids, and was in Pittsburgh buying goods. The goods were up at the Adams Express Company's depot, corner of Grant and Seventh streets, and if his friend would like a walk they would go up and see about them. No objection being made the two started out, and on arriving at the depot, the dever young man went ing at the depot the clever young man went in, telling his friend to wait outside for him. When he came out he was short just one hundred and thirty dollars, which must be paid before the goods were moved, and if his friend would lend him the amount for about half an hour, as soon as the goods were shipped he would get a check he had cashed at the bank and return the money. The money was loaned, and by direction of his clever acquaintance Joseph went down to the depot to watch some other goods marked Smith, which was the name of his marked Smith, which was the name of his marked Smith, which was the name of his mew found companion, that gentleman, in the meantime, going to the bank for the purpose of getting the aforementioned check cashed. After waiting till his patience was exhausted Joseph began to think a little; his reflections, aided by the facts, leading him to the sage conclusion that he had reen—well, mistaken in his judgment of one man at least. He made known the circumstances and his conclusion to officers Rock and Havis at the Depot, who entirely agreed with him, but amount for about half an hour, as soon as non to omeers how all and with him, but pot, who entirely agreed with him, but could offer no consolation. After weiting round for a while, and seeing no way to re-

William Blakely presided, with Mr. S. J. McFarren as Secretary. A Constitution and set of by-laws were Mrs. Captain Wm. Papers for enlist-ment were made out and distributed, and it is hoped by to-night that five hundred names will be reported. Manchester has already an equipped company in the field. We arge large attendance at the meeting to-night, as it is proposed to hold the first parade on Wednesday night next, and a implete organization it is hoped will be flected before that time. Grant and Colfax Meeting at Connelisville, MESSRS, EDITORS: The meeting at this place on Friday evening last was a success beyond all expectation. The people regardless of party, or the Copperhead meeting called expressly to keep the unterrified away, turned out en masse to hear the great questions of liberty against slavery, peace against war, discussed by those stering men, Hons. Thomas M. Marshall and 3. F. Lucas, of Pittsburgh. Large delegations of people on horseback, in buggies and wagons, on foot and by rail, poured in from the mountains and valleys.

Hon. B. F. Lucas took the stand, and for an hour and a quarter held the crowd with the telling truths of the real objects of the Democratic party. He reviewed the history of James Buchanan and the Democratic party in times of peace, borrowing twelve millions of dollars and paying for twelve infinois of donars and paying for it twelve per cent., and compared the ac-tion of the Republican party under the lead of Abraham Lincoln, who found the arsenals robbed, the Treasury empty, and the country in actual war, without muni tions or money, borrowing from the people upon its own bonds all the money it needed at six per cent, knowing that the people had more confidence in the Republican party in times of war by one-half than in he Democratic party in times of peace.

Hon. T. M. Marshall followed in one of those happy, telling speeches that no other man than he can make. The Democratic man than he can make. The Democratic doctrine, "Nigger and Greenbacks," was well illustrated. He said it was "Nigger Broiled, Nigger Stewed, Nigger Fried," and if they had a fourth meal it was "Nigger Sliced Down Cold," and that Seymour thought as much of a buck nigger in New York was the broaded and fifty dollars. York worth two hundred and fifty dollars as he did of a Copperhead, for the nigger could vote then. The Prodigal son was well shown up-in place o asking their portion they stole it; from going into a free country they went into war. As to the food they ate, he supposed it to be the same.

Preparing for the Fail Trade—The Whole—sale and Retail Trimming and Notion House of Joseph Horne & Co., 77 and 79

Pittsburgh Medical and Surgical Institute.
No. 134 Smithfield Street.
Under the direct supervision of E. S. Market Street.

In preparation for the Fall trade, which has opened up quite brisk and lively, our merchants have been strengthening themselves with heavy stocks wherewith they will be enabled to meet the large demands which will undoubtedly be made upon them this season by city and country dealers. Trade will no doubt be better during the forthcoming four months than we have siastic meeting of the Republican citizens experienced in the last decade of years, as the smaller dealers have been purchasing ing organization was effected: President, as little in the past as they could well get along with, acting on conservative princi-Espy, Philip Stephens; Secretaries, George ples in buying and trusting for the markets to settle. That point has been reached, and the prices at which wholesale houses start this season will hardly be reduced and probably increased before the incoming year of 1869.

WHO ARE PREPARED Prominent amongst the houses fully pre pared for a larger trade is the old and favorably known firm of Joseph Horne & Co., wholesale and retail dealers in trim mings, notions, &c., Nos. 77 and 79 Market street. The purchasing of this establishment for the supply of its large and nunually increasing trade has consumed considerable time, and is now about complete for the opening of trade. The stock is one of for the opening of trade. The stock is one of the most carefully selected and varied ever opened west of the Allegheny mountains, and will most certainly meet the requirements of all dealers who buy to sell again. The firm have long possessed superior advantages in the purchasing of the goods peculiar to their line of business, and are prepared to offer home customers induceboth in selection and price which cannot better be procured in the leading Eastern trade marts. Buying for cash, and in large quantities at a time, the firm obtain these advantages which they can afford to share with their pa rons.

THE STOCK.

Yesterday we had the pleasure of looking through the various apartments and found them teeming with goods, and not-withstanding the recent additions made to their commodious store facilities, every room seemed too small for the proper ac-commodation of the immense invoices received. It is hardly necessary to enumerate—hardly possible we might say—the various articles which go to make up the great extent of goods to be found in Horno & Co's salesrooms; but we will cite full lines of real Paris pattern bonnets and hats, in all the new shapes; ribbons, all shades, No. 1½ to 60; French and American flowers, roses, buds and leaves, hat and bounct feathers and birds, plaid and plain bounct velvets, gro de nap, bonnet satins, French ornaments, frames, &c; Embroideries, a large assortment of jaconet and Hamburg edgings: Insertings and bands of the latest designs; Handkerchiefs, one of the largest assortments in the city of hem-stitched, emb oidered and plain, lace goods, berthas, collars, coiffeurs, barbes, English thread, cluny, maltese, val, points and pointe sppiique lace, lace illusion for waists, something new; Hosiery, gloves, corsets, hoopskirts, bal. skirts, the Paris 'la belle' balmoral; Shetland shawls, breakfast shawls, opera hoods, children's knit caps and sacques; new styles of dress and cloak trimmings, chenille, bullion and bugle fringe, bead trimmings, gimps and loops; buttons, in great variety; colored velvet ribbons; "the star shirt," white and colored; gent's furnishing goods, neck ties, bows, searfs, suspenders and paper collars; notions and small wares. Each department will be found well stocked with all that is new and novel, and will be offered at the lowest Eastern prices.
While wholesale dealers have the amplest margin allowed them for protit, the retail patrons of the house will proportionately share in the reasonable prices and unusual choice and variety. The dejactments are all in charge of accommodating clerks, and those wishing either to pur-chase or look through the stock will receive all proper courtesy and attention. Country dealers, pedlers and city mer-chants can rest assured that they can purchase at no place in the East to better and, all thin, s considered, to as good advantage as at this home establishment.

Goods. Pittsburgh is rightly excited over the announcement made that! the immense stock of fashionable boots, shoes and gaiters, for men, women and children at the auction house emporium of H. B. Smithson & Co., Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, will be exposed for a 1 rief season to a sacrificing and absolute sale, as all lines must be closed out a once. The firm have received the entire stock of an Eastern bankrupt house and are prepared to offer such bargains as never before were heard of in this section of country. The prices are so low that they make criminals of those people who refuse to wear the best boots, shoes and guiters in the market, and after such a season cheap goods, no bare-footed urchin should seen on the streets. Nor is this all. The firm, in order to make the sale cess, have determined to sell all the remainder of their stock, previous to the late arrival, at prime cost, and their cost prices, it must be remembered, are away down below the inside cost of manufacture. We cannot fully impress on our readers the great advantages to be obtained by patronizing this house during the continuance of this extraordinary private The stock is not old or style, but fresh from the manufacturers, and in every respect first class. Country dealers will find that they can purchase at the Smithsonian Institute of Great Bargains, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, at prices which they will deen incredulous. Do not fail to take advantage of the sale, for it is a phenomenon in busi-uess life and may never again happen. A visit to the commodious salesrooms and an inquiry into the prices will convince all that no where elso in this country do lower p ices prevail for such lines of good and substantial goods. Real Estate Transfers. The following deeds were filed of record before H. Snively, Esq., Recorder, September 8, 1868.
